OFF AND RUNNING

First Tiburon Council Quickly Approves Laws

Strawbridge Elected Mayor For New City

The brand new City Council of Tiburon at its first meeting last night set a record for quick passage of ordinances which it probably never will surpass.

For more than an hour a restive audience, which had hoped for some excitement, sat and listened to droning voices of councilmen and attorneys who read page after page of new ordinances word by word.

Councilmen did the expected early in the meeting in electing Gordon W. Strawbridge as mayor and John S. Hoffmire Jr. as vice mayor. It is the second city of which Strawbridge has been mayor. He served two years as head of the Mill Valley council.

In quick succession the council formally approved the previously announced hiring of Warren Schmid as interim city administrator; Peter Allen Smith, city attorney; Gorden W. Russell, city treasurer at $1 a year. In hiring Schmid, councilmen noted that he would not be a candidate for the permanent city administrator post.

Also approved was the hiring of Mrs. Charles E. Bayless of Berkeley as acting city clerk at $435 monthly. Mrs. Bayless will man the city's temporary city hall at Room 1 of Del Mar School from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mrs. Bayless was just graduated from University of California at Berkeley with a degree in public administration.

As councilmen droned through the expected series of approving "ayes" for prepared ordinances, the first and only split came when Ann L. Ellinwood voted "no" to the proposal to make the term of mayor and vice mayor for one year.

She said later that she favored two-year terms.

The only ordinance bringing comment from the audience was one which would require city approval of subdivisions of fewer than four lots.

"I think that the people should be given an opportunity to see how this will affect their property values," commented real estate agent Edward P. Ward, from the audience.

He was assured by Councilman Leo Souza that the measure was an emergency one and would be

NOVATO'S KEEPING MAP MEN BUSY

Annexations Come In Bunches; Next In Line Are Two 100-Acre-Plus Uninhabited Areas

Novato, undoubtedly Marin's fastest growing city in area, was asked last night to add another 120 acres.

At noon today, city councilmen and chamber of commerce directors heard a planning consultant's recommendation that still another 100 acres be annexed. (See story on page 6.)

John A. Lyddon, who owns 120 acres south of the Novato city limits and east of Highway 101, requested at last night's council meeting that the city annex his property.

"I would rather work with the city than the county in developing it," he said.

Robert Lagle, city planning director, said Lyddon's land extends from Hamilton Air Force Base to the crest of the ridge to the south—"the natural southern boundary of the city."

"Welcome into the city!" said Mayor Robert D. Carrow. The council then instructed the planning staff to work with Lyddon in preparing the annexation, which would be joined to the city as uninhabited land.

The 100 acres proposed for annexation at today's meeting is the McGraw-Hill Book Co. and adjoining property including Tomahawk Lodge, also uninhabited land.

In the works is an 800-acre annexation including Loma Verde and Ignacio, which would require an election by the 1,500-odd Loma verde and 30 to 50 Ignacio residents.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget said today that since its incorporation four and one-half years ago, Novato has added 3,357 acres by annexation, besides those now under consideration or in the process of being annexed. This has increased by about one-third the city's original acreage of 10,600.

Biggest annexation was San Marin, about 1,800 acres taken into the city in January of this year.

Another 10 acres was added last night as the council adopted an ordinance annexing the Pinheiro property (Little League ball park) and North Marin Water District corporation yard.

"This looks like the banner year for annexations," said Baget with obvious pleasure.

School Bond Ballot Again For Larkspur

The Larkspur School District board last night adopted a resolution calling for a $476,000 bond issue election Sept. 15—the fourth try by the district in 16 months for passage of a bond issue.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen said the increase over the $375,000 turned down by voters June 2 was due to greater needs. The money would finance construction of 15 classrooms or four buildings at the Henry C. Hall and San Clemente schools.

Cohen said that providing more classrooms at the two schools would take the load off crowded classrooms in other schools in the district.

If the bond issue should pass in September, Cohen said, it would be one or more years before the classrooms would be ready for occupancy.

An organization meeting of the citizens bond committee will be held today at 8 p.m. in the district offices.

Railroad Asks New Hearing, Hits Statistics

Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. today petitioned the California Public Utilities Commission to reopen its Puerto Suello Tunnel hearing in a dispute over validity of figures contained in an exhibit which was not received at the hearing.

In another move to delay reopening of the tunnel, which was closed by a cave-in during a fire on July 20, 1961, the railroad has filed with the U.S. Supreme Court an appeal from a district court ruling in April that in effect ordered service through the tunnel restored.

The petition for reopening the PUC hearing brought an expression of surprise from Boris H. Lakusta, attorney for San Rafael and Marin County in the

Hospital Board Declines Stand

Individual members of the Marin Hospital District board last night voiced their views on the proposed 12-story "hotel" planned for construction near the hospital, but the board refrained from interjecting itself officially into the controversy.

The label "hotel" was applied to what the developers term a retirement residence, by board member Marion C. Ibach.

Mrs. Ibach said: "This board should understand that it is not for the general public. People will have to buy into the hotel for the initial payment of $10,000. It is not for the average person.

"I call it a hotel really. They have different size rooms. It is quite well designed."

She said the five million dollar development off Via Rolon, which

Turnout Urged At July 1 Meet

A newly formed group calling itself Larkspur Citizens for Orderly Progress yesterday mailed mimeographed letters urging Larkspur residents to protest the proposal for a 12-story "retirement center" on a Greenbrae hill.

The letters urged attendance at the Larkspur City Council meeting on July 1 at 8 p.m. to protest the plans.

Last Wednesday's Larkspur council meeting was presented petitions bearing some 1,200 names in opposition to the building which the council by 3-to-2 vote earlier approved a 105-foot height variance.

The mimeographed letter, bearing names of 24 residents headed by John Carew and including Lesly A. Daveler, who stepped out as Larkspur mayor in April, declares "a precedent will be established" if the 12-story building is allowed.

It also raises a question regarding alleged tax benefits from the project.

"Potentially this retirement center may be entitled to a special tax privilege—or completely exempt," the letter declares. "If taxes are paid, the difference in revenue between the 140-foot building and multiple-family housing would approximate $9,000 to the City of Larkspur."

Marin Mercury Boils Over 100-Degree Mark

The mercury boiled above the 100-degree mark yesterday in San Anselmo and Novato.

Marin's high temperature of the day—and the year—was recorded at 3 p.m. at the San Anselmo Fire Department, where the thermometer read 103. In Novato, the maximum reading was only one degree lower.

A repeat appeared in prospect for this afternoon. At noon, the temperature atop the Independent-Journal Building in San Rafael was 85, only two degree below that at the same hour yesterday. High reading yesterday in San Rafael was 95.

The Weather Bureau, in a rather contradictory forecast, predicted "continued warm, but cooling" through tomorrow.

At 11 a.m. today, San Anselmo recorded 84 degrees, Corte Madera, 76, and Hamilton Air Force Base, 70.

There was smog in much of the Bay Area to go with the heat yesterday, but the oxidant reading in San Rafael was only .05—one-third of the amount the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District says starts the eyes smarting. San Leandro had the worst smog with an oxidant reading of .26.

Marin's parks and beaches all enjoyed excellent weather, but none was overcrowded. Stinson Beach and Tomales Bay State Parks both reported crowds well below capacity. Park Supervisor Neil Power at Samuel P. Taylor State Park reported there was no overflow there either.

"It was a lovely, cool day," he said. "Come out here and put your paper out."

Father Breathes Life Into Child

A Novato father breathed life into his 3-year-old son today.

Edward G. Lampe of 139 San Carlos Way told Novato firemen his son, Edward J., collapsed without warning and stopped breathing. Lampe immediately started efforts to revive the boy by mouth-to-mouth breathing, continuing until firemen arrived with a resuscitator.

Firemen found the boy partially revived and took him to Novato General Hospital, where his condition subsequently was reported as "fine."

FAMILY AFFAIR

Folksy, Indeed Is Council's First Session

It was a folksy, family affair last night, at the first meeting of the Tiburon City Council.

There were even poems for the city, written and read by Cornelia Darrington Brunette, self-styled "candidate for poet laureate of California."

Mrs. Brunette, who told the audience of 150 persons that she had been a Tiburon resident for "going on 26 years," was attired in a pink panne velvet dress with pink artificial flowers in her hair and moccasin style shoes.

She lauded the pioneers in their trek west and closed with "golden, indeed, were the sun's rays in God's Great Old West!"

The audience was in a party mood and was not ready for the monotonous necessary reading of long-winded legalities in the ordinances which had to be passed.

But Robert I. Conn, partner of City Atty. Peter Allen Smith, won a round of applause as the fastes and least objectionable droner of ordinances, with a pace which was unintelligable but legal.

There were occasional promptings for the newly formed council from its city attorney, and side comments from Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge, a printer, that "there's a typo (error) on the first page of one ordinance."

At one point, Strawbridge looked up at the murmuring audience and said "Hope you can all hear? —If not just shout."

Came a voice from the back: "Why don't the city councilmen shout?" So they did.

The meeting was opened by 15 self-conscious Girl Scouts from junior troop 1951 of Tiburon who

Care, Aged Measure Shelved In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee shelved today President Johnson's proposal for health care for the aged, but moved toward increasing Social Security retirement payments by 5 per cent.

The decision to drop from pending legislation any health care provisions was a heavy blow at any chance of enactment this year.

WILLIAM RISTO AT 104—Point Reyes Station centenarian observed his 104th birthday today with no party, no birthday cake. He doesn't want people to take him food—"they may be trying to poison me."

104-Year-Old Doesn't Want Birthday Cake Or Presents

By ELLEN BRY

There will be no celebration today for William Risto's 104th birthday.

Risto will sit alone in his tiny board house at Point Reyes Station and talk to himself or just stare into space all day. He says he likes it that way. He does not always welcome visitors or let them into his home.

Neighbors have stopped trying to bring a birthday cake or food because Risto sometimes believes people are trying to poison him.

"I thank everybody for his greetings—but I want no food brought here," he says.

He is proud of paying his own way with his $104 monthly social security check, and promises he will leave no unpaid bills. Not even to the undertaker, whom he already has paid for his future cremation.

Risto says he came to this country from Germany in 1882. He went to Texas where he worked on a ranch, milking cows and chopping wood. He came to San Francisco in 1902, helped lay railroad track and fell redwoods to the north.

He cooks his own meals on an electric range, shiny white in his gray house. He wants to make sure he won't end up in the county old people's home.

"I'm a thousand times better off here."

Neighbors keep a close eye on the old man and check on him if they do not see him go to get

Taylor Expected To Provide Tight Vietnam Command

Lodge Again Asserts He Is Not Candidate For GOP Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who has never known defeat, flies to war-torn South Vietnam soon to take over as U.S. ambassador. He is expected to provide a single tight and unified command over U.S. civilian and military efforts.

The soldier-diplomat was named to the Saigon post yesterday by President Lyndon B. Johnson after the resignation of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. Taylor plans to leave for his new post in 10 days or two weeks.

Lodge said he was coming home to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton try to win the GOP presidential nomination.

In Saigon last night, Lodge declared: "I am not a candidate at all and I am not going back at all in order to connive at anything for myself. I cannot be drafted and there are no hidden meanings."

Lodge said today he doesn't see how the war in Vietnam can be an issue in the U.S. presidential campaign—"It involves the Eisenhower administration and the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, and the Truman administration."

"In history when you've had a disaster," Lodge said, "then that becomes a political issue, even if the politicians do not do anything about it. But of course there's no outlook of that kind for the time."

Scranton said he was delighted at Lodge's decision and added, "This is another big boost for this rapidly expanding campaign."

Johnson's selection of Taylor for the hot spot assignment won strong approval of Capitol Hill. Democrats and Republicans joined in predicting overwhelming Senate confirmation.

In South Vietnam, Taylor will have under him two old friends in key spots—Lt. Gen. William G. Westmoreland as U.S. military commander and veteran diplomat U. Alexis Johnson as his political deputy.

Westmoreland, one of the most promising of the Army's younger generals, has been considered a "Taylor man" for about a decade.

Johnson, deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs, has been close to Taylor for about 30 years.

Stepping in behind Taylor as the new chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff will be another Taylor "disciple," Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, who now is Army chief of staff.

Although congressional reaction to Taylor's appointment was mostly enthusiastic Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) called Johnson's decision to nominate a military man "a calamitous mistake." Morse said he will fight Taylor's confirmation in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and on the Senate floor.

Most other members of the committee, including Chairman J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) voiced warm praise of the selection.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination, made no comment on the political implications of Lodge's return. He said "Ambassador Lodge is to be congratulated for bearing up this long under such adverse conditions."

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has thrown his support behind Scranton, hailed Lodge's decision and said it "should materially help the moderate Republican cause."

There was no immediate comment from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower or former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Mississippi Mystery Stalls Kennedy's Journey To Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy delayed the start of a sentimental journey to West Berlin today to direct the federal government's efforts in Mississippi's latest civil rights crisis.

Kennedy postponed until tonight his scheduled departure. He and his wife are to participate in ceremonies marking the first anniversary of the late President John F. Kennedy's famous Berlin speech of June 25, 1963.

Kennedy took himself out of the running yesterday for one of New York's Senate seats, thus leaving his political future still in the realm of speculation.

The attorney general is scheduled to unveil a plaque Friday in Berlin in the square commemorating his brother's speech. The trip also is to include stops in Bonn, West Germany, and Cracow and Warshaw, Poland.

Kennedy, who was to have left last night, delayed his departure to confer with President Lyndon B. Johnson on the disappearance of three young civil rights workers in Mississippi.

Kennedy, it was learned, made his decision not to run for the Senate only last weekend, against the urgings of Democratic leaders and friends in New York, following the plane crash in which his brother Sen. Edward M. Kennedy was injured.

In a statement, Kennedy said that representing New York State in the Senate would be a "challenging and important opportunity for public service." Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., now holds the seat.

But while expressing thanks for the "loyalty and friendship" of those who urged him to run, Kennedy said that "in fairness to them and to end speculation, I wish to state that I will not be a candidate for the United States Senate from New York."

When his decision was announced, Kennedy was in Massachusetts visiting Sen. Kennedy, who is recuperating from a broken back suffered in the plane crash Friday night.

Fireworks Blast Fatal To Two

NEW YORK (AP)—A fireworks-laden barge exploded in a fury of rockets, flares and bombs on the Hudson River last night, killing two men. Thousands of spectators cheered. They thought it was part of the show.

Half a million persons lined the riverbanks in Manhattan and New Jersey for the fireworks spectacle, produced since 1957 by Macy's department store.

Two other barges, whose crews apparently were unaware of the fatal accident, continued firing rockets into the sky.

At the finale, 20 minutes later, spectators some distance from the blast, off 96th Street, still were cheering. A hush fell on thousands of others as news of the blast spread.

Wallace Rips 'Government Fearers'

DALLAS (UPI) — Alabama's Gov. George Wallace last night charged the nation with becoming "a government-fearing people instead of a God-fearing people."

Wallace roared forth to 7,500 delegates in the keynote address of the U.S. junior chamber of commerce convention and was met with a five-minute standing, cheering ovation at the end.

Only occasional catcalls and boos were heard.

Wallace lashed out at the U.S. Supreme Court for its decision banning prayer in public schools and against the federal civil rights bill.

He said a "force cult" has taken over in Washington, addicted to "pure, brute, naked federal force."

Virginia Schools To Open Again

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP)—One of the last barriers has been cleared away for reopening public schools in Prince Edward County, closed five years ago to avoid desegregation.

The County Board of Supervisors, acting under a federal court order voted 4-2 yesterday to appropriate school operating funds for this fall.

The $189,000 county appropriation, plus state funds, will provide classes for about 1,600 pupils—the number of Negro school-age children in Prince Edward.

Public schools will be operating "without racial discrimination," said the board, but most white children are expected to continue classes in the private, segregated schools they have attended since 1959.

Search Parties Kill 17 Viet Cong

SAIGON, (UPI) — Government search parties have killed 17 Communist Viet Cong soldiers and captured 11 more while searching for two missing American soldiers 50 miles northwest of Saigon, U.S. military spokesmen said today.

But so far they have failed to find any trace of the pair, who disappeared Friday in a Viet Cong "human wave" attack which killed a third American and 27 Vietnamese.

Still another American was killed yesterday in the crash of an observation plane 300 miles northeast of here, and his Vietnamese co-pilot was badly injured.

Heart Attacks Give Warning, Doctor Avers

Unexpected Fatigue Telegraphs Seizure Year Before Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Impending heart attacks reveal themselves at least a year in advance and need never occur, asserts an Ohio physician who has studied heart disease for more than 18 years.

Heart health is easy—just don't race your motor when you don't have to, advises Dr. Robert S. Green of the Heart Research Foundation of Cincinnati.

Dr. Green and his associates have surveyed more than 1,000 heart attack victims — or their surviving close relatives — and come up with five common-sense rules for avoiding ticker trouble:

1. Act your age.
2. Accept your limitations.
3. Condition yourself for each and every new activity.
4. Avoid fatigue.
5. Obey your instincts — if you feel tired, rest.

The same rules are good treatment after trouble has started, Dr. Green told other physicians at the annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

Never, said Dr. Green, has he had a heart case when there wasn't a warning of at least a year of a coming attack.

The warning?

"You are more tired than you ought to be for what you have done," Dr. Green said. He calls it "pre-heart attack fatigue" and divides it into three stages based on time of occurence before an attack, severity of symptoms and duration of treatment necessary for cure.

First appear unexpected fatigue, the more-tired-than-you-ought-to-be kind. If you don't slow down then, there's suddenly "rapidly progressive fatigue" and you don't snap back as fast. Then there's "absolute fatigue" when you're completely washed out.

At this point, if you're lucky, Dr. Green said, you may get a stern and painful protest from the heart called angina pectoris. Or you may drop dead, and shocked friends will say, "Why, he seemed in perfect health . . . oh, a little tired sometimes, maybe."

Dr. Green said it's all related to "the battle of man for money, to false values."

Relax and reflect, he advised. "Go fishing — and don't use a fishhook."

Diets, drugs, blood thinners, even heart surgery, Dr. Green said, should be regarded as "fads of the moment." He advocates exercise suited to your age and condition.

Federal Agency Orders Cigarette Health Label

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has decided to require that cigarette advertising and labeling include a warning to the public of possible health hazards, it was announced today.

Commission chairman Rand Dixon made the announcement during a congressional hearing on the controversy surrounding the effects of smoking on health.

Dixon did not specify what the regulation will contain. Nor did he say what type of label cigarette manufacturers would be required to carry on packages.

Dixon said today:

"The commission has completed its consideration of the record in this proceeding and has determined that the public interest requires the provocation of a trade-regulation rule for the prevention of unfair or deceptive advertising or labeling of cigarettes in relation to the health hazard of smoking."

Dixon made the statement in remarks prepared in advance for the second day of House hearings on the whole question of cigarettes and the dangers smoking them poses to human health.

Dixon said the commission's decision was being printed and would be formally published "in the very near future."

Dixon's announcement came one day after the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) told the committee that it felt HEW, rather than the FTC, should regulate labeling, and that new legislation was necessary.

Dixon, however, faced some pointed questioning by members of the committee.

Sand Pile Tragedy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Ian Doyle, 8, of San Francisco was killed yesterday when a pile of sand collapsed on him as he was playing at a Sunset district construction site. It took rescuers 20 minutes to dig through the sand to his body.

A record of lynchings kept at Tuskegee Institute shows that since 1900, 1,993 Americans have been lynched, 196 white and 1,797 Negro.

SAUSALITO LUCK

First He Gives Park, And Now Equipment

Sausalito youngsters living in the Spring Valley area can probably be thankful for a councilman's personal touch.

Councilman Carl W. Gabrielson, as acting mayor, went to the office of Stanley S. Langendorf yesterday in San Francisco to deliver a copy of the city council's resolution thanking Langendorf on behalf of the city for his donation of land for a playground at Easterby Street and Woodward Avenue.

Langendorf, who is chairman of the board of Langendorf United Bakeries, "was so delighted with our enthusiastic reception of his gift, he asked how much it would cost to completely equip the playground," reported Gabrielson.

"I told him $5,000 whereupon he presented me with a check for that sum. I also told him that when the playground is ready we will have a dedication with a plaque in his honor at which time school children and little leaguers will be invited and we will call the day Langerdorf Day."

Langerdorf's interest in children, said the councilman, goes back to the time when he was a member of the Columbia Park Boys' Club in San Francisco. "He has always felt that he owed it to the community to help children and young people become good citizens."

The check was presented to the council at a budget hearing last night at which Jan Paul Dyk, who has been on vacation, resumed duties as mayor.

8-Day Parolee Is Picked Up For Murder

EUREKA (AP) — A convicted killer on parole eight days from San Quentin was charged today with another slaying after his capture 100 miles from the scene.

Henry Jones, 47, was charged in the fatal beating of Harold Pavey, 64, who, police said tried to intervene in a violent fight between Jones and his wife, Bertha, last Tuesday night.

Jones was captured a few hours later by the California Highway Patrol and a Mendocino sheriff's deputy as Jones fled south on Highway 101.

Sgt. Gordon Busey of Eureka police said Jones admitted killing Pavey with a 19-inch-long pipe.

Police said Pavey, a meat cutters union representative, had been a friend of the Jones family and was at the home when Jones arrived.

Mrs. Jones told police her husband beat her unconscious and, when she came to, found Pavey lying at the foot of the stairs, dead.

Jones first went to prison July 2, 1947, on a murder conviction. He was paroled in 1959 but returned behind bars seven months later for parole violation. His latest parole release was last June 16.

brought out the flags and led the pledge of allegiance.

They were followed by five self-conscious councilmen who raised their right hands to take the oath of office from George H. Gnoss, county clerk, then stood with uncertain smiles for photos from various newspapers.

As the dull first meeting drew to a close, Mayor Strawbridge almost apologized in saying, "I know it hasn't been too exciting."

And as the motion for adjournment came, two scouts carefully maneuvered a giant cake up to the council from Tiburon's "master baker," John Musso. On it were emblazoned in frosting a shark (tiburon), a seagull, and a horseshoe for good luck.

Then councilmen and onlookers adjourned to the coffee, punch and home made cookies made by councilmen's wives and backers of incorporation as a friendly black dog wandered through the open door and was shooed away from the food table.

Northgate Photo Shop Looted Of Equipment

Someone entered the Camera Cade, 178 Northgate Shopping Center, San Rafael, Monday evening and took $702 worth of camera and radio equipment, it was reported to San Rafael police yesterday.

Manager Donald A. Brady of 400 Canal Street, San Rafael, told police he found the store's front door unlocked at 8:45 a.m. yesterday. Missing were two movie cameras, a tape recorder and a transistor radio. He said the door had been locked at 6:30 p.m. the previous day.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

TODAY:

10:10 a.m., Larkspur — Grease caught fire in the kitchen of Mrs. Pauline Tucker of 8 King Street and caused slight damage to cabinets.

2:10 p.m., Oak Manor — Three units from the Marin County Fire Department extinguished a grass fire on Manor View Drive near Fairfax started by two 5-year-old children playing with matches.

fight to get the rail line restored. He noted that the railroad had contended the PUC had no jurisdiction in the matter, yet seemed to admit some jurisdiction by asking the hearing be reopened.

The PUC has not yet handed down any decision from the hearing, which is called to learn why the railroad has made no move to restore service in the face of Interstate Commerce Commission and federal court orders to do so. Commission chairman William M. Bennett made it rather plain at the hearing, however, that he felt the railroad had failed to make a case.

The exhibit which brought on the railroad petition was intended to show the amount of commercial building in the area over the last three years. It was offered in evidence, but was one of a series of such exhibits which Bennett brushed off as irrelevent.

The railroad's exhibit said the building figures were supplied by the Marin County Development Assn. In a letter filed subsequently with the PUC, Carroll A. Snyker, manager of the association, said the figures used did not agree with those of his organization: they were lower.

Randolph A. Karr, attorney for NWP, contended Snyker's submission was "highly prejudicial as well as erroneous."

The railroad's appeal to the Supreme Court is based on contentions that several rulings of the ICC and the federal district court should be overturned. The ICC denied the railroad's application to abandon the portion of its main line through the tunnel —its San Rafael connection. The district court upheld the ICC ruling.

Lakusta said the railroad would have until Aug. 14 to file briefs substantiating the contentions in its appeal. The ICC, San Rafael and Marin County, and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, all named as defendants in the railroad's court action, would have until Sept. 13 to file answering briefs.

He said the Supreme Court, now in summer recess, could be expected to rule shortly after resuming its session in October. It could either reject the railroad's appeal on the basis of the records or order a hearing on it.

Man Picked Up In Forgery Case

William George Stuart, 32, former bartender at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael, was placed in county jail yesterday by Mill Valley police on forgery charges, his bail set at $1,650.

Police Chief Dan Terzich and Officer John Castellani went to Angel's Camp to get Stuart, who was employed there as a life guard. Stuart, said Terzich, over a six to seven month period last year, passed $1,100 bad checks in Mill Valley, Fairfax, San Anselmo, Santa Rosa, and San Francisco.

School Denied Permit Extension

The formative Years Training School at 501 Cane Street was denied an extension of its use permit last night by the Larkspur Planning Commission.

The denial was based on the state fire marshall's objections to lack of adequate fireproofing at the school.

The commission granted a use permit and architectural approval to plans of George Martinez to build office and warehouse space off Tally's Alley for his electrical contracting business.

Board Agrees To $42,000 In Road Needs

Marin County supervisors today grimaced, but agreed to pour $42,000 of regular county funds into a one-shot purchase of heavy equipment and trucks for road construction.

The amount was requested by County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost on the grounds that the money collected over the years for replacement of road equipment has been unrealastically low.

Frost cut other items in the county garage budget, to allow the projected tax rate to drop slightly, to $2.361.

The board approved budgets for the building inspection department and for flood control, and learned that revenue for building inspection has been slashed by the incorporation of Tiburon.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, referring to this revenue cut, said that the projected tax rate can be expected to come down by two or three cents when final arrangements are made for contracting for services with the new city in the 1964-65 fiscal year.

The budget for flood control showed salaries totaling $31,059, almost three times that allocated for this year. However, Frost said the figure is illusory, because road department engineers have been working on flood control projects this year, although the budget did not show it.

The budget for the county dump was approved, but a request was made that a letter be sent to the City of Larkspur asking whether the city council wanted the dump operation to continue in that city.

has been hotly debated before the Larkspur City Council, "is not incompatable with the general nature of business in this area." But she expressed concern lest approval of the structure "open Pandora's box" to other high-rise developments in the county.

"I don't think we need high rise buildings here," said Mrs. Ibach.

In a letter made available at last night's meeting, board chairman Ernest N. Kittenhofen wrote John D. Carew Jr. of Greenbrae, who is heading opposition to construction of the building, that a professional consultant had suggested to the hospital construction of a 10-story building as part of its future expansion.

Kettenhofen said he was concerned that the area would not develop as "private commercial." He said suitable development should consist of "a medical community."

Board member Herman Hale said, "I wouldn't want a 12-story building stuck up in front of my house."

San Rafael Council Reviews Budget

San Rafael city councilmen reviewed the city's proposed 1964-65 budget of $3,484,005 last night, but took no action.

Councilmen agreed to hold another budget session as soon as possible with heads of the police, fire and public works departments, but no date has yet been set.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen was unable to attend the review session because he was attending the San Rafael Planning Commission meeting as acting planning director. Councilman Louis H. Baar was also absent.

Victim's Brother On Witness Stand

By ROSS DAVIS

Dr. Robert Kenneth Corbett in cool and clinical manner today identified a host of personal belongings of his brother, murder victim Donald G. Corbett Jr., and told a Marin Superior Court jury that signatures on several credit card receipts were forgeries of his brother's name.

The San Francisco urologist, witness for the prosecution in the slaying trial, took a long, sideways look at defendants Robert Lee Jones and John Lee King, but displayed no emotion.

Identified were three suitcases, one recovered in Los Angeles and the other two allegedly in possession of Jones and King when they were arrested in Hawaii, contents of the suitcases, a foot-high discus thrower statue, and a billfold containing numerous credit cards and the receipts.

Doctor Corbett said the billfold, which Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said was in King's possession at time of his arrest, was that of the victim. He extracted over half a dozen receipts charged to credit cards of his brother and said they showed forgeries of Donald Corbett's signature.

The receipts were dated from March 30—two or three days after the Sausalito murder—through April 1, and were received from inns including the Castaway Hotel and the Thunderbird Hotel, both in Miami, Fla.

Another receipt was received in Los Angeles

Suitcase contents identified by Doctor Corbett included clothing of his brother, jewelry, a wristwatch, air force computer data, a metal cash box, checkbooks, dog tags, a pilot's license, and a bankbook.

The doctor testified he became concerned when Donald Corbett failed to confirm by telephone their plans for an Easter get-together at the Sausalito apartment. He said he and his wife phoned the apartment without success throughout Saturday, March 28—and that Sunday evening they drove to the apartment and knocked, but received no answer.

Corbett's body, stabbed 16 times in the back, was found in the apartment the following day.

An earlier witness, Mrs. Lucile Bruker of 2 Corte Lenosa, Greenbrae, testified that while she was working with Marin Society of Artists in Ross in March, Donald Corbett rented two paintings.

The paintings, taken from his apartment allegedly were found later in a Sausalito houseboat occupied at one time by the defendants.

Yesterday afternoon, Dr. John H. Manwaring, a Marin County pathologist, testified Corbett died about 48 hours before discovery of his body. He added, however, the death could have occurred 72 hours before the body was found. Prosecution has contended the murder took place the evening of March 27.

Doctor Manwaring identified adhesive tape as that used to bind Corbett's wrists, ankles and mouth, and said an icepick, introduced as evidence and also allegedly found in the houseboat, could have been the slaying weapon. He further testified a .380 caliber automatic pistol previously introduced by the prosecution "could" have been the blunt instrument used to batter the head of the victim.

Doctor Manwaring said an autopsy disclosed Corbett had had about two alcoholic drinks, but was far below the "drunken" stage. Death, he said, resulted from the back stabbing wounds—with slow blood seepage into the left lung—and not from the head blows.

The latter, he added, may have produced total unconsciousness, however.

He said Corbett probably lay there "20 to 30" minutes before dying.

Auto Industry Rejects Pollution Control Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The automobile industry today rejected a suggestion that it install air pollution controls on all 1967 models.

George A. Delaney, smog consultant for the Automobile Manufacturers Assn., said the industry will be able to meet only its commitment to California by the middle of 1966.

"The very scope and amount of work remaining to be done make it premature to discuss wider application of these engine design concepts," Delaney said.

Bulkhead Line Plan Due Work

Mill Valley planning commissioners last night delegated chairman Robert C. Mountjoy to work with city planning consultant John D. Erickson on a recommendation for a bulkhead line for Richardson Bay.

The commission set a special meeting for Tuesday at 8 p.m. to consider a request from Dr. Alan B. Scott of San Francisco to realign lot lines to provide three homesites instead of four at Manor Drive and Avon Avenue.

A variance was recommended to allow Dr. John R. Lee to have 14 parking spaces behind a medical building to be built at 279 Miller Avenue, where the ordinance calls for 16 spaces.

given further consideration at later council meetings.

Councilmen quickly approved more than a score of ordinances to go into effect immediately. They set up a five-man planning commission, but named no names.

Appointment of planning commissioners, from the 37 persons being considered, is expected at the special council meeting scheduled at 8 p.m. next Monday at the Del Mar School. Also expected to be discussed at that time is borrowing of funds to begin operation of the city.

Councilmen set the second and fourth Mondays as the regular meeting dates.

In short order, they approved ordinances and resolutions to get the city in business, such as approving bonds for city employees, contracting for Marin County to provide tax assessor and collector services at about $300 yearly, temporarily adopting the county's master plan and master street plan; setting up ordinances for licensing of contractors and plumbers, for a building inspection department and board of appeals from the building code; approving the county building code and standard codes on building, plumbing, electrical work and fire prevention codes.

Councilmen passed ordinances prohibiting the obstruction or diversion of natural water courses, approved ordinances so the city would get its share of sales tax rebates, approved street encroachment regulations, set the Tiburon National Bank and Citizens National Bank as official depositories for city monies, approved expenditure of up to $250 for office supplies, and approved basic traffic regulations now in effect.

Councilmen approved work compensation and liability insurance limits, approved use of county staff for a city health office, and officially denoted the city's boundaries.

Councilmen, who prior to taking office have been meeting at various times and places far into the night, agreed that transcripts of the pre-incorporation meetings should be made available at the city office at the school.

Ordinances and resolutions approved include many which are identical with the past county regulations. Councilmen are expected to modify them at future meetings to suit the city's needs.

Morgan was held at the county jail under $5,500 bail. He was charged with taking $15 cash and a .45 caliber pistol from the apartment of Ira Carrier, Building A-28, Marin City, on May 14.

Judge Refuses To Free Convict

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court yesterday denied a petition for writ of habeas corpus from Donald Lee Hoerl, a San Quentin Prison inmate, who claimed he is illegally imprisoned.

Hoerl, originally sentenced for burglary in Santa Clara County, in 1957, served at Folsom Prison, was paroled in 1960, and returned to Folsom in 1961 on a parole violation. He escaped from a Folsom work camp in August, 1962, and was sent to San Quentin Feb. 27, 1964.

Hoerl claimed that his fixed term has expired, but Associate Warden Dale B. Frady said that order was rescinded when Hoerl escaped from work camp.

8-Point Plan For Airport Is Outlined

The Novato Chamber of Commerce airport committee last night outlined an eight-point program for the Marin County Airport.

The committee tried to establish a priority list for the things needed at the airport, but could not because "elimination or downgrading of any of these would leave the rest incomplete and to a varying degree unworkable," said Charles R. Johnson, committee chairman.

The recommendations will be given to the Marin County Airport Advisory Committee at a luncheon tomorrow at Nave Lanes, Johnson said. Recommendations by both groups will be presented to the county board of supervisors when it discusses the airport Monday morning, he reported.

The committee advocated:

1. Hiring an airport manager as a county employee, even if on a part-time basis.
2. Install a north-south runway as recommended in the master plan. This runway should be lighted to fill the need of prospective business tenants.
3. Finish resurfacing the present runway to create a parallel taxi strip, needed for safe operation.
4. Make some provisions for administrative office space to conduct the county's airport business.
5. Arrange for a modern fueling and service stand.
6. Surface the new access road to the airport.
7. Provide a parking area for cars. The present one is in the wrong location and is no longer available, Johnson said.
8. Create a level treated tiedown area of at least five acres.

The committee recommended the county begin negotiations to acquire at least 10 acres from W. G. Wright Jr. at either the agreed price of $4,000 per acre by direct purchase, leasing at $240 per acre per year, or some lease-purchase agreement.

It also recommended that the county begin negotiations to purchase the unexpired portion of agreement, which has seven years ot run.

Supervisors Say 'Wait' On Flood Control Taxes

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today overruled, for the time being, the recommendation of the flood control zone 3 advisory board to raise money to purchase four Richardson Bay tidelots.

The zone includes the watershed which drains into the upper part of the bay, including some of the area hit hard this year by reappraisals of property.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he could not support an increase in the tax rate for the zone to make these purchases when owners in the area are already being hurt by big tax increases. The proposal by the zone advisory board would have raised $120,000 to buy four large lots outboard of Railroad Avenue, under water in Richardson Bay.

Behr said he felt certain the purchases were needed, but said that some county and perhaps non-county funds could be used, in addition to the local money from the zone. He mentional federal open space funds, airport funds, and fish and game department money.

The board approved a budget which will raise about $32,000, similar to the amount that was raised in the area this year.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said local money would be needed even if outside funds were given to the county, since matching by local agencies would be required. But Behr said he wanted to wait to see how the rest of the county budget looked before deciding.

Mill Valley Club Contributes Signs To Co-Op Project

Blank for two years, Mill Valley's Service Club sign structure at Miller Avenue and Camino Alto now has eight signs through the courtesy of the city's Rotary Club, president William A. Hamilton said today.

Plants were being placed today around the structure by Scott Mills following a design by Asa Hanamoto, landscape architect. Plants and trees were given by Jim Eggers.

Originally constructed by A. B. Costigan, the structure was revamped somewhat by Melvin Klyce to handle the large signs. Organizations which are posted, with their meeting times, are the American Legion, the Chamber and Junior Chambers of Commerce, Lions, Masonic Lodge, Odd Fellows, Optimists and Rotary.

Mosk's Office Rules Driver Class Required

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The attorney general's office ruled today that school districts must offer state-required driver education courses during the regular academic year.

The ruling was requested by Dr. Max Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction, who asked whether such courses could be limited to summer school sessions.

Novato Annexation Urged For McGraw-Hill Book Site

Better police protection, street lighting and possible park development were listed as principal reasons for annexation of the McGraw-Hill Book Co. site and adjoining areas to the City of Novato today by William R. Zion, government research consultant of Lafayette.

Zion addressed a luncheon meeting of the Novato City Council and the Chamber of Commerce at Nave Lanes.

The city council authorized the Zion study in the McGraw-Hill annexation, to cost $300, at the same time as the Loma Verde annexation study which was presented to the council several weeks ago.

The area of approximately 800 acres lies west of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, north of San Marin. It includes the Tomahawk Lodge and the McGraw-Hill property north of the Tomahawk.

"This area would receive several times the present level of police protection if annexed," Zion reported.

It would also receive street lighting, cleaning and a long-term maintenance and improvement program, he noted.

"The area could cooperate with the city on a park and recreation program that could include employee activities, if a company like McGraw-Hill desired," he continued.

The company would receive local development services such as land use planning; zoning, subdivision and engineering services, and building inspection, he said.

The annexation would also provide the area with participation in the community's local self-government. They would participate in getting the best long-term growth of the area in relation to the rest of the city including land-use patterns. It would give McGraw-Hill an official role in the community.

The cost of such an annexation would be minimal to the city and McGraw-Hill would generate city revenue exceeding city costs, Zion reported. It would cost McGraw-Hill about $4,100 in added taxes at the present 34 cents per $100 city tax, he said.

Property considered for annexation has assessed value of $333,120, according to Zion. It has 15 dwelling units with 30 residents and less than 10 registered voters, qualifying for annexation as uninhabited land, he reported.

The boundaries of the proposed annexation go from the present city limits at Atherton Avenue, along the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way to the north line of McGraw-Hill (which is a portion of the Bodkin estate), west along the north line of this site and south along the west line of the estate to join San Marin on the south.

Stalin Evacuated Lenin's Body

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet press disclosed today that dictator Josef Stalin had V. I. Lenin's embalmed body secretly evacuated from Moscow all the way to Siberia during World War II for safety's sake.

Enclosed in a special coffin, the body was transported during the hot July days of 1941 to Tyumen, Eastern Siberia, about 1,300 miles from the capital.

The literary journal Znamya said the decision was taken to protect the honored remains of the Soviet Union's revolutionary leader from threatening Nazi air raids.

Judy To Copenhagen

Brown Calls Rafferty Guilty Of Red-Baiting

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today accused Dr. Max Rafferty of "plain, unadulterated red-baiting" for the state school superintendent's attacks on an essay contest.

The governor, at his news conference, hacked Thomas W. Braden, State Board of Education president, in his dispute with Rafferty about the contest.

Brown said, however, that he regarded the running battle between Braden and Rafferty as unfortunate and harmful to California schools. He said he did not support Braden, whom he appointed, in his efforts to "get rid" of Rafferty as superintendent.

He also criticized sharply on an Orange County group seeking Braden's ouster from the board post. Brown said Braden is serving a term appointment but he would not remove him if he could.

On other subjects, Brown noted that state sales tax receipts were up 11 per cent during the first three months of the year. He said the state is in excellent financial condition, but warned again that new taxes probably will be needed next year.

He said he has not decided on a successor to Malcolm E. Harris, who is resigning as state alcoholic beverage control director to take a position in the liquor industry.

The governor said a talk he had with Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi at the National Governors' Conference earlier in the month led him to fear for the safety of three young civil rights workers missing in the southern state. Brown said Johnson had warned him that there were "desperate people" in Mississippi who will be hard to control.

Brown took Rafferty to task for refusing to serve, at Braden's invitation, as judge of an essay contest sponsored by the private Constitutional Rights Foundation.

The governor said he'd be happy to serve as a judge himself of the foundation's contest on the Bill of Rights.

Rembrandt Is Sold

LONDON (UPI) — A 1661 Rembrandt painting, "An Apostle Reading," was sold at auction today to an anonymous buyer for $470,000. It was part of a massive sale of old masters that brought a total of $1,965,000 at Sotheby's Auction House.

Brown Says He Will Ask For Tax Hike

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today that he would ask the legislature to raise state taxes next year.

Brown, who had earlier said that a tax increase might be necessary, said that a new public school support bill and plans to put higher education construction costs on a pay-as-you-go basis, will "compel us to look for new sources of revenue."

The governor told his weekly news conference that he did not want to discuss forms that the tax increase might take.

But he said he was working with tax reform committees in the legislature and hoped that they could product a tax program that would be "fair" to businessmen and other citizens.

The new public school support bill, passed by the legislature's last session, will cost the state 170 million dollars over the next two years and will push state aid to the schools over the billion-dollar mark annually.

Ex-Intelligence Czar Probes Mississippi Disappearance

COMBINED AP & UPI

Allen W. Dulles, former chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, flies to Mississippi today on a White House mission to look into the mysterious disappearance of three young civil rights workers.

The charred hulk of the station wagon used by the trio was found by FBI agents late Tuesday at the edge of a swamp off a lonely road northeast of the central Mississippi town of Philadelphia.

Meanwhile at Moss Point, Miss., a hall used for civil rights meetings was damaged by fire early today a short time after two white students participating in the "Mississippi project" were arrested on vagrancy charges.

Volunteer firemen confined the damage to a small section of the building.

Firemen said the cause of the blaze, earlier denied, was not immediately known. There was only moderate damage from the flames.

Jackson County Constable Hobert W. Alford said Ronald Ridenour, 24, of Venice, Calif, and Howard Kirchenbaum, 19, of Long Beach, L. I., New York were arrested while "canvassing" a Negro neighborhood.

They told him, Alford said, they were among five civil rights workers who have been in this area since Sunday.

The FBI clamped a lid on most of its investigation of the disappearance of the three youths at Philadelphia.

A Mississippi highway patrolman told a newsman: "The FBI has taken over entirely."

Highway patrol units conducted a house-to-house search late into the night.

Missing are Andy Goodman, 20, and Michael Schwerner, 24, both of New York City, and James Cheney, 22, Negro from nearby Meridian.

They were last seen Sunday night in Philadelphia after Cheney paid a $20 fine for speeding.

Dulles will confer with Gov. Paul B. Johnson, other top state officials and the FBI on the progress of the investigation.

The station wagon was found about 100 feet from State 21, 15 miles northeast of Philadelphia, where Owl Creek backs away to form a backwater slough.

There was speculation that the bodies of the three civil rights workers were somewhere under the dark, cold waters.

At Meridian, Miss., Negro comedian Dick Gregory today blamed President Lyndon B. Johnson for the disappearance of three young civil rights workers.

"At least half of this is Johnson's fault. We told him three months ago. Now he sends in (former CIA director Allen) Dulles. He should have sent more little men earlier."

Gregory said Johnson "hasn't learned to realize that what he does in Mississippi affects the entire world.

"They can say what they want —when they send in a force of southern FBI agents you might as well have the Ku Klux Klan."

Authorities Seeking Cat For Biting Child

Five-year-old Carl Schaniel of Mill Valley was treated by his doctor yesterday after being bitten on his cheek by a cat at about 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Schaniel of 7 South Knoll Road, the boy's mother, said the bite broke the skin, causing three puncture wounds. Police said they are attempting to find the owner of the cat.

FAIRFAX SCHOOLS TO TRY AIDE IDEA

Tentative Budget Includes $3,000 To Hire Assistants In Classrooms; Tax Rate Rises

Fairfax School District trustees last night approved a tentative 1964-65 budget of $532,125, including $3,000 to hire teacher aids next year.

The budget calls for a total tax rate of about $2.30 per $100 of assessed valuation, up two cents over the 1963-64 rate. The general purpose portion of the tax rate is down eight cents, to about $1.80, but override taxes will be up about 10 cents, said Supt. Homer Sisk.

The general purpose rate is down because of additional state aid under the Unruh Bill, and more state basic and equalization aid resulting from growth in the district, he explained.

Teacher aids — an innovation in the district — will be used on a regular basis to assist teachers, especially in the primary grades. From three to five persons will be hired to do clerical tasks the teachers now do, and to assist in the classroom with certain jobs. Volunteer help also will be used.

Also under consideration is the possibility of using readers to help correct compositions and themes, Sisk said.

The total budget is $92,735 higher than the 1963-64 appropriations. It includes an increase in undistributed reserves to $38,000 from $20,500, provision for five additional teachers, and salary increases for personnel. The 1963-64 budget was based on an averaged daily attendance of 908, and the new figures on an average of 1,044.

First and second grades will go on double sessions next year, and the library and music room at Central School will be used as a classroom, to provide rooms for the five additional teachers.

The board also added $740 to the budget for improvement of the Deer Park School site.

A public hearing and adoption of the budget and the board's annual organizational meeting are scheduled Aug. 4 at 7:45 p.m. at Central School.

The board approved a request for purchase of an air conditioner for the district office at $250.

The resignation of Mrs. Elizabeth Hardin, seventh grade teacher at Central School was accepted.

Mosk Roadblocks Water Pollution Power For Bay

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Efforts of the Bay Area Regional Water Pollution Control Board to clean up San Francisco Bay underwent a sharp set-back today as the result of an opinion handed down by Attorney General Stanley Mosk.

The opinion said the board cannot regulate discharge of waste originating outside its regional boundaries and entering the bay through natural channels.

Therefore, the board cannot regulate the proposed discharge from the San Joaquin valley return flow drainage canals contemplated under the joint federal-state San Luis unit of the Feather River project.

Burglar Augments His Collection Of Tools

A screw driver was used to pry open loose boards and enter the rear tool shop of Honda of Marin, 1542 Fourth Street, Monday night to steal more screw drivers, San Rafael police reported today.

Tools, including screw drivers, wrenches and pliers were found to be missing yesterday when the shop was opened at 8 a.m., according to police. Total value of the missing items was estimated at $237.

Larkspur School Board Uses First Of New Bond Issue Cash

The Larkspur School District board last night put into motion the spending of the first monies from the successful June 2 tax increase election.

It authorized Supt. Milton S. Cohen to call for bids on blacktopping and painting at the Neil Cummins and Larkspur - Corte Madera schools and repair of the rain gutters at Neil Cummins School which have caused leaks in eight classrooms.

The Larkspur School District board also:

1. Set July 1 for reorganization meeting.

2. Accepted the resignation of Virgil Thesher, custodian at San Clemente School.

3. Held over for consideration in the fall whether to continue the after-school sports program.

More Items Missing At Furniture Store

More items have turned up missing at Brown's Home Furnishers at 38 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, store manager Elmo Harris told police yesterday after the store was believed to have been burgled by someone "in hiding" Monday night.

Harris said that in addition to a television set, tape recorder and vacuum cleaner noted as missing yesterday morning, also missing are an AM-FM radio and a portable television set. Total value of stolen goods is $761. The thief was believed to have remained in the store after closing, then opened the back door from the inside to make off with his loot.

Homing pigeons, gulls and starlings use the sun as a navigation aid and under heavy overcast they become disoriented.

Brown Reshuffles Secretarial Staff

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretarial changes were announced by Governor Edmund G. Brown today.

Sherrill D. Luke, formerly secretary for urban affairs, was appointed cabinet secretary to the governor. He succeeds Frank Mesple, who was named legislative secretary.

Robert A. Chick, travel secretary since November, 1962, was named as a second, full-time staff secretary in the Los Angeles office of the governor. Jack Tomlinson, former department of finance employee, succeeds Chick as travel secretary.

Senate Unit Votes Excise Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee adopted today a proposal to cut excise taxes on furs, cosmetics, handbags and jewelry by 260 million dollars a year.

The cut was proposed by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.) and adopted 13-3, as a substitute for a Republican proposal to repeal the taxes entirely.

The effect of the substitute is to shift the 10 per cent levies, which date from the first year of World War II, from a retail price to a manufacturer's price basis. The shift would take place Oct. 1, 1964.

Hearing Slated For Muni Bonds Curb

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A full hearing in September of the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee to discuss legislation curbing current business practices of municipal bond attorney and underwriters, was announced by Assemblyman John T. Knox (D-Richmond), chairman, today.

Knox said his committee is inquiring into the affairs of a community services district in Sutter County, known as Rio Ramaza, which was organized he said by a single landlord and his family to raise risk capital for a promotional real estate venture.

Sausalito Councilmen Face Pay Hike Decision

Sausalito City councilmen gave preliminary approval last night to the operating and maintenance portions of the city's proposed $612,760 budget.

Further discussion on proposed salary raises for firemen, police, public works employees and clerical workers is scheduled for the next meeting of the finance committee at 7 p.m. next Wednesday at the city hall.

Present proposals would call for firemen to get a one and one-half-step increase in salaries; policemen a two-step increase, and public works employees a one and one-half-step increase. Clerical employees would get the normal one-step raise.

James Leech, attorney speaking for city employees, last night reported to the council that firemen believed they should get a raise equaling that of policemen.

Prior to the regular council meeting, councilmen met with Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck to discuss salaries and the special problems of policing Sausalito which require higher pay, councilman O'Hara Chapin reported.

Also set for the finance committee meeting Wednesday is discussion of library finances.

Fixtures Stolen From Newly-Built Home

A garbage disposal unit and a stove about to be installed at a home under construction at 116 McCoy Road, San Rafael, were taken Monday evening, San Rafael police said today.

The items, valued together at $245, were stored on the site, reported contractor Keith K. Kuhl of 103 Orange Street, San Rafael.

Tam Valley Sanitary Unit Agrees On Budget

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors set a tentative 1964-65 budget of $35,300 last night but could not adopt the budget until receipt of tax rolls from the county assessor. The subject will be taken up again July 14.

The current budget is $32,900 and, according to Gale Bishel, publicity chairman for the board, this is the fourth year in a row the budget has been reduced. Tax rate is expected to be reduced by eight cents. It is now 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

County Grants Four-Fold Increase In Payment For Indigents's Burials

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved a new contract for indigent burials at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, with a major increase in payment by the county.

During early negotiations, reported county administrator Alan Bruce, the requests seemed excessive, but it turned out that the cemetery has been giving the county much service virtually free.

The new rate will be $100 a burial, compared to the $25 now paid. The Catholic Mount Olivet Cemetery has agreed to the same rate, Bruce said. The new rate is only about 28 per cent of what is charged for a private burial, he reported.

"Until the current fiscal year, the volume of indigent burials has been only about two per cent of total burials," Bruce said. "Recently, however, the proportion of indigent burials has increased to about 12 per cent."

The cost of indigent burials for the coming year has been tentatively set in the budget at $21,000.

The board agreed to send supervisor Peter H. Behr to testify before the state Assembly interim committee on revenue and taxation for the county's "action plan" for new taxes and increased state aid. The action plan was approved by the board in December and circulated to other county officials.

The plan calls for studies on new sources of revenue, including increases in income or sales taxes, and for more state aid to local governments, especially schools.

Behr was also given permission to make a pitch for his proposal for a three per cent sales tax on real estate, as long as he makes it clear he is speaking for himself and not the board.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Agreed to send supervisor George H. Ludy to a meeting of the state County Supervisors Assn. in San Diego to discuss redistricting of supervisorial districts.

2. Agreed to an increase in use of the Nalline testing program for past narcotics users in the county.

3. Approved a proposal to allow the county retirement board to invest 15 per cent, rather than 10 per cent as now, of its funds in first deeds of trust on houses.

4. Set a policy that the top hiring age for safety officers in the county will be 35, so that they may qualify for the retirement plan.

5. Approved a land transfer for Earl F. Swanson whereby he would give up .033 of an acre of land for the Coyote Creek widening in exchange for .033 of an acre from a neighboring parcel.

6. Agreed to purchase easements of .086 of an acre from Morgan W. Sanborn and Virginia S. Latham for $4,797 and .011 of an acre from Bob L. Lee for $1,775 and land purchases of .028 of an acre from Joseph J. Ryan for $5,500 and .006 of an acre from James E. Bode for $540 for the Coyote Creek widening.

7. Purchased a 7,983 square foot vacant lot on North San Pedro Road in Venetia Meadows for eventual widening of the road from Louis A. Yuvan for $7,000.

8. Agreed to assure the Army engineers that there would be local funds to pay for the Gallinas Cerek dredging project if the federal government decided to participate and the total cost came to more than $200,000. The present estimate of cost is $90,000.

9. Tentatively approved a complicated series of agreements with the state and the City of Novato and developers of the Scottsdale subdivision, allowing the city and county flood control district, aided by the developer, to build flood control works downstream from the subdivision, including the installation of pumps.

10. Approved a joint powers agreement for county participation of up to $66,000 in the Miller Avenue widening, Mill Valley.

11. Approved for one more year the use permit for operation of schools for the mentally retarded in homes in Santa Venetia.

12. Set a hearing July 14 on rezoning of land in Oak Manor Highlands, owned by Mildred Simon.

13. Appointed Eugene D. Brannan as deputy sheriff; George E. Johnson as draftsman, planning department; Marian Hixon as social worker, welfare department, and Viola Mahony as intermediate typist-clerk, public works department.

Swimmer Is Drowned

VERONA, Calif. (UPI) — Charles R. Tallman, 24, Rio Linda, drowned yesterday in the Feather River about one mile north of here, the Sutter County sheriff's office said. Deputies said Tallman apparently fell into a hole in the river bed while preparing to go swimming.

BALLOON RACE TO OPEN PLAYGROUNDS SEASON

The San Rafael Recreation and Park Department will launch the summer playground season tomorrow by sending aloft balloons carrying postcards that may bring the finders prizes.

"Operation Blast-off" is sponsored by the department and the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, and will be held on all 11 playgrounds and park areas operated by San Rafael.

Prizes offered by the chamber include a $5 purchase order to both the sender and recipient of the postcard coming from the greatest distance; five $1 bills to the cards from the next greatest distance, and theater passes to 15 other recipients of the cards.

Children visiting the playgrounds will find out the postcards being sent aloft with their names and addresses. Finders drop the cards, bearing a recreation department return address, into the mail box.

Theft Comes To Missiles Field

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — Thieves now have entered the missile field.

A Falcon missile has been stolen from the lawn of the Alamogordo Chamber of Commerce.

The missile is part of the chamber's missile museum donated by the military services and contractors at nearby White Sands Missile Range.

The missiles were rebuilt from fired missiles.

Workmen Get Thrill But No Jolt From It

NEWTON, Kan. (AP) — Street workers thought they had trouble when they cut through an underground cable during a construction project.

But no sparks flew and nobody complained. A check with local utilities failed to disclose the owner of the cable.

After being convinced that the cable wasn't connected to anything, workers continued the construction.

Novato Will Take Over Burial Ground

The old Novato cemetery on Simmons Lane will become a pioneer memorial park.

The Novato City Council last night unanimously passed a resolution taking over the property on Sept. 8.

This ends more than three years of council inquiry into keeping vandals out of the cemetery and maintaining it.

Gerald Gooch of Russell and Gooch Mortuary of Mill Valley owns controlling stock in the cemetery. Previous and present Novato councils have asked, without success, that Gooch clean up the cemetery and replace the headstones.

Alabama Goes For Timber Industry

MONTGOMERY, Ala (AP)—Timber-based activities are playing an increasingly important role in Alabama's economy. The U.S. Forest Service estimates the value of Alabama timber shipments annually at more than 500 million dollars. Woodsmen harvest two billion board feet of timber each year from the state's 21 million acres of woodlands.

The Forest Service predicts Alabama and the South will become the main sources of the nation's lumber supply. Already Alamaba ranks second nationally in pulpwood production.

Fairfax Studying Bonds To Rebuild Civic Center

A Fairfax citizens committee studying a proposed city hall remodeling and expansion program last night decided a bond issue probably would not go on the ballot until after November.

The project includes a new fire station, demolition of the old firehouse, remodeling of the city hall to enlarge police department space, and new council chambers.

Committee chairman Stan Wilsey said the group feels it will be less expensive to do the whole project at one time, rather than spread it over a period of years. Wilsey is to investigate financing over a 20-year period, rather than 25 years.

The bond issue, if approved by voters, would entail no increase in taxes. Anticipated payments to retire bonds can be made out of city income, Wilsey said.

Last night's session was an "exploratory" one, he said. All members of the city council attended. Another meeting probably will not be held for at least a month, the chairman said.

Other committee members, appointed by council, are William Hughes, Kenneth Edgar, William Young, Mervin Kern, Mrs. Dolores Dollahite, George Cowell and Leo Cronin.

Classmates Save Stray Dog, Find Home For Him

He won a reprieve from an apparent death sentence and found a home.

The stray dog showed up on the Horace Mann School playground. He was perhaps too rough in his playing. Some called him wild. He was apprehended and confined at the city dog pound. Last year, 1,172 stray dogs made the trip, were unclaimed and were disposed of.

But the sixth grade class organized a "Save the Dog" campaign.

The $9 payment to retrieve Lucky was made; then a series of foster homes were found. He found a permanent home with the Clifford E. Bjorks, thanks to Judy Miers, who learned of a home where Lucky might be welcomed.

OCALA, Fla. (AP)—James Porter, born a slave, registered again this spring to vote in forthcoming elections.

Kaiser Hospital Plan Hearing Set

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night set for July 14 a hearing on a use permit for a Kaiser Hospital and medical clinic at Northgate North.

Permanente Medical Foundation plans to build a clinic, and later a hospital, on nine acres of the site north of the Northgate Shopping Center. Directors of the foundation voted yesterday to exercise an option to buy the property from developer Douglas M. Christensen, subject to soils test and approval of the permit by the city.

A Kaiser spokesman said today plans for the hospital have not yet been drawn, but it would be similar to one built by Permanente in Hayward, which is a three-story building.

There will be a hearing on a revision of the master plan for Northgate North, originally approved for an office building and motel-convention center.

There also will be a hearing on a use permit for the clinic and hospital, sought by Christensen.

Commissioners also set hearing dates of July 14 and 28 for another proposed Terra Linda project, across Highway 101 from Northgate North.

The proposed project along the Highway 101 frontage road, between the Terra Linda Interchange and Professional Center Parkway, includes 84 multiple residential units, two office buildings, and a gasoline service station. The hearing will be on a master plan for the project submitted by Charles Bell and a use permit for the buildings.

The commission approved a tentative "subdivision map of Peacock Gap Unit 1, at the southeast corner of Biscayne and Riviera drives, including a 1.85-acre baseball site offered to the city by Draper Companies and a 7.3-acre school site.

Commissioners approved the map on the condition that the school site is judged acceptable by the San Rafael Board of Education. (The board last night discussed the site but reached no decision.)

In the same area, the commission approved a lot subdivision at the northwest corner of Biscayne Drive and Point San Pedro Road, a tentative map of four lots in Peacock Gap Unit 3 on the north side of Biscayne Drive opposite Riviera Drive, and a tentative map of eight lots in Peacock Gap Unit 4, on the north side of Biscayne Drive near Peacock Drive. All were submitted by Peacock Gap, Inc., owner and subdivider.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Granted Drs. Michael J. Franzblau and William J. Filante a use permit and architectural approval for a medical office building at 540-44 48 D Street, after a public hearing at which no protest was made.

2. Approved a tentative map of a five-lot subdivision, Hazel Estate, on the west side of Clayton Street near Ross Street, sought by John MacPhee and Arthur Lang.

3. Granted Shell Oil Co. a use permit for a gasoline service station at Second and Minnie streets with condition that there be no access to Second Street. The vote was 4 to 1, with Commissioner Carl S. Brown dissenting.

4. Approved the final subdivision map of Twelveoak Hill Unit 3 at the extension of Las Gallinas Avenue and Maple Hill Drive containing 39 units, submitted by Marin Master Builders.

5. Approved a tentative map of a 40-lot subdivision, Terra Linda Unit 22, west of Devon and Hunt drives, submitted by Alameda Homes Corp., owner and subdivider.

6. Granted Blue Streak Raceways a one-year renewal of its permit for an auto hobby raceway at 15 Lovell Avenue, off Woodland Avenue.

7. Granted A. R. Roumiguere a permit to use the rear portion of two lots at 9-11 Laurel Place for parking with the condition that he remove a plank between curb cuts in front of the adjacent office building.

8. Approved the final map of a 62-lot subdivision, Glenwood Forest Unit 1, northwest of Unit 2 and the extension of Knight Drive.

9. Set for July 14 and 28 hearings on the rezoning of Porto Bello West on Point San Pedro Road, between Porto Bello and Harbor Estates, from unclassified to duplex.

10. Agreed to notify Peacock Gap Inc. that if it did not submit requested information to the planning staff on four directional and identification signs by July 2, the city manager would issue a notice to remove the signs.

Commissioners Thomas R. O'Toole and Walter J. Coyne were absent.

Planes Put On Skis For Mercy Flight

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (UPI) — Two ski-equipped Hercules transport planes today were on their way for the winter-bound antarctica to pickup a critically injured sailor.

The Navy said the planes, piloted by Cmdrs. Frederick S. Gallup of Warwick, and Lt. Robert D. Mayer of North Kingston, would fly first to Christchurch, New Zealand. They were expected to arrive at McMurdo Station, the American installation in Little America, early Saturday.

The injured sailor is builder 1/c Bethel M. McMullen, 29, who suffered a broken back when he fell from the second floor of the fire house at McMurdo Station.

NIGHT LIFE IS ONLY LIFE FOR GRUNION

REDONDO BEACH (AP)—"The Grunion are running!"

The cry sent seafood lovers racing for the beach yesterday. Grunion are tasty little fish (up to nine inches) who spawn on tidal sands. For 200 yards the beach was alive with tiny fish.

After all but a few were gone, John H. Prescott, curator of fishes at Marineland Aquarium, investigated. Grunion, he knew, run only at night. His report:

"The anchovies were running."

Anchovies are used mostly as bait. They aren't as tasty, fresh, as grunion. And they were probably running, said Prescott, from a school of bigger fish, who chased them right up to the sand.

Suburbs of the 15 largest metropolitan areas grew three times as fast as the central cities between 1960 and 1962, according to the Census Bureau.

AWOL Seaman Injured In Novato Accident

Michael Patrick Mullens, 19, got a bump on the head when a car in which he was riding hit a tree beside San Jose Boulevard in Novato early today—and he'll likely get a harder jolt from the Navy.

Mullen, said Novato police, is AWOL from the Navy at Treasure Island. He was held for naval authorities at Hamilton Air Force Base after being treated at the base hospital.

Mullen was riding with Patrick William Awana, 21, of San Francisco in a car that swerved off the road at 4:10 a.m. and hit a tree in the yard of Capt. Lee Roy Goettsche at 1381 San Jose Boulevard, police reported.

Driver and passenger piled out of the car and fled. Awana, however, returned later. Police found Mullens, with blood on his forehead, looking for a ride on Highway 101.

Paul Russell Clark, 16, of 190 Pacheco Avenue, Novato, was cut on the middle and index fingers of his left hand in a two-car accident at 5:57 p.m. yesterday at Fourth Street and Industrial Way, Novato Police reported.

Carroll Burns Dow, 50, of 693 McClay Road, Novato, driving south on Fourth Street, was cited by police for failure to yield the right of way when making a left turn. Clark was northbound on Fourth Street when the Dow car turned in front of him, according to police. Clark was to see his own physician.

Bair, former member of the board of directors, California state fair, was appointed today as chief of the division of fairs and expositions, Charles Paul, director of agriculture announced. City Planner Is Selected For San Rafael

George Hugh Rodgers, 36-year-old planning director of Lodi, has been selected to become city planner for the city of San Rafael.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen announced today that if the city council approves, Rodgers will take over the job Aug. 1 at a salary of $900 a month.

Rodgers will fill the vacancy left by resignation last week of engineer Daniel P. Coleman, who had served as acting planner for three months.

Rodgers was a planning technician in Palm Springs in 1953-55, director of planning and zoning in Greenville, S.C., from May, 1955, to February, 1957, and since then has been in his present job in Lodi.

After graduation from University of North Carolina in 1951 with a major in economics, Rodgers completed a two-year post-graduate course to obtain a master of regional planning degree. He is a native of Charlotte, N.C., and an associate member of the American Institute of Planners.

At last night's planning commission session, Andersen served as acting planning director.

During the session, Fred C. Robbins Jr. was named as commission chairman succeeding Pat Hetherton, and Commissioner Carl S. Brown was named vice chairman.

More than 8.6 million students will be enrolled as college undergraduates by 1975, according to the U.S. Office of Education.

State Employment Aide Gets New Job

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Vernon G. Graham, chief of the Department of Employment's accounting section for the past 20 years years, has been appointed to the new position of chief of the Division of Accounts and Tax Collections, effective July 1.

Graham will receive a monthly salary ranging from $1,286-$1,564. The division includes the headquarters office accounting and auditing sections, and 37 field audit offices located throughout California.

Marin General Hospital Lowers Room Rates $1

Room rates for the vast majority of beds at Marin General Hospital were lowered by $1 a day last night by the hospital district board.

The board voted 3-1, with Marion C. Ibach dissenting, to lower the rates for two-bed rooms from $27 a day to $26.

The lowered rates were first suggested by board member Charles A. Rowe, who last night pushed for the lower rate despite objections of Mrs. Ibach and hospital administrator William W. Turner.

Rowe said that with an increased number of beds at the hospital, and the expected increase in the number of patients, "the savings should be passed along."

Mrs. Ibach said the hospital's rates were lower than the average rates charged in the Bay Area. She contended that a retirement program for hospital employees, establishment of a fund for purchase of new equipment and air conditioning in the emergency department should come first.

Turner said that if the hospital averaged fewer than 140 patients, there would be a deficit. "We have to have cash to operate the business," he emphasized.

The board also approved the budget for the next fiscal year. Depending on the number of patients who use the hospital facilities, operating expenses could vary from $3,293,189 to $3,895,431. The board approved four sets of figures which show revenue and expenses for 136, 145, 160 and 170 average number of patients.

The Marin Hospital District Board Also:

1. Adjourned into an executive session with the district's attorney, Harold F. Riede, for 35 minutes, after which it was stated that no decision had been reached and that the hearing demanded by Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman would continue on July 14.

2. Approved as associate staff members Drs. S. Abel Hillel, Edwin P. Bremman, Frederick R. Burrell, F. Gordon Dunn, John H. Jolly, M. W. Neal and David W. McCullough.

3. Cited the hospital district's volunteers for "very strong programs" developed in the past year.

4. Denied a request by James E. Moore and Eugene Aureguy to lease land on the north side of the hospital for construction of a convalescent hospital because of a shortage of land for the district's own use.

5. Referred a proposal by Peter Gottreiner of Greenbrae to act as a consultant on physical therapy to the hospital to Turner for consideration.

6. Decided to ask Riede for advice on how to proceed to get bus service to the hospital after hearing that all informal approaches had been exhausted.

7. Approved spending about $6,000 for an addressograph system.

8. Decided to use the firm of Hood and Strong of San Francisco for the district's annual audit rather than the services of the county auditor-controller's office.

9. Decided to set aside $6,500 a month in an account for purchase of new equipment.

10. Approved a resolution consolidating the district's election with the general election of Nov. 3, at which time the terms of board members Charles A. Rowe and Herman Hale will expire.

11. Hired J. H. Feller and Associates of San Rafael for $1,300 to study the medical staff's organization.

12. Wrote off $5,301.92 in bad debts.

Churchill Kin Dies

LONDON (UPI) — Capt. George Spencer-Churchill, 88, cousin of Sir Winston Churchill, died today in Queen Mary's Hospital, where he had been hospitalized with severe burns last week after he fell into a hot water bath at his home.

Curtain Rings Down On Waldo Film Making

Filming of the 20th Century-Fox movie, "Erasmus With Freckles" ended yesterday at Waldo Point near Sausalito, the stars have left and, according to the company's nurse, Mrs. Twila Mills, "The landscape will be clean as a whistle by tomorrow night.

The nurse said the boat, River Belle, on which much of the action at Waldo was shot, will be taken apart in six sections and trucked to Hollywood. The tiny house nearby, in which actress Jane Wald lived, will be left behind, to become property of a crane operator who lives at Waldo.

"We were very fortunate," said Mrs. Mills. "We had only two minor injuries during the eight days shooting. A pole fell on an actor's foot and wind blew a sliver into the eye lid of Peter Kaluha, an extra, of Waldo Point."

Rifle Owner Held During LBJ Visit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A rifle owner was held in jail during President Lyndon B. Johnson's San Francisco visit last weekend, at the request of the Secret Service, police said today.

Officers said the man, Clinton Phillip Derry, an unemployed surveyor, surrendered a .22-caliber Remington rifle at his apartment Thursday.

He was held from Friday until Saturday morning on a booking of "en route to the U.S. Marshal" then was released and left town, police said.

Police said they were informed the detention was prompted by a few comments made by the man.

$9.7-MILLION ROAD PLAN GIVEN BOARD

County Construction Proposed Over Next Five To Seven Years In Marin

A $9,700,000 proposal for construction of county roads in the next five to seven years was handed to the Marin County Board of Supervisors late yesterday.

The list included the major projects which County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said will be "urgently needed" within that time. Cities in the county would be expected to pick $1,262,860 of the total tab of $9,678,461.

Right of way costs in the projects would amount to $3,790,100, with the rest going for construction.

The board was expected to take up the county road budget for the coming fiscal year this afternoon.

One of the most costly projects shown was widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to four lanes from Wolfe Grade to the Ross city line. The bulk of the total cost of $1,334,000 would be for right of way.

Another major project proposed is the five-year plan of cooperating with the City of San Rafael in widening Point San Pedro Road, which will cost about $2,500,000.

In all, 37 projects were included, but many were actually several phases of a single stretch of road. Among the largest single jobs were $949,000 for widening North San Pedro Road to four lanes from Civic Center Drive to La Pasada, and $803,00 for drainage work for and widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from White Hose Pool to Inverness.

Construction of Atherton Avenue to four lanes from Highway 101 to Olive Avenue, Novato, would cost $505,000, with the City of Novato paying 7.2 per cent of the cost.

Widening and realigning 2.05 miles of Petaluma-Point Reyes Road would cost another $459,000.

Frost noted that in his projection, no roads which do not exist were included. Presumably such projects as a road from Terra Linda to San Anselmo or Fairfax would be an additional cost.

The public works director also suggested a go-slow attitude on major east-west routes for now, waiting for the state to make a decision on what route it will use when extending Highway 17 from San Rafael to Point Rayes National Seashore.

County Administrator Alan Bruce has suggested the county may want to consider a bond issue after seeing the figures.

2 Persons Drown While Swimming

SAN JOSE (AP) — The heat drove scores of people to swimming spots yesterday and there were at least two drownings in Santa Clara County.

Gilbert Vasquez, 17, of San Jose, developed cramps while swimming in a Coyote Creek pit. He fought off efforts of a companion to save him.

Skin diver George McConkey of Santa Clara became stuck under a submerged bridge at Chesbro Dam near Morgan Hill. Other skin divers were unable to pull him out in time.

$15,000 Is Granted To Nurse Program

Marin Hospital District board members received notification last night that the hospital district and the Marin Junior College District have been given $15,000 by the William Babcock Foundation to start a two-year registered nursing program.

Ann H. McCorry, administrator of the foundation, wrote that the money was given with the understanding that the first student would be enrolled in the program by 1965.

The college and hospital are to assure the foundation that the planning phase of the program will not take more than 12 months. The money is earmarked for employment of a person and staff materials to plan and set up the program.

Hospital board chairman Ernest N. Kettenfoffen said, "This is certainly wonderful news." Board member Marion C. Ibach said, "I think this is one of the most important things in terms of medicine in the county."

Caroline Injured

HYANNIS, Mass. (UPI) — Caroline Kennedy, 7-year-old daughter of the late President John F. Kennedy, broke "a couple of small bones" in her left wrist in a fall from her pony Maccaroni, it was learned today. The injury accurred a few weeks ago but was not discovered until her mother, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, noticed a lump on her wrist yesterday.

Hub Council Approves Buying Police Cars, But Local First

City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt got the go-ahead signal from the San Anselmo City Council last night to buy three new police cars, but only after the council threw a hurdle in his way.

Flautt had proposed that the city purchase specially designed police cars through the State of California, identical to Dodge sedans recently bought by San Rafael Police Department.

The cars, Flautt said, were available immediately and included a 50,000 mile warranty, guaranteed for servicing by local Chrysler dealers. They could be purchased before July 10 for the same price the state pays for California Highway Patrol vehicles—$2,399 plus $50 handling charge and sales tax.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith felt "local dealers should be given a chance to compete." He asked if Flautt had notified all local automobile dealers of the city's purchase plans.

"Let's check and make sure," suggested Councilman John M. Reichmuth.

"I've already checked," shot back Flautt. "The earliest other models could be supplied is in October."

The council instructed Flautt to submit bid requests to all automobile dealers in Marin. With this stipulation, a resolution was passed allowing him to purchase the state vehicles, if no local dealer could come up with a better bargain.

Beatle Club Closed

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—The Star Club, local rock-roll-and-twist stronghold where the Beatles got their international start, was padlocked by court order today following a raid by police who charged the owner failed to guarantee the safety of guests and violated laws to protect youth.

Novato Teen-Agers Protest Pool Fees

About 30 teen-agers last night protested to the Novato City Council at the prices charged in the municipal swimming pool and hours that the pool is kept open.

The pool opened Monday.

During discussion the council learned that attendance the first two days was between 1,200 and 1,400 paid admissions.

The council took no action on the teen-agers' complaint but asked the group to meet with Edmund Mahaney, director of parks and recreation, to iron out their troubles. They were also told to ask Mahaney to put them on the agenda for the first council meeting in July if everything was not straightened out.

Warren Laufer, 17, of 1464 Pastel Lane, president of the teen club, was spokesman for the group.

"We want the council to lower the price from 50 cents to 35 cents with a membership card to the teen club," Laufer said. The teen club is sponsored by the parks and recreation department as part of the summer recreation program.

Laufer also asked that the pool be kept open between 5 and 6:30 p.m. so youths are not charged two admissions for one day of swimming. It now reopens at 6:30.

Mrs. John Machado of 1424 Dawes Street, who brought the delegation to the meeting, asked that the pool be kept open continuously during the supper hour and close at 10 p.m. instead of 9:30.

"You will get more money by letting more kids use the pool," she said in arguing for a lower price.

Councilman J. Wayne Womack, who headed the citizens pool committee to get the bonds passed, reminded the group that it could get books of tickets which would then cost 30 cents per swim.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget said that the first two days, only 35 books of tickets had been sold.

"I feel that this protest is premature," Womack said.

During World War II, at the height of meat rationing, a Texas shipyard used bananas instead of grease to prepare the ways on which new ships slid into the water.

Russ Predicts Major Power Disarmament

GENEVA (UPI)—Deputy Premier Valerian A. Zorin today said further voluntary cutbacks by the Soviet Union and the United States in the production of nuclear explosives is possible even though no formal agreement is in sight.

Zorin, who is heading the Soviet delegation to the United Nations 17-nation disarmament conference, made his prediction at a foreign press association lunch.

He said cutbacks by the world's two biggest nuclear powers on the basis of mutual example "is quite possible" although he saw no prospects at this time for any formal agreement.

Answering questions, Zorin said he did see some hope that agreement can be reached on the destruction of bombers. But, he stressed that the western powers first will have to agree in principle to Moscow's proposals for the destruction of all bombers before talks on how to do it can begin. The United States refused to make any such commitment beforehand.

Novato Switches Firms For Insurance Policies

The Novato City Council last night changed the city's insurance company after the present insurance carrier served notice it would not renew the policy.

Worth Fenner, agent for Glens Falls Insurance Co., last September was awarded a three-year contract to write the city's insurance when he was low bidder among local agents. Recently the Glens Falls Insurance Co. canceled Fenner as its agent and named Alton Lerch as agent.

Lerch wrote the council that Glens Falls Co. was not going to renew the policy.

The council, on recommendation of city administrator J. Julien Baget, changed to Insurance Co. of North America with Fenner as agent, effective July 1.

"How come we're being canceled out?" asked William Jack Adams.

"It has nothing to do with the city claims, but has to do entirely with company-agent relations," said City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr.

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Continued until an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday formation of the Scottsdale Assessment District for a 1,500-apartment development between Highway 101 and South Novato Boulevard, south of Yukon Way.

2. Introduced ordinances rezoning: from multiple to light industrial five acres on Railroad Avenue, requested by Gus Ravetz, from duplex to multiple a lot on Fourth Street between Vallejo and Grant avenues, requested by Robert and Virginia Russell, and from residential to retail commercial the west side of First Street between Vallejo and Olive avenues, requested by the planning commission.

3. Accepted right of way deed from Scheller Brothers Construction Co. for five feet for the widening of Simmons Lane.

4. Passed ordinances: designating Wells Fargo Bank as the city depository, granting overtime pay to city employees for working more than their required shift, and authorizing the city administrator to appoint the city treasurer.

5. Instructed the city staff to give all the assistance needed to the parks and recreation advisory commission in its study of renovating the community house.

6. Authorized Baget to contract through the county to purchase gasoline from Standard Oil Co. of California at 28.5 cents per gallon for ethyl and 24.5 for regular gasoline.

7. Adjourned to an executive session to discuss the pending legislation with William and Irene Nave on a right of way on South Novato Boulevard. The council also held an hour executive meeting on this before the open council meeting. It adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

Drake Parking Not Restricted

San Anselmo City Council last night decided not to restrict parking on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

"We have two 12-foot lanes and two eight and one-half foot lanes," said City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt. "It's ridiculous to attempt to restrict parking until we can widen those lanes."

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani concurred in a letter to the council stating that a "dip on either side of the road close to the curb line" would be a hazard to motorists driving in those lanes.

Driver's Error Leads To Truck-Train Crash

OAKDALE (UPI) — Rev. Paul J. Talbot, 46, of Modesto and his young son, Dennis, 12, were killed early today when a train smashed into their pickup at a railroad crossing three miles south of here.

The accident happened at the intersection of Albert Road and the Oakdale-Waterford Highway. According to the train engineer, Talbot appeared to slow the vehicle as he approached the intersection but then drove onto the tracks directly in front of the Santa Fe train.

Anti-Featherbedding Move Qualifies For November Vote

State Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy of San Rafael and Majority Leader Hugh Burns (D-Fresno) today announced their co-chairmanship of the California Committee to Eliminate Railroading Featherbedding, which is sponsoring the Railroad Anti-Featherbedding Initiative.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan advised the committee that signatures of enough registered voters had been filed on initiative petitions to qualify the measure for the November ballot.

The two legislators issued a joint statement which said that the initiative "is a completely non-partisan measure, and deserves the support of California's of both political parties, and of labor and management alike.

"It is of utmost importance to California consumers, shippers and industry that our state's economy be kept competitive with the rest of the nation by sharing in the benefits of the congressional and presidential railroad settlements."

Besides the featherbedding railmen, McCarthy also took a swing yesterday at the Supreme Court for its decision demanding apportionment on a population basis of all state legislative houses.

The ruling, he charged, "would destroy all legislative protection available to vast areas of California. I am urging that each member of the California delegation in Congress support a proposed amendment to the United States Constitution requiring that representation in one house of each state legislature be based strictly on population."

Elevator Crushes Child To Death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A six-year-old boy was crushed to death yesterday when he was caught between a freight elevator and elevator shaft in the rear of a Market Street building.

Police said the victim, Freddie Lee Martin, apparently pushed the starter button on the elevator, which was being used to unload freight from a truck.

The operator had gone inside the building—to seek help in chasing little boys away from the elevator.

COLEMAN SCHOOL REZONE PROTESTED

Dominican Area Residents Fight Plan To Permit Professional Offices On Site

Dominican area residents jammed the San Rafael Planning Commission meeting last night in a fight to keep Grand Avenue residential.

An overflow crowd of about 80 persons appeared to protest rezoning of the former Coleman School property at Grand Avenue and Linden Lane to permit professional offices.

There was standing room only when the commission began its first hearing on an application by attorney William T. Bagley and contractor Richard Pelton to rezone the Coleman site from unclassified to an administrative-professional district.

Attorney John G. Buresh of 257 Mountain View Avenue presented a petition with 411 signatures opposing the rezoning.

Buresh said Grand Avenue "is one of the oldest, most venerable streets in San Rafael, beautiful from one end to the other," and its beauty must be kept intact.

The time to keep Grand Avenue from becoming commercialized is now, he said. "I am opposed to the foot-in-the-door, the camel's head in the tent, and creeping commercialism."

When Buresh pleaded, "Don't start the downgrading of this beautiful area," the crowd applauded.

Bagley said the site was essentially an island isolated from the adjacent residential neighborhood, and that its location dictated zoning other than single family residential.

The site would not be desirable for residential development because it fronts on Highway 101, Bagley said. "You're not going to get first-class residences next to the highway."

Bagley described the old school building, which once housed the county library and county offices, as an eyesore.

The first phase of the proposed development would be construction of a two-story office building, "residential in appearance," to house a law office, a dentist's office, an accountant's office and one other office, he said. The ultimate plan is to construct two more similar units on the site, but cover only 13 per cent of the square footage with buildings, Bagley said.

Dr. Orville F. Grimes of 1660 Grand Avenue, president of the Community Preservation League of San Rafael, pointed out that area residents have pride in their neighborhood and have worked hard to maintain its present atmosphere.

Attorney Max Thelen of 199 Mountain View Avenue said construction of office buildings would be "a beachhead from Lincoln Avenue into the residential area."

Even if it were an attractive development, the people will still oppose it, he said. "It's a case of spot rezoning that makes no sense."

Paul R. Ciampi of 1417 Grand Avenue said there are other areas in San Rafael available for such a professional center development and therefore it is not necessary to encroach into a residential area.

The commission also received a letter from Mother Mary Justin of the Dominican Convent opposing the rezoning, claiming it would add to noise and traffic and detract from the beauty of the area.

Mother Justin said her letter represented the feeling of 100 Dominican sisters and an equal number of lay faculty members at the college.

Last night's hearing was the first of two scheduled on the proposed rezoning, but at the close of the session Bagley indicated he would be willing to withdraw the zoning application and take a new approach.

He said he would be willing to comply with any controls the planning commission might want to impose and that he would be willing to apply for planned community zoning.

If he withdraws the original application, the scheduled July 14 hearing will be canceled and the whole procedure will start from scratch with a new application.

By 1980, about 95 million Americans, representing 55 per cent of the population, will have finished high school, compared with 41 per cent (50 million) in 1960, according to the Census.

Greek Premier In Washington For Cyprus Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Greek Premier George Papandreou flew into Washington today for the second chapter of President Lyndon B. Johnson's personal diplomacy effort to find a solution for the Cyprus crisis.

Johnson hopes for further progress in two days of talks with the Greek leader, after gaining some encouragement in a similar two-day session with Turkey's Premier Ismet Inonu.

The two leaders went into conferences slated to wind up tomorrow afternoon.

Papandreou declined comment to newsmen as he left the White House.

Tire Inflator Fluid Explodes Inside Car

A can of tire inflator fluid exploded with terrific force yesterday at 12:03 p.m., blowing out the rear window of a car parked in front of a Kentfield home and tearing off the upholstery of the rear seat.

Kentfield Fire Chief Kenneth Kamp said the can was stored on the rear window ledge of a car belonging to Mrs. Fred D. Stribling of 9 Rosebank Avenue. The can had been exposed to the sun and the heat, he said.

Shattered glass was hurled through the empty car's interior.

Kamp warned motorists that instructions on the can state the inflator fluid should not be stored where the sun can get to it or in the trunk of the car. He said that a cool place in the car should be found for the cans.

Sanitary Annex Plans On Agenda

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission will meet at 8:45 a.m. tomorrow to consider three proposed annexations to the Novato Sanitary District.

The agenda also calls for a discussion on standards for commission rulings, but this item may be postponed as commissioner Byron W. Leydecker is attending the board of supervisors budget hearings instead.

The Johnson annexation is 7.5 acres north of Center Road and west of Eucalyptus Avenue. The Campbell-Lynn annexation is 3.3 acres west of Canyon Road south of Hill Avenue. The Gerssing annexation is three acres on Novato Boulevard west of McClay Road.

Faulty Assessment Plaints Pouring In

County Clerk George H. Gnoss yesterday complained that protest forms on property valuations by the county assessor have been pouring into his office and many of them appear faulty, mainly because they do not list comparable property to show that appraisals have been unfair.

"Some of them just say, 'taxes are too damn high'," Gnoss reported. "They have no relation to the assessed values."

The board of supervisors at first suggested that Gnoss send the protests back, explaining that more information would be needed; but County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said such procedure would put the clerk in a ticklish position, asking him to decide on the adequacy of protests.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman said he did not believe any protests received before the assessment roll is formally presented to the board of supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization, would be valid.

Maloney said he has ruled liberally on that question. The protests received early are considered "received" but not "filed." They will be filed as soon as the roll is presented by Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, on July 13.

Fusselman said he was afraid an unhappy taxpayer could take the county to court on the grounds he had not been given a fair hearing because the board spent a lot of time on invalid protests and did not have enough time for him. Maloney said he thought he could win such a case.

As to whether the forms were filled out correctly, Maloney suggested the clerk write protesters asking for additional information but saying that a hearing time and date would be set for each regardless.

The board agreed to the procedure, and authorized Gnoss to hire staff temporarily to send out the letters.

A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr. of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce asked the board to go on record against the cyclical appraisal procedure and seek state legislation to abolish it.

The supervisors refused, saying any action now would appear to prejudice decisions on individual properties in protest hearings.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he is opposed to the procedure, but since the state legislature is not in session, the question could wait.

Bjorklund also said notices sent by Broemmel to property owners were insufficient, according to the law, because they did not state the time and place for protest hearings. Broemmel said when he sent the notices he did not know the time for hearings. The question was referred to Maloney for a written opinion.

Water Work Bids Due

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Water Resources Department said today it will call for bids on an estimated $22 million of State Water Project construction during the next two months.

35 Demonstrators Pray On Beach

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI)— Thirty-five civil rights demonstrators knelt in silent prayer beside the Atlantic Ocean today while segregationists guarding the surf against a swim-in jeered.

The integrationists made no attempt to enter the water and there was no violence as there had been on previous occasions when they did.

More than 25 policemen kept watch over the scene. The demonstrators departed after about two minutes.

Malfunction Halted Space Engine Firing

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A malfunction halted the first static test firing of the United States' most powerful liquid hydrogen space engine last weekend, Aerojet-General Corp. said here yesterday.

But the 238-million-dollar engine, scheduled for a three second run, reached almost half the thrust it would use while powering the upper stages of a manned space rocket, the company said.

Atheist Flies To Hawaii To Ask Asylum

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Madalyn Murray, the Maryland atheist who took her family and hastily left Baltimore — "I'm convinced they're going to do me in here" —changed planes in San Francisco and left for Hawaii last night.

"I will ask the governor of Hawaii for religious asylum," the 44-year-old woman had said before she left Baltimore with her family, a dog and cat and one suitcase.

Traveling under an assumed name, the woman whose suit brought a U.S. Supreme Court ban on compulsory school prayer, managed the San Francisco stopover without public notice.

An airline spokesman said the party—Mrs. Murray, her mother, brother, two sons and a daughter-in-law—arrived by Trans World Airlines too late to catch a scheduled Pan American departure yesterday. The spokesman said the party left later on a United Air Lines plane.

The Baltimore departure of the Murrays stemmed from a weekend fracas which followed the marriage of her son, Bill, 18, to 17-year-old Susan Abramovitz. Susan's parents accused Mrs. Murray of inducing the girl to move to the Murray home and abandon her Jewish religion.

Meeting Called Off

Today's meeting of the Marin Municipal Water District board has been called off because of lack of a quorum. The board will meet at 1:30 p.m. Friday, according to Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger.

PATERNAL GOOD DEED MISFIRES TO DAD'S LOSS

SAN BERNARDINO (AP) — Richard Loss yesterday received a telegram from Seattle, Wash., asking for $100. It was signed by his son, Richard Loss Jr.

Loss wired the money. Then he realized something was wrong. His son lives in Princeton, N.J.

Loss checked with Loss Jr. and found he hadn't been to Seattle.

Loss lost no time in contacting authorities. It was a phony wire, they said. And the $100? A total loss, Loss.

More than 700 varieties and grades of oil-based synthetic rubber have been produced, according to the National Automobile Club.

San Rafael Trustees Critical Of Dixie Unification Stand

San Rafael Board of Education members last night accused their Dixie School District counterparts of stymying unification of San Rafael and Dixie elementary districts.

Discussing a meeting of the County Committee on School District Organization on the subject last week, board member John M. Bagshaw declared: "My reaction to this whole thing is that Dixie has to make up its mind. . . . We have the tax resources. We are supplying the service. . . . Economically it seems unsound for Dixie to try to unify alone."

Should Dixie attempt to "go it alone" as a unified district, "how can they ever repay us for our interest in Terra Linda High School when they're practically a destitute district?" asked Bagshaw.

Board chairman C. Paul Bettini noted that the San Rafael board had repeatedly gone on record favoring unification but the Dixie board "has never reacted. . . . I don't think they really sincerely want to do it."

Summed up board member Carl J. Brown: "They've inferred they don't want to unify, but they won't come out and say so."

Bagshaw said the county committee had overlooked the effect on residents of Santa Venetia and the Hartzell School area if a unified district were created with the ridge between the two valleys as boundary — a proposal put forward by some Dixie trustees. Supt. Bert C. Corona said such a split would mean a tax increase of $1 to $1.50 per $100 assessed valuation for residents of those areas.

Suede Shoe Boys Face Crackdown

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Nine salesmen were indicted by the San Mateo County grand jury yesterday for alleged fraudulent sale of aluminum siding to homeowners.

The action came as state Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk announced that investigations of similar incidents were proceeding throughout the state, particularly in San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, San Diego, Orange and Los Angeles counties.

A spokesman for the San Mateo County district attorney's office said at least 50 homeowners in the county were victimized by the salesmen, who offered the sidings at bargain rates without explaining that the purchases hinged on property mortgages.

CHOOL OFFICIAL'S CONTRACT RAPPED

San Rafael Trustee Argues Against Raise For Superintendent Without New Contract

The unilateral nature of school perintendents' contracts was arply attacked last night by an torney member of the San Ra- el Board of Education.

Board member Bella H. Aaron fused to act on a proposal to crease the salary of Supt. Bert Corona without a written inion from the county counsel at the superintendent's salary uld be raised without entering to a new four-year contract.

Corona said his contract con- ins a clause permitting reopen- g the salary by mutual consent. Declared Mrs. Aaron:

"I feel there has been accorded no sanctity to contracts in school districts. . . If we wanted to let an administrator go, we would be bound by the contract, (but) if they get a better offer, they break their contract."

She contended the time period is an integral part of the contract and "the salary should be for that period of time."

"I think it's time all the districts abided by this," she declared. "Protection of the law for four-year contracts should work both ways."

Chairman C. Paul Bettini said it had been held earlier that the board must grant a new four-year contract to raise a superintendent's salary.

"The protection is entirely on the superintendent's side," commented board member John M. Bagshaw. "Legally speaking, the contract is worthless."

Corona was raised from $17,000 to $18,000 per year last November. He joined the San Rafael school system as superintendent in the fall of 1961. He was given a new four-year contract as of July 1, 1962 with the pay unchanged from the $17,000 at which he was hired.

Board member Walter J. Doll (who was absent last night) proposed at the June 9 board meeting that the superintendent's salary be raised, inasmuch as teachers and principals were receiving increases. At that time, Corona was asked to prepare a comparison of superintendents' salaries in various districts.

He presented the comparison last night. It showed that six superintendents in Marin County have received raises this year (Supt. James G. Bunker of Novato Unified School District, whose pay was raised from $18,600 to $20,000 per year on Monday night, was not included among the six).

So far this year, Dixie Elementary School District (six schools) has raised Supt. Dennie B. Willis from $16,000 to $17,000; Fairfax Elementary District (three schools) has raised Supt. Homer E. Sisk from $12,600 to $13,000; Kentfield Elementary District (three schools) has raised Supt. Howard C. Harmon from $16,000 to $17,500; Mill Valley Elementary District (eight schools) has raised Supt. G. R. McConnell from $16,752 to $17,502; San Anselmo Elementary District (six schools) has raised Supt. Stephen Parodi from $16,500 to $17,500; San Jose Elementary District (five schools) has raised Supt. Ralph Giovanniello from $15,000 to $16,000. The San Rafael superintendent administers two high schools and 14 elementary schools.

Hospital To Name Wing For Donor

The Marin Hospital District board last night decided to name the original wing of the hospital the Kenney Gruenhagen Memorial Wing.

Mrs. Gruenhagen, who died on Feb. 10, was the anonymous donor who gave the hospital $630,642 for construction of the Babcock Wing, purchase of the cobalt unit and medical library.

The action was taken after it was ascertained from her husband, Charles, that the memorial would not conflict with Mrs. Gruenhagen's stated wishes.

The board decided that a dedication ceremony would be held sometime in the fall when construction at the hospital has been completed.

County Counsel Aid Sought In Acquiring Site For School

The San Rafael Board of Education voted last night to call on the county counsel for help — with condemnation suit if necessary — to acquire a five-acre school site in the San Rafael Canal area.

Architect Mackenzie Cantin and schools business manager Charles R. Condrotte presented analyses of possible sites in both the canal area and Peacock Gap.

Cantin said the site first considered in the canal area, in the Kerner-Bellam tract, was unusable because it would require four to eight feet of additional fill and there appears no way to get the fill there. It cannot be pumped from the bay to the site, and the city public works department is loath to allow so much hauling over East San Rafael streets, he said.

Of several other canal area sites, he recommended as most suitable for immediate purchase one just outside the Kerner-Bellam tract which he said requires no fill. Condrotte said the owner (was not named) has refused to even talk to the school officials about selling any part of the 25 acres in the parcel. Board member John M. Bagshaw suggested condemnation.

At that point, Condrotte disclosed that County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney had solicited San Rafael School officials to engage him to negotiate for sites.

Chairman C. Paul Bettini and board member Bella H. Aaron objected to having the county counsel negotiate, saying he should come into the picture only when a condemnation suit is planned.

Condrotte said Maloney reported he "actually negotiates more land purchases than the realtors in Marin County . . . including all those for the Marin Junior College District and the Dixie School District."

Bagshaw noted that if the county counsel were asked to negotiate, this would imply a threat of condemnation. On that basis, the board agreed to ask him to enter negotiations for the canal site.

Board members were unable to agree on whether to buy an elementary school site at Biscayne and Riviera Drives in Peacock Gap, offered by the Draper Companies at $70,000 for about seven acres.

Cantin recommended the site be purchased, with another Peacock Gap site atop a knoll being considered for a junior high school rather than the Glenwood junior high site. The latter poses fill and drainage problems, he said.

However, Bettini and Mrs. Aaron felt the proposed junior high site would be better for an elementary school and the junior high perhaps should be built in Glenwood, as planned. They asked figures on (a) value of the 15 acres at Glenwood which are being held for a junior high site, and (b) price of the knoll site in Peacock Gap.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

1. Approved drawings presented by architect Ralph B. Priestley for addition of classrooms and library at Davidson Junior High School, and by architect Cantin for similar additions at Sun Valley School, to be submitted to the State Division of Architecture.
2. Engaged Gromme and Priestley as architects for repair and earthquake-proofing of the "Old Main" at San Rafael High School. The same firm is in charge of the library and classroom addition to the high school.
3. Awarded Worley and Co., the only bidder, contract for lockers at Terra Linda High School totaling $5,712.
4. Approved a revised junior high school curriculum, submitted by Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat, which was made necessary by reduction of the school day in the city's two junior high schools from eight to seven periods.
5. Approved a notification of intention to initiate a program for educationally handicapped in the high school district. Supt. Bert C. Corona said state approval for such a program already has been received for the elementary district.
6. Refused to lend two school buses to the San Rafael Recreation Department to take children to a baseball game at Candlestick Park on July 2 and an outing at Samuel P. Taylor State Park on Aug. 4. School policy is against lending buses.
7. Authorized the state attorney general to represent the San Rafael High School District in a suit seeking to recover from the Brunswick Corp. alleged overcharges for bleachers. Several school districts are involved in the suit, which dates back to purchases in 1960, Corona reported. Terra Linda High School bleachers are among those on which recovery is sought.
8. Accepted the following gifts: From West End School Parent-Teachers Assn., library books totaling $135; from Short School P-TA, a refrigerator for the school; from Mrs. J. O'Keefe, a projection screen for Short School; from Gallinas P-TA, seven folk dance records.
9. Authorized a call for bids for demolishing the portion of the E Street School building acquired by the city for extension of Third Street, and building a new wall where the building is cut. Date for bid opening was left to Superintendent Corona, who said he would try to have it between July 15 and 20, when the board must meet to approve the publication budget. That will be the only July meeting.
10. Authorized application for a tax anticipation loan from the county to provide funds for the elementary school district until taxes begin to come in. Condrotte said the amount that would need to be borrowed was not yet known.
11. Approved hiring the following teachers for next school year: Anthony G. Caetano, intermediate grades; Gerald J. Hauble, fifth grade; Mrs. Olivette Kimsey, high school girls' physical education; George K. Koche, high school physical education; Judy Martin, primary grades; Mrs. Olga E. Martinez, high school Spanish; Mrs. Joan K. Meiners, primary grades; Mrs. Gail A. Pepper, primary grades; Margaret A. Prichard, intermediate grades; Patricia R. Raiser, intermediate grades; Valerie A. Scatena, intermediate grades.
12. Appointed Marion Falkenbury, first grade teacher, as vice principal of Hartzell School for next school year.
13. Appointed Neil MacPhail, sixth grade teacher, as teacher-in-charge at Glenwood School.
14. Promoted Mrs. Maureen Pederson to chairman of the girls' physical education department at San Rafael High.
15. Appointed Richard Brellenthin as carpenter at E Street School, Earl Carey as custodian in the elementary district, and Mrs. Grace Lary as secretary to the business manager.
16. Accepted resignation of Carl Ball as San Rafael High School custodian.

Gallinas Creek Flood Control Hearing Tonight

A special open hearing on flood control for the Gallinas Creek watershed will be held tonight, called by the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

County engineers have been working on a proposal to form a flood control zone which would include the entire watershed, allowing a special tax to be levied for various projects within the area as needed.

However, the Civic Center Improvement Club has also been considering a proposal to have the sanitary district assume the flood control work. Therefore, the district has asked area residents to appear at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center to make their opinions known.

Under the plan for the sanitary district, assessment districts would be used in specific areas to construct flood control projects, and the present district tax would be used to maintain the ditches and pipes.

The cigarette lighter, points out the National Automobile Club, is one of the largest consumers of electricity among the electrical items on the car.

New Leather Apparel Shop Slated: Garage Opens Branch In Larkspur

A new leather apparel and imports establishment is scheduled to open July 1 at 536 Third Street, San Rafael, across the street from the United Market. This is an operation of Rose Bown, formerly of Carmel. The store will carry her name.

Leather coats, jackets, handbags and other accessories, as well as knits and jerseys will be handled. Specially featured will be kid skins and suedes imported from New Zealand.

Until a few months ago, Mrs. Brown had been in the same type of business in Carmel for 17 years. She was, she says, the first one in the United States to put on an air-borne fashion show. This was in 1947 on an airliner flying from Monterey to Hawaii.

The store will be open Mondays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and probably during evening hours Fridays.

OWNERS E. O. Sarneski and A. Woltering of A and E Garage, San Rafael, have opened another repair shop in Larkspur at 444 Magnolia Avenue. It will be known as Larkspur Automotives. Sarneski will be in charge. Woltering will continue at the San Rafael shop.

PARTNERS Bill Davis and Frank May, who formerly had their dog-grooming service at the Tamalpais Pet Shop, have opened a more spacious salon at 17 Madrona Avenue, Mill Valley, known as Blue Mist Groomers.

THE MARIN STABLES on Woodlawn Avenue, Fairfax, have been taken over by Max Friedman, owner of Town and Country Club of Marin and the Fair-Anselm Shopping Center. Friedman has had the buildings remodeled and they will be used as boarding stables.

HARRY A. MATHEWS of Tiburon, assistant cashier at the Bank of California, has been transferred frorm the credit department in the San Francisco office to Oakland, where he will serve as commercial loan officer.

WILTON C. KUFFEL of San Rafael has been advanced to director of research in the San Francisco office of Foote, Cone and Belding. Before coming to San Francisco three years ago as manager of research, Kuffel was with the research department of the Chicago office.

A BRANCH real estate office of Gordon Walker and Associates has been opened at 943 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, under the management of George E. Fossey. Walker, headquartered in Ignacio, is known for his work as project manager in the Marin Golf and Country Club Estates development, Loma Verde and Holiday Hills. The Kentfield office will conduct a general real estate business.

Fossey has spent several years in real estate and construction, and was former owner of the California Trout Farm in Inverness. His present office was previously Kay's of Kentfield, operated by his wife.

TUESDAY MORNING breakfast meetings of the Marin County Real Estate Board at Dominic's will be suspended for the summer until September.

INSURANCE. Jack E. Maynard of Novato, Robert W. Shine of Mill Valley and Wilfred E. Shuit of Stinson Beach are attending a sales conference of Paul Revere Life Insurance Co. this week in Chicago . . . Steen Schellenberg of San Anselmo is attending the Million Dollar Round Table meeting in Florida tomorrow through next Tuesday.

PT&T Names Southern Marin Head

Peter W. Tibbetts of Oakland has been named Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. manager in Southern Marin, to succeed C. F. Berlenbach Jr., who has held the position since 1959.

Tibbetts, a native of Berkeley, has been with the company since 1956 and is now a manager in the Berkeley office. He is a member of the Emeryville Industries Assn. and lives with his wife, Jo Ann, and four children in Oakland.

Berlenbach will go to work with the company's general commercial department in San Francisco when the change is effective July 1.

He has been active in Mill Valley Rotary Club, as a director of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, and as chairman and director of the Marin County Heart Assn. Berlenbach and his wife, Lola, and two children live at 159 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax.

During the four year period Berlenbach has served in Southern Marin the number of telephones in this area has grown from about 17,300 to 23,500, according to J. D. LaNoue, district manager. The area includes Mill Valley, Belvedere, Bolinas, Sausalito, Stinson Beach, and Tiburon

The acquisition will be made on the basis of one share of Colt Industries for each three Wilson shares outstanding, Strichman said.

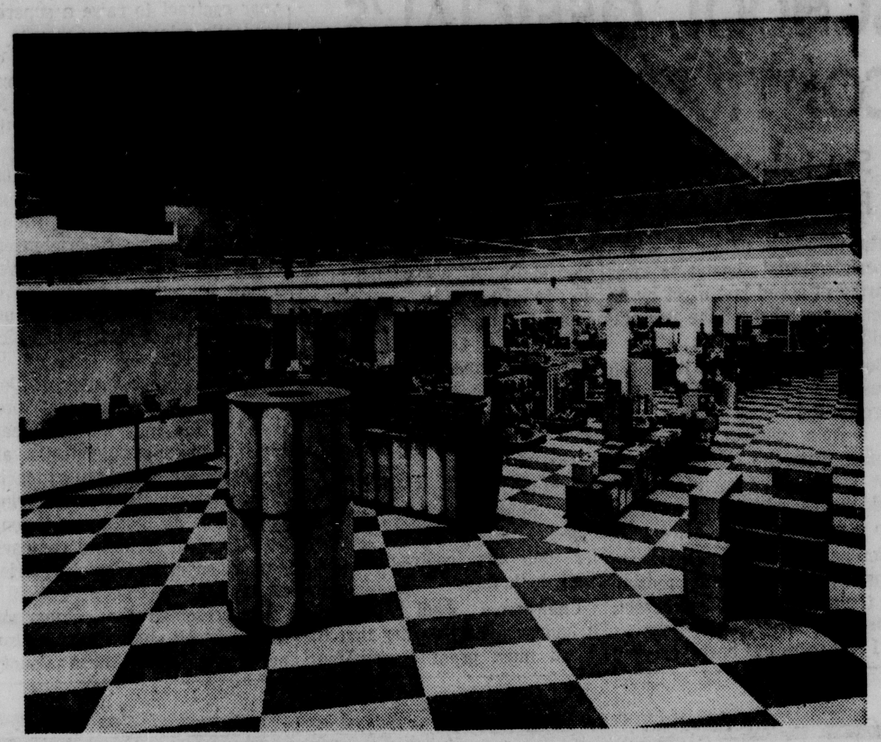
SAN FRANCISCO—Trans World Airlines will expand its service between the United States and North Africa next Tuesday with the only direct through jet service to Tripoli, capital of Libya, and Tunis.



SPACE FOR ENTIRE INVENTORY —The new building recently completed for L. C. Smith Building Supplies, Inc., at 124 Belvedere Street, San Rafael has been laid out to appeal to the do-it-yourself worker as well as to the contractor. The lower floor, shown here, covers approximately 9,000 square feet, devoted almost entirely to retail space.

L. C. Smith Had A Humble Start—Now Business Is Big

New San Rafael Store Celebrating Grand Opening

L. C. Smith, who is celebrating a grand opening in his new building at 124 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, this week and next week, had a humble beginning in Marin business 29 years ago.

"All I had then was a 10-by-12-foot room off the Pingree real estate office in Corte Madera," he said. "I did all the work myself—and the business consisted entirely of selling and laying linoleum."

Although L. C. Smith Building Supplies, Inc., now has 100 times as much retail and working space, employs a staff of 40, and carries one of the largest stocks of builders hardware and supplies, floor coverings and other related equipment in the county, Smith still enjoys doing an occasional job of linoleum laying. He gave up working regularly at it three years ago in order to supervise his business more closely.

Smith was born and reared in San Francisco. Before moving to Marin in 1935 he worked for Conklin Brothers, a floor covering dealer. After operating about a year in Corte Madera, he moved to San Rafael and expanded his business to include selling and fitting venetian blinds.

Here he remained until World join the Navy. Upon his discharge from active service in 1945 he reopened in Larkspur, moving successively to Kentfield, San Anselmo, and back to San Rafael in 1955 at 427 Irwin Street, where he remained until recently.

Smith's new building on Belvedere Street gives him the opportunity to do something his previous stores did not permit—consolidate all his stocks of building supplies, tools, floor coverings, carpeting, aluminum doors and sash, plywood, unpainted furniture, reinforcing steel and "built-in" stove equipment in a single location. He has 12,000 square feet of floor space on two floors and parking space for 65 cars.

While the business has been slanted toward contractors in Marin and San Francisco and employs five outside salesmen, attention also is being given to materials for the do-it-yourself worker and weekend putterer.

Some Consolidation Seen Before Mart Reaches High

NEW YORK, (UPI) — Reynolds and Co. says the stock market ascent "has been so sharp in recent days that some sort of consolidation period in the immediate future prior to an all-out assault on the highs is a logical expectation."

But Reynolds asserts that the possibility of such a hesitation "in no way modifies our opinion that the primary uptrend will ultimately prevail, most likely in the form of a much heralded 'summer rally.' "

Bache and Co. says the recent lull in the market "has strengthened its underpinnings (and) speculative activity continues to remain at a relatively low level." Bache adds that "based on these factors, we continue to look for new highs in the months ahead and would continue to make commitments on any dips."

Ralph A. Rotnem of Harris, Upham and Co. says that "in election years the market generally does better after the decision as to candidates has been made."

Mattress Firm Plans New Plant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A new plant will be built by the Simmons Mattress Co. in San Leandro and its present plant site will be made into a residential and commercial development, it has been announced.

Gerson Bakar and Associates, a real estate developing firm, said it will build a 400,000 square foot, one-story plant on a 20-acre site in San Leandro.

Bakar will take over the existing Simmons plant early next year and convert the series of buildings scattered over three blocks near Bay and Powell streets into "a project of charm and beauty."

Eichler Plans Big Complex

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Eichler Homes, Inc., San Francisco, has announced it will construct an 11-million-dollar, 573-unit apartment complex at Geneva Terrace in San Francisco.

Joseph L. Eichler, president, said the project will consist of two 18-story towers on a landscaped plaza covering a square block off Sunnydale Avenue in Visitacion Valley.

The towers will consist of two- and three-bedroom units and will rent from $137.50 to $158 per month.

Ampex Introduces Two New Home Stereo Units

REDWOOD CITY—Ampex Corp. today introduced two broad new lines of advanced home stereo units in the medium price range.

The two new lines each consist of three recorders plus speakers and microphones starting at $350.

Crossing Guard Status

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Volunteer school crossing guards, even though unpaid, are civil service employees, Attorney General Stanley Mosk ruled today. The state is liable for 'tortious acts' or omissions of such uncompensated guards, and it's a question whether they are eligible for workmen's compensation.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Scribe Makes Study Of Al Dark, Giants Manager With Many Roles

CONNOLLY

It's about time somebody paid tribute to the manager of the S.F. Giants, an unassuming fellow who acts as field general, bench manager, infallible opponent of percentage baseball, and in other capacities. How he finds time to do all the things he does is a real mystery. He is regularly on the radio, on TV, attends luncheons, goes to church and prays for guidance. When the "ghost walks" for Alvin he gets it in bunches. One from baseball; one from radio, and one from TV. When he grows a beard, he'll get one from Gillette.

FOR ONE thing, Alvin Dark's devotion to the baseball racket is unsurpassed. He really takes the sport to his heart. He also discovered that the game had been played backwards for many years. He even has found time to prove you CAN put the winning run on first base and still win the ball game. He switches lefthanded pitchers with reckless abandon, especially when he learns they are going to pitch against lefthanded hitters.

And likewise he has found a way to use his best lefthand pinch hitter against the enemy southpaw pitcher, like he did with Willie McCovey against Joe Nuxall. Both the American and National Leagues are cluttered with good managers but none of 'em rate with Alvin Dark. He's in a class by himself.

You may recall that Mr. Willie Mays recently was appointed field captain for the Giants. An abler man couldn't be found.

WELL, ALL this merely is intended to show that Alvin Dark is a man of many capacities. In other words, Mr. Dark relishes anyone who will give an honest appraisal of his trusteeship as boss of the Giants. And I am about to do that very thing. I find that Alvin is a most astute member of the Professional Baseball Managers Assn. And as such is not above being criticized. For that reason I'd like to point out some of the glaring faults that mark his guardianship of the Giants, as follows:

I find Alvin stubborn beyond redemption.

I discover him inconsistent in his remarks. He says one thing, then repudiates it, making it completely opposite.

Alvin Dark plays favorites—he's strong in his likes and dislikes.

HE BELIEVES in an eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth theory. He proves that in his treatment of beanball rows. If you hit his players, he hits yours, regardless.

Alvin's handling of pitchers, in case you've been watching, is completely atrocious. Even his coaches can't figure him out. Any coach who works for Alvin is as sure of his job as a coal heaver on a waxed floor.

And why?

It's all a mystery to baseball observers, even some of Alvin's best friends admit they can't follow him.

THERE ARE two schools of thought on Alvin's managerial theories. One is he isn't manager, only by remote control. The other is that he takes the "fall" for owner Horace Stoneham, who they claim, has never quite relinquished his reign over his ball club.

If you accept the first item, you must go along with the other item.

So when you size up Alvin as a manager, you take his ball club as something from his brain. And it doesn't make sense.

1—Alvin has a dumb ball club. He isn't dumb. He's rather a cutie.

2—He teaches baseball backwards, a debatable item.

3—He has little if any patience with mediocrity and especially is this true of rookies.

4—Alvin was only a fair ball player in an era of baseball that was marked with a majority of "des and dem" performers.

5—Alvin strictly is a baseball reformer, a tradition smasher, who would make bygone managers look like idiots.

6—But Alvin has owner Horace Stoneham on the hip. If the Giants should win in 1964 how could Alvin be dumped?

But I refuse to worry whether Alvin Dark manages the S.F. club the way owner Horace Stoneham wants it. All I can say is that when Horace feels Dark isn't cutting the mustard, he will slip him the same kind of pill he gave Bill Rigney and the guy who will administer the sleeping potion will be Charles "Chub" Feeney, loving and loveable, vice president of the Giants.

Karen Susman Is Victor At Wimbledon

BULLETIN

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Defending champion Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., got the scare of his life in a second-round match of the Wimbledon tennis tournament today before he finally subdued Tomas Koch, a young Brazilian, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Karen Hantze Susman of San Antonio, Tex., the 1962 chempion, rallied from the edge of defeat today and gained the third round of the Wimbledon tennis tournament by beating Anna Dmitrieva of the Soviet Union 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Mrs. Susman lost the first set and was behind 1-2 with the Russian girl's service coming up when rain interrupted play yesterday.

Refreshed and her confidence restored, the American girl snapped back under a bright sun today. She won five of the next six games to take the second set and then outbattled Miss Dmitrieva in the hard-fought third, which saw the Russian rally after being down 0-4.

Another American advanced when Eugene Scott of St. James N.Y., a member of the 1963 U.S. Davis Cup team, downed Patricio Rodriguez of Chile 7-5, 16-14, 6-4 in another held-over first round match.

Linda Lou Crosby of Arcadia, Calif., lost to Mrs. Ann Hayden Jones of Britain 6-0, 6-0.

Down 0-4 in the final set, the Russian took three of the next four games, making it 3-5.

In the ninth game, Mrs. Susman had a 40-0 lead and three match points. Each time the Russian saved the point.

Finally Miss Dmitrieva broke, making the score 4-5, then served powerfully and evened it at 5-5.

Mrs. Susman, showing great fighting qualities, broke through in the 12th game at love and then held service for the match, climaxing with a deft backhand placement down the line.

Rafael Osuna of Mexico, seeded fourth in the men's singles, toyed with Eduardo Zuleta of Ecuador and moved into the third round with a 6-2, 6-1, 6-3 victory.

Giants Finally Lose Extra-Inning Game

Ron Herbel Pitches For S.F. Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP) — It took more than a third of the season, but the San Francisco Giants have finally lost an extra-inning game.

Marty Keough's lead-off homer in the 11th inning last night dealt the Giants their first loss in eight extra-inning contests this season. In losing 5-4 after beating the Reds 4-0 in the first game of a doubleheader, the Giants cost themselves a chance to cut the Philadelphia Phillies' lead in the National League to a half game.

San Francisco will attempt to avenge the second-game loss, only their third in 11 meetings with Cincinnati this season, when they send rookie Ron Herbel, 4-3 against the Reds and left-hander Jim O'Toole, 6-3, tonight at Crosley Field.

The game will wind up San Francisco's current road trip. The Giants open an 11-game home stand tomorrow against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Keough's game-winning homer negated an outstanding offensive performance by third baseman Jim Hart.

Hart slugged his seventh homer in the fourth to give the Giants their first run, ignited a two-run seventh-inning uprising with a lead-off double and knotted the score at 4-4 with his eighth homer — also a solo shot — after two out in the eighth.

Gaylord Perry, now 4-3, served up the gopher ball to Keough. Sammy Ellis, who relieved starter Joe Nuxhall to start the 11th inning, picked up his fourth victory in six decisions.

Juan Marichal finally got his ninth victory of the year in the opener after four previous unsuccessful attempts. The shutout was Marichal's third of the year.

The Giants got all their runs in the third inning. With one out, Chuck Hiller singled to left. After Orland Cepeda forced Hiller, Willie McCovey doubled Cepeda to third. Bouth runners scored on Duke Snider's single.

Jose Pagan knocked in the final two runs after a double by Tom Haller and an intentional walk to Hart.

Only one Red reached third against Marichal, although Cincinnati had two baserunners in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings.

The Reds' biggest threat was in the sixth when Tom Harper and Vada Pinson hit back-to-back singles with one away. But Marichal got Gordie Coleman to hit into a double play.

BERMUDA RACE

Stormvogel First Over Finish Line

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—The South African ketch Stormvogel, the scratch boat, crossed the finish line first in the Newport-to-Bermuda yacht race shortly after 9 p.m. today, after taking an agonizing five hours and 12 minutes to cover the last 10 miles.

All the boats were making painfully slow progress in the light puff blowing.

Six other craft were strung out back of Stormvogel as the big ketch crossed the line. Among them was Bolero, a 73-foot yawl which set a record in this race eight years ago.

The others were Petrel, Cotton Blossom, Ondine, Royono and Nina.

The race is decided on a handicap basis, and Stormvogel's slow trip indicated that one of the smaller craft behind probably would win the race.

The dying wind near the finish line at St. David's Head changed the complexion of the race yesterday. Stormvogel, a 72-foot ketch, and the Bolero, under charter to Tim Moseley of San Carlos, Calif., were sighted 56 miles off Bermude, but making little headway in the three-knot breeze.

In contrast, Burgoo, owned by Milton Ernst and with the largest handicap in the fleet — 31 hours, two minutes — was sighted 150 miles from Bermuda and less than 100 miles behind the two leaders. In addition, she was moving much faster.

A plane, which spotted the leaders Tuesday, reported that the U.S. Coast Guard Academy's Petrel was third, six miles back of the two leaders.

Grouped close together, approximately 70 miles from Bermuda were Decoursey Fales' Nina, a schooner; G. F. Johnson's Challenge, a sloop; W. Wheeler Jr's Cotton Blossom IV, a yawl; the U.S. Naval Academy's Royono a yawl; Arthur J. Santry Jr's Temptation, a yawl; the U.S. Naval Acedemy's Highland Light, a cutter, and R. Stiegler's Enchanta, a yawl.

George Moffett's Guinevere II, J. Shepphard Poor's Cepheus, Mascrae Sykes' Dixie II, James Wickersham Jr.'s Loki, W. Dorwin Teague's Souffle, Thomas R. Young's Shearwater and C. Byrar's Doublecon all were reported in an area 110 to 125 miles out.

Offense Is A Problem For All-Americans

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The East and West teams in Saturday's All-America football game each have a problem that can be summed up in one word: Offense.

The East's pass-receivers have not been able to hang on to the low, bullet passes of Miami's George Mira.

The West, armed with new plays, appeared to be slow in making them work.

Despite those problems, 57 of 60 of the nation's top collegiate players of 1963 chosen to perform in the fourth-annual game gave their all yesterday in 1-hour, 45-minute workouts under a broiling sun that sent the temperature soaring to 92 degrees.

Coach Pete Elliott of Illinois decided to work on the East's aerial game. He had Mira rolling out for passes to the sidelines. Mira, named as the tentative starting quarterback for the East, created a problem for his receivers with his low, fast tosses.

Cornell's Gary Wood, a dangerous runner, hurled a much softer pass that was gathered in more often.

Meanwhile, the East's third quaterback, Boston College's Jack Concannon, sat out the practice with a pulled left hamstring muscle. He is a doubtful starter.

On another of the University of Buffalo's fields, where the West drilled, Coach Bob Devaney of Nebraska passed out new plays and then perspired as his players sought to carry out their assignments. They finally began to click, but not until near the end of the workout.

The game, expected to attract a crowd of 25,000 to War Memorial Stadium, will be televised nationally starting at 8:30 p.m., EST by ABC.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Phils Win Nightcap On Culp's 1-Hitter

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ray Culp has pitched his way back into the Philadelphia Phillies' starting rotation. All it took was a near replica of teammate Jim Bunning's perfect game.

A first inning base on balls and Len Gabrielson's sixth inning single came between Culp and perfection, attained two days earlier by Bunning, as the 22-year-old right-hander blanked Chicago 9-0 in the second game of a doubleheader last night.

No other Cub reached base against Culp, whose early season troubles cost him a frontline job on Gene Mauch's leading pitching staff.

Mauch, thoroughly impressed after Culp's effort, announced that the National League-leading Phils will go with five starters henceforth.

"With Bunning, (Dennis) Bennett, (Art) Mahaffey and (Chris) Short working so well," the manager said, "we just haven't been able to give Ray enough work. The doubleheaders enabled us to use him more. Now he's pitching like he did last year."

Culp, a $100,000 bonus baby five years ago, won 14 games in 1963, his rookie season, and led Philadelphia pitchers with 176 strikeouts. He reported with a sore arm this spring, dropped five of six decisions and found himself in the bullpen.

But three victories — including the one-hitter—and two complete games in his last three appearances have vaulted the young Texan back into the Phils' pennant plan.

The second game victory gave the Phils a split of the twi-nighter. Chicago took the opener 2-0 on Dick Ellsworth's five-hitter.

Second place San Francisco divided with Cincinnati, winning 4-0 before bowing 5-4 in 11 innings. Pittsburgh defeated New York 5-1; Milwaukee beat Los Angeles 5-2 and St. Louis nipped Houston 5-4.

In the American League, Baltimore edged New York 9-8; Chicago blanked Boston 2-0; Los Angeles downed Washington by the same score; Minnesota beat Cleveland 6-2 and Kansas City split with Detroit, winning the opener 2-1 and losing the nightcap 9-3.

Culp said after the game he relied mainly on his fastball against the Cub hitters.

"I had arm trouble late last year and early this season because I threw too much breaking stuff," he recalled.

He said Gabrielson's hit, a golfed shot off a low fast ball, surprised him. "I jammed him down and in, and he sliced it to right."

Culp wasn't ecstatic about his performance. "We're on top and I'm not a winning pitcher. If I was 10-5 with this club I'd have something to be happy about."

Phillie hitters were beaming after their 17-hit supporting role in the second game victory. Wes Covington homered, Richie Allen cracked three doubles and John Hernstein had four hits, including a pair of doubles.

The opener was another story. Ellsworth breezed to his ninth victory in 15 decisions. Ernie Banks singled home one run and rookie Billy Ott doubled in the other.

Dick Schofield drove in four runs, three on a homer, and Vern Law pitched his fourth straight victory as the Pirates handed the Mets their 11th loss in 12 games.

Milwaukee snapped a seven-game losing string, rallying for three runs in the seventh on doubles by Hank Aaron and Felipe Alou and singles by Lee Maye and Joe Torre, to overtake the Dodgers. Frank Howard hit his 16th homer for Los Angeles and Ed Mathews his sixth for the Braves.

Rusty Staub's second error of the seventh inning allowed Tim McCarver to score St. Louis' winning run after John Bateman's homer had lifted the Colt into a 4-4 tie in the top of the inning.

Cleveland Open Golf Will Start Tomorrow

CLEVELAND (AP) — The big money golf tourists are beginning to bunch up, but youthful Jack Nicklaus is taking steps to stay on top.

The 24-year-old Columbus star who paces the pack with $51,426 despite picking up only $400 in last week's National Open, has an eye on the $20,000 top prize in the $110,000 Cleveland Open, which starts its four-day 72-hole medal-play grind tomorrow.

While runner-up Arnold Palmer ($49,651) and fourth-place Tony Lema ($40,561) passed up practice rounds yesterday over the 6,821-yard, par-71 municipal layout — Nicklaus measured every inch of it.

Instead of cooking up a skin game with some of the other competitors, Nicklaus went out alone with only his caddy tagging along. He kept no score, but he had a score card full of notes when he came in.

Also missing the practice jaunt were Ken Venturi, last week's surprise winner of the National Open, and classy Dow Finsterwald. The temperature was in the 90s, and tornado warnings were flying to discourage much of the talented field of 149 professionals and 10 amateurs.

Fifty of the pros had a picnic today as each teamed with three amateurs in a best-ball handicap round with $10,000 going to the play-for-pay group. The professionals paid no entry fee, but each of the 150 amateurs tossed $200 into the pot.

The $200 gave each amateur, in addition to the 18-hole jaunt with a top-ranked pro, six tickets and a parking sticker for the remainder of the tournament.

The professional shooting today's best round was due for a $1,000 prize and the pro in the leading foursome had an $800 payoff on tap. So one of them could possibly pick up $1,800.

World-Wide TV Expected For Olympic Games

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Joseph E. Karth (D-Minn.), said yesterday it now appears likely that this year's Olympic Games in Japan will be carried world-wide on live television through use of Syncom, the high-altitude communication satellite.

The State Department and private enterprise, Karth said, have worked out all but a relatively few details to permit the carrying of the games in October.

Karth is chairman of a House science and astronautics subcommittee dealing with space science and advanced research and technology.

"The cost to the United States government will be virtually nothing," Karth said. "The Japanese, the Canadians, the British and the National Broadcasting Co. have agreed to share the financial burden."

Preview Of Olympics In San Rafael

Roxanne Andersen, women's track and field chairman of the Pacific Assn. of the Amateur Athletic Union, and Hal Fischer, athletic director at the Presidio of San Francisco, will be guest speakers at "Olympic Preview Night" at the YMCA building in San Rafael.

The affair, open to the public free of charge, will be held tomorrow from 7:30 to 9 p.m. A movie, entitled, "Hold High the Torch," will be shown, to be followed by the guest speakers and a question and answer session.

The purpose of the movie and talks, according to Dale Greenlee of the YMCA, is to "stimulate interest and desire of youths to participate in athletic endeavors and help youngsters get a bigger picture of national and world-wide athletic competition."

The 30-minute film will highlight performances of past Olympic Games.

Mrs. Andersen, Canadian born, won points for Canada in the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin in the hurdles. She is now coaching the Laurel Track Club in San Francisco, an all-girl team.

Fischer was the 1951 Pan American Games basketball coach and is an alternate coach for this year's U.S. team that will compete in the Tokyo Olympics.

The Marin YMCA is located at 1809 Irwin Street in San Rafael.

Tennis And Sailing At Belvedere

Some 300 entries are expected in this year's Belvedere Tennis Club junior tournament July 13-17 which combines tennis matches with sailing.

This seond annual tournament will continue the tradition begun last year when competitors went for short sails on the Belvedere Lagoon when not playing a match, reported Charles E. Auerbach, club organizer of the tournament.

Players aged 10 through 18 from California, Nevada and Arizona will compete for trophies in singles, doubles and mixed doubles competition at the club on Tiburon Highway.

Competitors from outside the area will be housed in the homes of tennis club members, Mrs. Donald Furlong, publicity chairman from the event, explained. In addition to competition, members have planned a dance at the club on July 14 and a barbecue on the following night. Players also will have the use of the club's newly-opened swimming pool.

Both novice and experienced players may enter the various sections of the tournament. Entry blanks may be obtained by requesting them of the club pro, Paul Wilkins, Box 515, Belvedere.

Lightning Hits Dodgers' Plane

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Lightning struck the Los Angeles Dodgers' private plane en route from Cincinnati Sunday night, splitting the protective nosecone but causing no serious damage.

While the four-engine Electra II was flying over Lake Michigan in a thunderstorm, a blinding white flash seemed to ignite and light up the entire plane.

The landing was made without incident, and Capt. Bump Holman said the plane would be repaired in time to fly the Dodgers to San Francisco tonight.

Out-Of-Town Judges Asked To Help In Sit-In Cases

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The arrests earlier this year of more than 500 sit-in demonstrators, protesting minority hiring practices at hotels and automobile showrooms, has so snarled the municipal courts that out-of-town judges are being called in.

Chief Justice Phil Gibson of the State Supreme Court said yesterday that Municipal Judge David French of Santa Ana will sit for some of the cases from June 29 to July 17.

Municipal Judge David W. Calfee, of Richmond, will sit from July 13 to Aug. 14.

Inability of several judges to agree has further complicated the situation. Tuesday after deliberating 17½ hours, a jury was dismissed in the trial of 13 defendants, including Dr. Thomas Burbridge, president of the San Francisco chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Three of the 13 then pleaded no contest, were fined $25 and placed on three months' probation.

The other 10, including Dr. Burbridge, are to be tried again on charges they illegally trespassed at an automobile show room.

Boy Treated— Bike, Truck Hit

Richard Ralph Loudin, 8, of 1007 Simmons Lane, Novato, found out Monday afternoon that mail trucks are much stronger than bicycles.

Richard, son of Mrs. Evelyn Loudin, same address, rode his bicycle down the driveway of his home and ran into the right rear portion of a mail truck driven by Virgil Odell Westlund, 36, of 216 Pico Vista, Novato, who was southbound on Simmons Lane at 4.45 p.m., according to police.

He was treated for facial bruises at Novato General Hospital.

Striped bass were introduced to California in 1879.

Artists' Workshop

Stephen Pope Dimitroff and his wife, Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff, Mill Valley artists, are giving a workshop class in fresco painting at Redlands University, Redlands, lasting until July 3. Mrs. Dimitroff plans to fly to Marin on that date to do her customary sketching at the Marin Art and Garden Fair.

A Texas Wedding For Gerald Gunn

Gerald Mackelan Gunn of Sausalito claimed Carole Ann Helppie of El Paso, Tex., as his bride Thursday evening at the First Presbyterian Church in El Paso, Tex.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Andrew Helppie of El Paso. Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Gunn of Sausalito, who attended the ceremony.

The nuptials were performed at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Stewart Coffman.

When the bride was given in marriage by her father, she was wearing a formal gown of candlelight peau de soie with reembroidered alencon lace and chapel train.

Her attendants were dressed identically in formal gowns of blue organza over taffeta with miniature chapel trains. They were Christianne Carver of Newport Beach, maid of honor; and Linda Rockwell of Lafayette; Marsha Thomas of El Paso and Mrs. Thomas Donnell of Lubbock, Tex., bridesmaids.

Gerald's brother, Bruce Gunn of Sausalito, served him as best man. Ushers were Dick Rockwell of Lafayette, Richard Losh of Albuquerque, and Michael Sandry of El Paso.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the El Paso Club. On their return from a honeymoon in Carmel, the young couple will live in Mill Valley.

The new Mrs. Gunn was graduated from Scripps College in Claremont, where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Gerald was graduated from Tamalpais High School and Claremont Men's College. He is employed by the Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco.

Peter English of Anchorage, Alaska, and Frank M. English of Mill Valley are his brothers.

Young Actors May Tryout For Summer Performance

North Marin Unit of Junior Theatre will hold tryouts for youngsters within the area for its annual summer production. Tryouts will be held Friday at 1 p.m., at the Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda.

Rehearsals will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons, culminating in two performances of "The Wickedest Witch" on July 31 and Aug. 1. Mrs. L. S. Gaustad of Lucas Valley will direct the production.

Children wishing to participate in this year's workshop must be presently enrolled in grades three to eight. They must attend tryouts Friday, accompanied by a parent.

Mrs. John A. Miskimen, president, said the unit is trying something new this year by holding rehearsals in the afternoons, rather than mornings, to avoid conflict with summer school and morning activities.

ROSS VALLEY PLAYERS WILL HAVE 'ARVEY AWARDS' FETE

A climax to the Ross Valley Players' 34th year will be the fourth annual "Arvey Awards" dinner dance on Saturday at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Suspense over winners' identities is known only to awards chairman Sydney Dorn. For the first time in the history of the awards, recipients were selected from the casts of four major plays instead of the usual three.

Arvey Awards, bronze piglets on a mahogany base, will go to five actors and one person concerned with production. In addition, the Larry Lovett Award, will honor the player considered by the board of directors to have been the year's most valuable non-acting member.

Looking Up To Your Teen-Ager?

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you find you have to stand on tiptoe to look your teen-agers in the eyes, relax about the fact. Most parents do.

Statistical proof that the younger generations are running taller than their parents comes from a company which fits hundreds of thousands of high school and college seniors in caps and gowns each year.

THE FIRM said that 20 years ago, the averag girl was five feet, four inches tall, and six feet was considered tall for a boy.

Whenever the company received a measurement card showing a girl's height of five feet eight inches or more, or a boy's card showing more than six feet three inches, it checked the school to make sure no mistake had been made.

Now the company has checked current orders to find out just how much high school and college graduates have grown in a generation.

It is not unusual, says the company's president, to find requests for girls six feet tall and for boys up to seven feet.

IT FOUND in the graduating class of one junior college that more than half of the 80 male students were over six feet tall; more than a quarter of the 45 women students were over five feet seven.

A high school class in Missouri reported 17 of its 23 girl graduates were more than five feet seven inches tall and 11 of 20 boys were above six feet. Three of the boys were six feet six inches.

Head sizes however have changed little. Mortarboard measurements are about the same as they were a generation ago.

ALTHOUGH STATISTICS show Americans are getting bigger, the anthropologists don't always agree why. The company's employe publication quoted Dr. T. D. Stewart of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, as saying, "vitamins are just poured into children these days. Everything including all those enriched foods is pushing them up and up."

But Dr. Harry L. Shapiro of the American Museum of Natural History, New York, told the publication that "exogamy" is a factor in making Americans taller. This is the "tendency to marry outside of one's local group." Exogamy helps to produce extra vigor in offspring, he explained.

Twin Cities School Names Mrs. Byers New Director

After an absence of 12 years Libby Byers will return to the Larkspur-Corte Madera Cooperative nursery school this fall in a new capacity as director. Twelve years ago Mrs. Byers was one of the cooperating mothers with a youngster enrolled.

The school, organized as a parent education group, is under the auspices of the College of Marin.

A 13 year county resident and the mother of five children, Mrs. Byers has been director of the Marin Jewish Community nursery school for the past four years. She began teaching full-time seven years ago.

"Before that I substituted when I could, while attending to our family of five children," Mrs. Byers said. "I first became interested in cooperative nursery schools when my now 19 year old was enrolled in one in San Francisco." Four of Mrs. Byers' children have been in cooperative nursery schools so she is well versed in the cooperative parent role.

THE TOM JONES INFLUENCE

The Tom Jones look in new clothes is shown in the ruffled cuffs of this print blouse worn with a cotton suede jumper. The skimmer shape jumper with A-line skirt has a deep V-neckline to show off the blouse's ascot tie. Designer Bobbie Brooks finds cotton suede adaptable to many garments.

Toastmistress Club Planning Installation

At ceremonies to be held Thursday night at Sabella's in Mill Valley, the Marin Toastmistress Club will install Miss Marilyn Boeher of Corte Madera as its new president.

Installed with her will be Elsie Rodriguez and Vera Haven as vice presidents; Mrs. John Konopacke and Mrs. Theodore Rist as secretaries and Mrs. Joseph Hagel as treasurer.

The installing officer will be Mrs. S. A. Hendrix of San Anselmo. Mistress of ceremonies will be Mrs. Don Devin of San Rafael.

Mabelle Culpepper of Larkspur is dinner reservations chairman.

Stewardesses Plan Luncheon

Bay Area members of the Clipped Wings, former United Air Lines stewardesses, will hold their last luncheon of the season at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito Saturday at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Charles Spongberg of San Rafael was recently named chairman of the Marin chapter of the Clipped Wings. Other new chairmen are Mrs. Richard McLean, San Rafael, membership; Mrs. William Gwynne, San Rafael, treasurer and Mrs. Robert Smallman, Kentfield, publicity.

Reservations chairman for Saturday's luncheon is Mrs. McLean.

Garvis Martin Wed In Gilroy Church Ceremony Saturday

Lynda Smith of Gilroy became the bride of Garvis Martin of San Rafael Saturday afternoon at the Methodist Church in Gilroy.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Smith, at whose Gilroy home the wedding reception was held.

The young couple left on a wedding trip to Southern California. They will live in Oceanside, where Garvis is stationed with the Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton.

Joan Linn Is Bride In Rite On Peninsula

On a wedding trip to Hawaii and Tahiti are Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Bekins, who were married Friday in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Laurance L. Cross at the Hillsborough home of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Reed J. Bekins.

The bride, the former Joan Linn, is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Sanders Nider of Colorado Springs and Frank Frederick Linn of Des Moines.

Joan chose a white Calais lace bridal gown with scalloped hemline and jewel neckline for the occasion. She was given in marriage by her father. Her honor attendant, wearing a Florentine blue silk dress, was Marion B. Parker of San Francisco.

Donald B. Stokes of New York was the bridegroom's best man.

A wedding reception was held at the home of Mrs. Bekins. Upon their return from the South Pacific, the young couple will make their home in Belvedere. The bridegroom is associated with E. F. Hutton & Co.

Colette Bruvry Wed In Mill Valley Rite

The Mill Valley Community Church was the setting for the marriage Saturday afternoon of Colette Marie Yvonne Bruvry to Deane Whitney Merrill Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice G. Bruvry of Mill Valley and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Deane W. Merrill of South Orange, N. J.

The Rev. Gordon L. Foster performed the nuptial rites at four o'clock.

Given in marriage by her father, Colette recited her vows wearing a full length gown of beige antique silk linen given her by a great great aunt, which she had made into a gown of the 1890 style.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Ben Young of Mill Valley, and bridesmaids were Karen Carlson of New York, Daphne Strawbridge of Belvedere and Carol North of San Francisco. They were dressed in street length gowns of green shantung in empire style.

The bridegroom's brother, Charles R. Merrill of South Orange, served him as best man, and ushers were another brother, Jonathan A. Merrill and Kendrick A. Clement of Berkeley, and the bride's brother, M. Mark Bruvry.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley, and the newlyweds left afterward for a honeymoon at an undisclosed destination.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, following her graduation from the University of California in anthropology, Colette spent a year traveling in the near east and studying at the American University in Beirut.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Deerfield Academy, was graduated summa cum laude from Williams College and received his M. A. degree from the University of California.

DR. AND MRS. B. L. DIAMOND of Ross have announced the marriage of their daughter, Joan Wolf Diamond to Hans C. Katz of Netanya, Israel. The bride attended Whitman College in Walla Walla, and is the sister of Jan, Judy, Lisa, Larry and Lynn Diamond. The young couple were married in Netanya, where they are now living. The bridegroom is with Zim Steamship Lines there.

Tips Can Ease The Strain Of Auto Trip With Infant

Just because you have a small baby is no reason you can't take a vacation trip in your auto this summer.

With the help of some commonsense precautions and intelligent use of modern conveniences for baby care, little Bobby or Susan can go along on your vacation with no risk to their safety—or to your sanity.

Two of the thorniest problems—feeding and laundry—have been solved by recent research and development.

Lightweight plastic bottles with overcaps are the ideal solution for short trips.

Mothers can make up an entire batch of formula before leaving, and sterilize all at once by the "terminal" method. A small cooler filled with ice will keep the formula safe.

For longer trips, mothers rely on sterile nursery water plus six-ounce cans of evaporated milk or prepared formula base. This eliminates the need for refrigeration, yet guarantees safety—and you can buy as you go.

Disposable diapers and diaper liners are the answer. Each time the baby is changed, place the disposable diaper in a plastic bag and throw it away next time you stop.

Other hints on how to make your trip pleasant and easier are:

Stick to your baby's schedule. Aim at 250 to 300 miles a day and stop driving by 5:00 p.m.

Use a car bed for the infant, and set up a "play or sleep" platform for the older child; make sure either one is fastened securely, and pad all protruding knobs, arm rests, etc.

Some old, familiar toys for security and a couple of new ones for diversion are a must. Toys should be soft and pliable.

Remember that your baby is a true conformist—he wants life on the highway to go on as usual, and needs his regular amount of cuddling and playing.

Whatever you do, don't stay at home on his account — a little careful planning, and baby will enjoy the trip as much as you.

Fund Drive Results Told

Key figures of the recent American Cancer Society drive were entertained at a luncheon at Peacock Gap Country Club by crusade chairman, Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., last week.

In attendance to evaluate the procedure and results of the campaign were Mesdames Ivan Igdaloff, Sausalito; Eugene Thompson, Mill Valley; Fred S. Allen, Ross; William Winter, Kent Woodlands; John Horton, residential chairman; W. B. Read, Terra Linda; John King, Marinwood and David Swanson, Novato.

Also Marin president of the American Cancer Society, John T. Schmitz; president-elect, Dr. William Galeno, board members Howard Simon and Don Anderson and executive director, Miss Nina Brandt.

The group was told that over $34,000 was collected in the April campaign.

Colonel's Wife Is Honored At Farewell Party

Mrs. William Harrell, wife of Colonel Harrell, commander of the 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base, was honored at a "hi and bye" coffee by the Officers' Wives Club yesterday at the Officers Club.

The Harrells' daughter, Cynthia, a 1964 Hamilton debutante, and son Bill Jr., will accompany Colonel and Mrs. Harrell when he assumes his new command of Chicago Air Defense Sector at Truax Air Force Base in Madison, Wis.

Mrs. Harrell has been honorary volunteer chairman of the Red Cross, honorary co-ordinator of family services and honorary adviser to the Officers' Wives Club board.

The Harrells will leave Hamilton in July.

The bride is the daughter of former Marin residents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip W. Schneider, now of Palo Alto. Mr. Schneider was superintendent of schools for the San Jose School District, Novato.

Given in marriage by her father, Barbara recited her vows wearing a full-length gown of white silk organza with applique design.

The bridegroom's sister, Susan Warner, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Sue Hageman and Peggy Lilienthal of San Anselmo. They wore peppermint green silk organza dresses.

Richard Warner of La Jolla served his brother as best man and the ushers were the bride's brothers, Ralph and David Schneider, and Sheridan Downey III and Robert Peters.

A reception followed the wedding on the Stanford campus and the couple left on a wedding trip to LaJolla. They will return to live in Berkeley.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is a senior at Stanford. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Stopper of San Anselmo and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Schneider of Larkspur.

The bridegroom is the son of Superior Court Judge and Mrs. Verne O. Wagner of LaJolla. He was graduated from Stanford University and is in his second year of law at the University of California.

We took this picture in Paris to make a point at home: no newspaper in the world covers Marin County the way we do in the I-J.

We stress the local touch . . . with events that touch you locally. Through the eyes and ears of I-J reporters we become an extension of you and of your right to know. We take you to schools, a PTA meeting, to a thousand events which shape your community—and your ideas—each day.

We race the clock (tomorrow it's a new world!) but mixed with ink is the final impress of responsibility: our job of keeping you alert to local issues, aware of merchandise and values, informed on public affairs.

Scientist Reports Penicillin Confusion

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—To a medical scientist, so many penicillins are now coming out of laboratories he thinks of a vast field of ripening grain.

It's alarming in a way. "In time the wheat will sort itself from the chaff," said such a scientist. But meanwhile "confusion is inevitable."

If the scientist is confused, then what of the non-scientist?

He probably thinks penicillin is penicillin—that this first of the wonder-working antibiotics is as singular as any other. Not so. There now are scores of them and new ones are coming out by the hundreds.

Dr. Harrison F. Flippin, clinical professor of medicine, University of Pennsylvania graduate school of medicine, Philadelphia, explained this astonishing proliferation of penicillins.

First there was the original, the product of the green mold, penicillium notatum. It had a "face," that is a molecule, and so it could be manipulated chemically. The original became several rather than one and the most useful in staying bacterial infections in people proved to be benzyl penicillin G.

The chemists also converted penicillins into their salts and esters, to make them more stable and slow their rate of absorption in body chemistry. Then they discovered the chemical nature of penicillin could be changed by putting various "precursors" into the moldy ferments which produce it.

But what really opened the flood gates was the isolation of the penicillin nucleus which proved to be 6-amino penicillanic acid. By adding new side chains to this nucleus, new penicillins can be made in laboratories in indefinite numbers.

Flippin was giving members of the Pennsylvania Medical Society an expert run-down on all the new ones in the society's technical journal. "So confusion will not be worsened, it is vital that extravagant claims for any new comer are not allowed to pass unchallenged," he said.

For one thing, he said, the component which "sensitizes" some allergic persons and makes them subject to dangerous reactions from penicillin is in the nucleus. Therefore no penicillin should be used in any patient who is "hypersensitive" to any of them.

He divided the newer penicillins into three groups—three which are acid-resistant (they are not destroyed by stomach acids,) those which resist penicillinase, and those which prevent the multiplication of a wider group of sickening bacteria than the original penicillin did.

Penicillinase is the defensive masterpiece of certain kinds of bacteria which once were knocked for a loop by penicillin. It is an enzyme which the bacteria learned to "make" and it renders the original penicillins harmless—but not the new penicillins which "resist" it.

U.S. Anti-Auto Pollution Plans Are Stalled

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—A Senate subcommittee is ready to blow the whistle on government health officials whose anti-auto pollution plans are stalled in neutral.

Congress last year gave the go-ahead for the U. S. Public Health Service to organize an industry-government committee to appraise programs for muzzling the tailpipes of 70 million American vehicles. The service thus far has sat through the green light.

When a Senate air-pollution subcommittee meets this week, chairman Edmund Muskie (D-Me.) for one will pointedly ask: Why? Four major automobile manufacturers, after several invitations, will reluctantly testify also, it is understood.

The makers of various devices to deskunk auto fumes will explain what they think can be done about the problem, which is growing nationally as more vehicles roll onto the streets and highways.

The hearings could shed some light on what the tight-lipped automobile industry is doing itself to de-fume cars and why it is quarreling with California's solution to clean up its smoggy skies.

The action by the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board stems from a law passed in 1959. The automobile industry has been well aware of this. But it greeted the news, according to one report, with "dismay." The industry has been working on its own plan to abate fumes.

Detroit claims it is working toward a 1967 goal for adopting various changes.

Smog-plagued California didn't wait. Instead, it has approved substitutions for conventional mufflers. Three of the devices utilize catalytic chemicals that "burn" the waste compounds chemically.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Without Air Conditioning, Torrid Weather Living Still A Problem

VAN DELLEN

Hot weather is no longer a problem for those with air-conditioned cars, homes, offices, and shopping facilities. The rest of us must contend with the heat and use every trick in the book to remain comfortable. The program revolves around clothing, food, salt, fluids, baths, sleep, and exercise.

EVERYONE KNOWS that too much food, clothing, and exercise make us feel the heat and humidity more. A large meal raises metabolism — it is like adding fuel to a furnace to step up production. Small meals are preferred, especially those containing more fruits and vegetables and less fats. The exception is the hard working man who burns up energy through physical exertion. He needs as much food in summer as in winter. Smaller meals leave him weak, unless he eats frequently.

Fluids must be taken to make up for the loss through sweating. Many beverages also have a cooling effect and fruit juices supply energy. Alcohol increases the sense of warmth. Perspiration contains salt as well as water. The loss is greatest during the first few sizzling days but tapers off as the individual becomes acclimated. Additional salt is easily obtained by sprinkling it on corn on the cob, radishes, and celery.

SWIMMING IS the best summer exercise because it does not overheat the body and the cool water is refreshing. Perspiration and unpleasant odors are diminished by extra baths or showers.

Other forms of exertion should be kept to a minimum, especially during the heat of the day. Confine walking to the shady side of the street and don't hesitate to step into an air conditioned store or lobby when you really feel the heat.

LOOSE FITTING, lightweight clothing allows more air to filter through, and helps perspiration to evaporate. Light colors reflect heat whereas dark absorbs it.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HIGH BLOOD SUGAR

T. H. writes: What are the symptoms of elevated sugar?

REPLY

None, as a rule. It is normal to have an elevated blood sugar following a meal or a sweet drink. The sugar is metabolized and the level usually drops to normal within an hour or two. It remains elevated for longer periods in the diabetic because of a deficiency of insulin.

MUMPS

Mrs. D. writes: Does mumps cause symptoms other than swelling of the jaws?

REPLY

As with other infections, there may be fever, headache, loss of appetite, fatigue, stiff neck, and generalized aching. Lower abdominal pain may occur if the sex organs are involved. And some victims cannot eat pickles.

FATIGUE AND DREAMS

D. L. writes: Does dreaming all night make a person tired the next day?

REPLY

Not unless the dreams keep waking you. Most of us have several dreams at night that last a short or long time and many are forgotten by morning.

Man In News Business All His Life Now Cub Reporter

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — After more than 40 years in the newspaper business, 63-year-old Houston Brown is a cub reporter for the Daily Times of Gainesville.

Brown, who has worked on south Southern and Northern newspapers, is a one-man news bureau for the Times in the picturesque North Georgia county of Habersham.

Brown waited until he "retired" to get into the writing end of the newspaper business. He broke in on the Florence, Ala., Times doing a little of everything except reporting. Soon afterwards he joined the Montgomery Advertiser and became state editor.

His later editorial career was spent in such papers as the Birmingham, Ala., Post-Herald, the Canandaigua, N. Y., Daily Messenger, New York Daily News and the Long Branch, N. J., Daily Record.

But it wasn't until Brown reached his golden years that he finally managed to become a reporter — admittedly his first love. He went to Atlanta, where his son works for a newspaper, with thoughts of retiring. But Daily Times editor Sylvan Meyer heard of Brown and hired him.

Eventually he ended up in the small town of Cornelia in Habersham County as the Times' "news bureau." His portable typewriter livens up his hotel room there and the copy he turns out livens things up in the Daily Times, which is pushing circulation in the neighboring county.

Brown says he had to overcome some resistance to reporting the news in Habersham. Citiy councils in those North Georgia mountains were not used to having a reporter ask about their business, much less sit in the meetings. He was asked to leave on occasions. But slowly he began to be accepted — most of the time they sort of like "being in the paper," he said.

Brown gets around rapidly on his beat. One day he's in the upper end of the county covering court and the next morning he's up at four, taking notes on a fire in another section. He gathers gossip along the way for his column, "Apple Barrel."

Usually by 9 a.m. each day he has checked his spot news sources and reported by phone to the Times.

He finds competition among papers and reporters not as thick as it used to be.

$250,000 FOR WIDOW

Composer's Will Written On Old Music Parchment

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — Composer Louis Gruenberg left his entire estate, valued at $250,000, to his widow in a will written on old music parchment, it was learned today.

Gruenberg, who was 79 when he died June 10 at a local hospital, composed operas, symphonic pieces, and music background scores for which he won Academy Award recognition.

His will, filed for probate today by attorney William Spivak, read: "I, being of sound mind, hereby bequeath to my beloved wife, Irma, my entire resources, financial, real estate and the returns of my writing."

His operas included "The Emperor Jones," "Green Mansions," and "The Enchanted Isle." He wrote music scores for such films as "So Ends Our Night" and "The Command Strikes at Dawn," which earned him awards.

His wife, Irma, and a daughter, Mrs. Joan Cominos, were among survivors.

Marinite Receives Award From ROTC

Robert L. Menist, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart D. Menist of 690 Goodhill Road in Kentfield, received the staff officer award at the spring graduation review of the University of California ROTC.

Menist, who plans to graduate from the university in January, was a lieutenant colonel in the ROTC. His father is a major general in the Army Reserve.

12-Story Plan Due Discussion

Radio Station KTIM will air a discussion of the 12-story retirement center proposed for the south side of Bon Air Hill in Larkspur on the "Marin Sounding Board" program at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Panelists will be Dr. John C. Siemens, head of Valley Investment Co., which proposes to build the center; Mayor Neil Brixon of Larkspur; David Scott, member of the Larkspur Planning Commission, and Arthur E. Storhaug, former Larkspur mayor. Kitty Oppenheimer will be moderator. Listeners may telephone questions for the broadcast tomorrow. The program will be repeated from a tape recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS are a favorite of the barbecue chef and are especially good teamed with corn on the cob and a cole slaw salad. The ribs are given a total of 1 to 1½ hours on the grill, frequently turned and basted with Western Barbecue Sauce.

Spareribs Favorites From Outdoor Grill

With smacking good spareribs, serve cole slaw and buttered corn on the cob, toasted garlic bread, and fresh peach sundae and cookies, or sugar cones with ice cream and iced tea or coffee.

Spareribs are now featured in markets, packaged with basic cooking instructions.

WESTERN BARBECUE SAUCE

1 cup catsup
1 cup water
¼ cup cider vinegar
1 tblsp. Worcestershire
1 small onion, minced
1 small clove garlic, minced
2 tbsps brown sugar
2 tblsps. brown sugar
2 tblsps. molasses
2 tsps dry mustard
1 tsp. chili powder
1 tblsp. liquid smoke

Combine all ingredients in medium saucepan; simmer over low heat 20 minutes.

Allow about one pound spareribs per person, Prepare all surfaces of the meat, one side at a time, as follows:

1. Thoroughly moisten the surface of the meat with water—pat the water on from the faucet with your fingers, use a pastry brush or draw a wet fork across the surface. Sprinkle meat tenderizer evenly, like salt, over the surface, about ½ tsp. per pound.

2 To insure penetration and retain juices, pierce meat deeply with a kitchen fork at approximately ½-inch intervals. Meat is ready for cooking.

3. Coals are ready when gray, shot with a ruddy glow. Place ribs, meaty side down, on grill set 6 inches above coals; barbecue 30 minutes; turn, brush with Western Barbecue Sauce. Continue to cook until crispy brown and well done—a total of 1 to 1½ hours, frequently turning and brushing with sauce. During last 10 minutes, place lemon slices on ribs.

They're Glorified Hamburgers And Good Indoors Or Grilled

1 cup fine cracker crumbs
1 egg
2 tblsps. milk
2 tblsps. grated onion
¼ tsp. garlic salt
⅛ tsp. Tabasco sauce
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
⅛ tsp. oregano
1¼ pounds ground chuck
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper

Roll crackers into fine crumbs between two pieces of waxed paper. Beat egg lightly; stir in milk, onion, garlic salt, Tabasco, Worcestershire and oregano. Add mixture to crumbs; blend well and set aside.

Season ground beef with salt and pepper. Gently pat into eight thin patties about 4 inches in diameter. Place a quarter of the crumb mixture on four patties, spreading almost to the edges. Top with remaining patties and gently pinch edges together.

Broil over open charcoal grill, or under a flame to desired degree of doneness. If desired, patties may be sauteed in skillet with 2 to 3 tablespoons butter or margarine. Yield: 4 patties.

THEY LOOK for all the world like plain old hamburgers, but there's a layer of stuffing inside that gives a special flavor of seasonings.

Home Picnic Easy And Fun Entertaining

A backyard picnic is a simple way to entertain, and it allows the hostess to mingle with her guests and be the gracious lady of the party.

Stuffed lobster tails, and a colorful, cooling fruit medley in a watermelon bowl can be easily prepared in advance.

The family wheelbarrow is used as a cooler which keeps the food chilled on the hottest day. Prepare your wheelbarrow cooler with aluminum foil, dump in ice and set the stuffed lobster tails, fruit and cooling drinks in place.

To prepare stuffed lobster tails, cook, thawed, three to five oz. South African lobster tails four to six minutes in boiling salted water. Remove meat from shells, dice meat and combine with chopped celery, mayonnaise, tabasco, dry mustard and salt to taste. Return to shell. To prevent curling of shell, grasp raw tail in both hands and bend toward shell side to crack slightly.

For the watermelon fruit bowl, use a melon baller or round 1-teaspoon measuring spoon to scoop out watermelon into balls. Combine with sliced all-yellow bananas, fresh strawberries, pineapple wedges, dark grapes, cantaloupe or honeydew balls. Place fruit in watermelon shell; decorate with pineapple leaves or mint.

Cooked Noodles Are Side Dish For Ham

As a side dish with baked ham (hot or cold) serve cooked noodles in this Spanish-inspired sauce. Saute ¼ cup minced onion in 3 tablespoons olive oil until soft; add ½ green pepper, chopped, about ½ cup chopped mushrooms, and 2 tablespoons chopped green olives. Cook 1 or 2 minutes, add 1 cup tomato sauce, simmer 5 minutes. Add salt and pepper to taste. (Makes enough sauce for ½ lb. (8 ounces) egg noodles.) Add the hot cooked noodles to the sauce, toss to blend, serve immediately. Enough for 4 servings as a side dish.

Use chilled bowls to keep sour cream cold while whipping.

Fruit, Cheese Molds Make A Colorful Table

Make colorful "Fruit and Cheese Molds" when company is coming over. These individual salads will be the talk of the table. The fruits include ripe olives, avocado and pineapple, and the cheese is cottage cheese. When serving whole ripe olives on relish trays, roll the fruit lightly in salad or olive oil to make it glisten.

FRUIT AND CHEESE MOLDS

½ cup ripe olives
1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 tbsp. sugar
¼ tsp salt
¾ cup boiling water
¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup drained crushed pineapple
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
1 avocado
Lettuce

Cut olives into large pieces. Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve gelatin, sugar and salt in boiling water. Stir in lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened; fold in pineapple, cottage cheese and olives. Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin.

Sieve avocado or mash with fork and blend with gelatin mixture. Turn into 8 individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce-garnished salad plates.

Makes 8 servings.

Add Wines For Flavor

Two wines, sherry and port, can be used to flavor an elegant strawberry and custard dessert.

The dessert is a delicate custard subtly flavored with sherry and topped with sliced strawberries which have been marinated in a ruby port.

4 eggs
½ cup sugar
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup whipping cream
1 cup milk
⅓ cup California Sherry
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups sliced strawberries
1 tbsp. powdered sugar
½ cup California Port

Beat eggs lightly; gradually beat in sugar and salt. Combine with cream and milk; stir in Sherry and vanilla. Pour into casserole or baking pan (about 5½ cup size). Set in pan containing 1 inch hot water. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) until silver knife inserted 1-inch from outer edge of custard comes out clean, about 40 to 45 minutes. Remove pan from water; let cool, then chill. Sprinkle berries with sugar; chill. When ready to serve, spoon custard into serving dishes. Add Port to berries and spoon over each serving. Top with a small garnish of whipped cream, if desired, and a half berry. (Serves 6 to 8).

Ice Relishes

Set relishes and hors d'oeuvres on ice and use them as a centerpiece on the dining table.

How To Make Most Of Fresh Pineapple

There are more ways than one of preparing a fresh pineapple—and all of them make serving the fruit easy and attractive.

SLICED PINEAPPLE

Cut a thick slice from the top and bottom of a ripe pineapple. Stand on a board and cut away rind from the top downward. With a small sharp knife cut out eyes. Cut in ½-inch thick slices. Cut core from slices with a small sharp cookie cutter—rounded or some other interesting shape.

PINEAPPLE SPEARS

Cut a thick slice from the top and bottom of a ripe pineapple, saving the bottom slice. Remove the fruit in cylinder form by running a sharp, thin long blade around the pineapple between the rind and meat, leaving the shell intact. One way of doing this is to cut from either end to the half-way point, keeping the knife blade pointed toward the rind. Push the cylinder out of the bottom (large) end by pressing from the top (small) end. Cut the cylinder in half lengthwise, then into quarters. Cut core from each quarter. Cut quarters into spears. Place the bottom that was cut from the pineapple on a serving plate; place the pineapple shell over; fill with the pineapple spears. Garnish with a sprig of fresh mint.

PINEAPPLE PICK-UPS

With a large sharp knife, cut the pineapple in half, right through the green plume or crown. Use a kitchen scissors to snip off any frayed tips of leaves. With a small sharp knife cut out the core in a narrow, deep strip without cutting through the rind. With a curved serrated grapefruit knife, separate the fruit from the shell, by running the knife along the under side of the fruit (making sure the shell is thick enough to include the eyes). Leaving loosened fruit in the shell, slice vertically and horizontally, forming bite-size pieces.

For a first course, arrange marinated shrimp along the empty center channel of pineapple and spear pineapple pieces and shrimps with picks—for help-yourself service.

FOR TABLE service, cut pineapple into quorters, replace with strawberries, and serve with sugar in individual containers.

Astronomers Are New Kind Of National Hero For U.S.

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—You have probably never met one.

They're noctural, mostly, and dwell on mountain tops in silvery domes that open only at night.

But they do come down into the cities occasionally, to greet their wives, kiss their children and pick up fresh supplies.

You could, conceivably, bump into one.

If you do and his clothes look a little rumpled, it's probably because they've been on him all night, neglected while he gazed at sights in time and space that only his kind can see.

If you talk to him and his words have little meaning to you it's because he thinks in a polyglot jargon of technical terms invented to convey ideas beyond the ken of ordinary mortals.

If he seems like he's from another world—it's because that is what he deals with most of the time: Other worlds.

But treasure the meeting — you've just met a new kind of national hero.

He's an astronomer.

The blazing dawn of the space age has thrown a sudden light of public recognition on this savant of the night.

Once he wore black robes and peaked cap, and ordinary folk thought he could tell the future from the stars.

When it became a national goal to rocket humans into the hostile environment of the moon and planets, only the astronomer could plot the trajectories and guess what the explorers would encounter on their arrival.

Before the space age opened with the launching of man-made satellites in 1957, the biggest single sum of money astronomers had ever been given to spend was 6 million dollars in private funds —the cost of the 200-inch telescope on Palomar Mountain in Southern California.

Since 1957, about 50 million dollars in government money has been granted by the National Science Foundation to Kitt Peak National Observatory at Tucson, Ariz., and the National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Green Bank, W. Va.

Even greater expenditures are planned for a new astronomical center being developed by five European nations and this country on the peaks of northern Chile.

A few years ago discovery that the atmosphere of Mars was even thinner than supposed would have rated attention only in scientific journals. Today it wins headlines in newspapers all over the world —because it means more millions than planned must be spent learning how to soft-land instruments and men safely on that most earth-like of planets.

When the huge telescope on Palomar Mountain 100 miles south of Los Angeles was opened to public view in 1948, non-professional visitors were rare. Last year more than 15,000 had a glimpse through the giant glass eye of light from objects trillions of miles away.

In 1957, the nation's universities counted 168 graduates in astronomy. By last summer the number had risen to 524 and hundreds more were rejected for lack of facilities.

The star-gazer's formal training lasts as long as a physician's. Twenty years or more of study pass before he wins his doctorate.

The astronomer today must be a master of mathematics and physics.

He must also know geology and chemistry, so he can understand the make-up of other planets; biology and botany; electronics and engineering; the new science of nuclear energy, because the sun and other stars are hydrogen bombs in endless explosion; four to six foreign languages; and public affairs, because today he spends a great deal of public money and consequently is involved in politics.

Youth Missing, So Is $140,000

OAKLAND (AP)—A Bank of Commerce clerk is being hunted by the FBI in connection with a missing $140,000.

The shortage was discovered after Theodore C. Nelson, 18, of San Francisco failed to return from a coffee break yesterday morning.

A bank official said Nelson got the money in $5s, $10s and $20s when he presented a voucher for a supermarket chain at about 9 a.m. yesterday morning.

U.S. Atty. Frederick E. Woelflen obtained a warrant for Nelson's arrest charging embezzlement.

A note found in Nelson's apartment told a relative he had gone to Mexico.

Board Wants Answers On Stanford Report

Marin County supervisors want several answers when they again discuss the Stanford Research Institute's report on its study of possibilities for broadening the tax base.

They said so yesterday before setting for July 29 further discussion of the institute's 100-page preliminary report, financed with $25,400 in public and private funds.

Peter H. Behr was the most inquisitive of the supervisors. He asked the researchers to suggest how much an airport would add to Marin's attractiveness to industry. He also wanted to know the possible benefits in promoting the county's recreational opportunities, particularly boating facilities which could be used for sport and commercial fishing fleets.

Behr wanted further to know why Marin should not be able to attract a greater share of the research and development industry which is centered around the educational complexes of the University of California and Stanford University.

He pointed out that Marin is closer to Berkeley than many present sites of industries which deal with Cal's researchers and facilities.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman asked the Stanford institute representatives what they tell their industrial clients about the advantages and disadvantages of locating plants in Marin. The Stanford men chose not to answer this specifically, protesting that each case is individual.

Strike May Hit Liquor Dealers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—First a beer strike.

Now, maybe, liquor?

Jack Goldberger, a Teamster Union spokesman, said yesterday a strike against Bay Area liquor dealers by the Wholesale Liquor Salesmen's and Driver's Union is a definite possibility.

Both union and the distributors association singles out sales commissions as a key issue of the dispute.

A beer strike-lockout has closed major California breweries since May 11.

Congressmen Pay Tribute To C. S. Lea

WASHINGTON — House Majority Leader Carl Albert (D-Okla.) and Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) Monday joined First District Congressman Donald H. Clausen in eulogizing Clarence S. Lea, Clausen's predecessor in the House who died Saturday in Santa Rosa at the age of 89.

Clausen said that "for those of you who, like me, are more recent members of the House, Clarence Lea left a record of accomplishment that we would all like to follow."

He listed among Lea's major achievements during his 32 years in the House the chairmanship of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, co-authorship of the Pure Food and Drug Act, authorship of the Lea amendment to the Federal Trade Commission Act and the legislation establishing the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Living In Egypt Is Battle Of Wits

BY JAMES PICTON

CAIRO (WPS) — Egyptians use every possible occasion to engage in their favorite sport of matching wits with each other. It extends not only to haggling endlessly over prices to "get the best of the bargain," but even to using the telephone and riding in an elevator.

This correspondent was recently descending, in a self-service elevator, from an upper floor of an office building. Also in the elevator was a little man who seemed so polite and pleasant that I was somewhat amazed at what ensued when the elevator made a stop at the fifth floor. A gentleman waiting there asked, before stepping in: "Are you going up or down?"

"Oh no, Effendi," the man beside me said quickly. "Are YOU going up or down?"

The gentleman hesitated, then conceded he was going down.

"Ah, too bad, Effendi," my companion said with a triumphant smile. "WE'RE going up!" Whereupon the door closed and we descended. He beamed proudly, clearly expecting me to do the same. After all, he had won his first round of the day in the "elevator battles" that go on continuously here.

In using a telephone the rules of the outwitting game are a bit different. The object here is to give the caller as little information as you can while trying to see how much information you can get out of him.

An American woman here had this typical experience in trying to phone an Egyptian friend:

"May I speak to Mr. Ahmed?" she asked the voice that answered.

"Who is it?" the voice inquired.

"Mrs. MacKensie. May I please speak to Mr. Ahmed?"

"What number are you calling?"

"I'm calling 44778. Have I got the wrong number?"

"I didn't say that, madam. I asked who you are calling."

In exasperation, Mrs. MacKensie demanded: "Please just tell me if Mr. Ahmed is there or not."

"Are you calling from Cairo or Heliopolis?" she was asked.

And she would probably still be answering such questions if she had not finally hung up in despair.

Then there is the coffee protocol that accompanies the sale of products not in the minimum price bracket. For a Westerner trying to make one last purchase before his plane takes off, this can be absolutely maddening.

For example, an American business man whom I was seeing off to the airport noticed on the way an attractive camel saddle in a shop in Cairo's Oriental Bazaar. He wanted to buy it before he left.

"How much is this camel saddle?" he asked the shopkeeper.

"Good morning!" answered the smiling Egyptian. "You Americans always begin talking business without even saying hello."

"Excuse me," the American apologized. "Good morning. Now what about the camel saddle?"

"Please! Have a seat. Relax!"

"I can't. I've got to catch a plane."

The shopkeeper clapped his hands for his servant. "Mohammed! Bring the foreign gentlemen chairs. Immediately!"

We sat down. "Now," said the business man nervously eyeing his watch, "will you tell me how much you want for the camel saddle?"

"Would you prefer tea or coffee, sir?"

"Neither, thank you—in view of my plane. How much . . . ?"

"But sir. It is the custom. We are sensitive people and get offended if you don't drink coffee with us."

"In that case I'll take coffee. But meanwhile perhaps you can tell me the price of the camel saddle. My plane . . . "

"Do you like your coffee Mazboot, Saada or Suker Zeeyada, sir? That means medium, no sugar or lots of sugar."

"I'll have it medium, thank you. Now about the . . . "

"In due time, Sir. We are a very modern business; you need not worry." He clapped his hands again. "Mohammed! Medium coffees for the foreign gentlemen. Immediately!" Then he turned to the American business man. "And now tell me," he purred. "What do you think of our country? Nice! No?"

That's A Polite Way Of Branding A Rustler

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—In 1889 the Boulder (Mont.) Age reported the arrest in Elkhorn of a man described as "troubled with some ocular disease that prevents him from recognizing or distinguishing any difference between brands on horses." Undersheriff Gibbs made the arrest.

Black Market Blossoms For Coal Miners

By HENRI SCHOUP

BRUSSELS (UPI)—In the mining towns of Belgium, Turkish workers are so prized they are the objects of an underground "recruitment" racket that is costing Belgian mine owners both workers and money.

Last year, labor-hungry Belgium concluded an agreement with Turkey allowing recruitment of an unlimited number of workers there. Since then, about 5,000 Turks have come to boost the mining industry's labor force of 63,000, more than half of whom are foreigners. And each week there are about 60 new arrivals.

At first, mine managements thought they had found a dependable new reservoir of strong, willing workers, some of whom had worked as miners in their own country and all of whom showed they could quickly adapt themselves to Belgian conditions. But recently they discovered that their labor force was dwindling mysteriously, with mines in the Charleroi-Basse-Sambre basin losing up to 20 per cent of their Turkish recruits within a few weeks.

An investigation showed the men were being enticed away by a new kind of racketeer who "kidnaped" workers with promises of better working conditions and higher pay just across the border, in Holland and West Germany.

When police were called in to check on the activities of these underground "recruiters" they found many of them were Turks, used by foreign employers to contact their fellow countrymen and persuade them to break their contracts. Police even pinpointed their headquarters, a cafe in Charleroi.

These recruiting activities have so far cost Belgian mine managements an estimated one million francs ($20,000).

A Belgian mining spokesman said:

"We spend at least 7,000 francs ($140) per imported Turkish laborer in transport and basic training. This is not counting the housing and social services we provide when the men are here.

"It is obviously a good deal easier for Dutch and German employers to send their recruiting agents to Belgium and get labor here.

"And they are very cunning about it. They wait until the new arrivals are more or less familiar with one European language, either French or Flemish, and with the job they were hired for. Then they get a few men out with promises of better work and more pay. Finally, these men are sent back as "recruiters" to persuade their mates to break the one-year contract they have have with us."

The management of a mining combine in the Charleroi area has asked the local court to step in, but the legal experts say little can be done except prosecute foreign workers for breach of contract. There is nothing illegal about foreigners changing their place of employmen if the receiving country grants them a work permit.

But recently the management of one important mine found a weapon to fight back with—a Turk who had been recruited to work in Holland but failed to find there what had been promised. This man wrote a letter to his workmates in Charleroi urging them not to fall for the blandishments of recruiting agents and stay where they were.

The letter was photographed and distributed among the entire Turkish community.

City Of Tiburon, A Reality Now, Is Off To Good Start

Tiburon's new status as Marin County's eleventh incorporated city has been accomplished, following the June 2 vote of its people and last night's first official meeting of the new City Council, which put the new city's government into operation.

Many questions have to be resolved during the next few weeks, for the governing body is facing the establishment of municipal government from scratch.

Selection of a permanent city manager; preparation and adoption of a number of ordinances that are basic in any city's codes; decision as to planning policies and planning personnel; a basic taxation and assessment plan; permanent police and fire protection; expectable first-year revenues—even a city hall—these and many others face the new City Council and the Tiburon residents.

But Tiburon is looking ahead, and already moving forward. The election was close, but opponents have stated they will join the majority to make the efficiency of Tiburon city government as outstanding as the community's high priority in the Bay Area as a desirable place in which to live.

The first year will be as busy as it is interesting. And the League of California Cities is due to get a progressive new addition to its list of member municipalities.

Named For A Terrible Goddess

June is too nice a month to be named for the Roman goddess Juno—a jealous, vindictive, blood-thirsty personality.

We think the old Anglo-Saxon term of "Joy-Time" is more appropriate. Especially for Marin. Much more descriptive of gentle June than the battle-axe goddess.

But June is with us once again with its bird song and myriad flowers. Let us hope it will be Joy-Time for us all.

HIS OLD TEACHER IS TAUGHT LESSON

After 38 years, a teacher got a dose of her own medicine from a former pupil.

When she was brought into court for speeding, the judge recognized her as his high school freshman teacher. Recalling that she had once ordered all of her pupils to write 50 times: "I must not talk in class," he decided to give her a little reminder of old times. He sentenced her to write 100 times: "I must not exceed the speed limit."

Various methods can impress a sense of responsibility on human beings. Yet effective as they may be, there is no substitute for self-discipline.

Until a person sincerely decides to correct his own shortcomings, there is little assurance of real repentance or the enduring determination needed to right what is wrong in one's self.

Perfecting yourself is the lifelong task assigned to you by Almighty God. He will give you all the best that is in you during your pilgrimage to heaven.

"You therefore are to be perfect, even as your heavenly Father is perfect."
Matthew 5:48)

Teach me, O Holy Spirit, to master myself and thus be better fitted to bring out the best in others.

State's Numerous Special Service Districts May Need Depth Review

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The special district form of government in California, whereby "special" problems not the concern of all the taxpayers are cared for, is being apparently overworked. Nonetheless, there is much to be said for this type of operation.

State Controller Alan Cranston, in a recent report, noted that one dollar out of every six reached the coffers of a special district when the governments of cities and counties dip into the taxpayers' pockets for the annual take.

THE STATE HAS 3,342 special districts, all of them able to levy taxes, and all of them able to spend this tax money for some particular purpose.

These purposes range from fire protection, flood control, recreation, water of various sorts, reclamation, sanitation, etc., to highway and street lighting.

The special districts, and it should be noted these do not include irrigation or school districts, which are provided for under separate sections of the law, dip into the taxpayer pocket for nearly a half a billion a year, and all of the funds are from local taxes.

RESULT IS THAT when the taxpayer gets his bill, and figures his assessment against the county tax rate, results are surprising. The rest usually is a tax for a special district assessment, which the taxpayer does not know, and sometimes does not care, exists.

District history in California no doubt started with the state reclamation districts, which resulted in special taxes to develop flooded land, avoid the possibility of continued flooding, and thereby develop soil for general use.

It continued with the control of water, and then with the development of water for both domestic and general use. The system looked like a good one, so the developments continued for other area developments, the latest of which has been the community service areas. These districts are authorized to perform almost any service for the areas they cover, and were formed particularly to serve in the stead of a city government. That is, areas formed community service districts instead of incorporating into cities to avoid, if possible, establishment of a separate city government. Usually, the county board of supervisors is the governing body of these community service districts.

GENERALLY, the administrative cost of operating a special service district is small, due to the fact that administration is incorporated into the already established county government.

On the other hand, the size and bite of tax assessments into the rolls may eventually call for some type of survey of all special districts, with a view to combining the operation where feasible.

The general question is whether some of the services provided by the special districts should not be more generalized and more of a responsibility of all taxpayers, rather than merely a few, at least on a county-wide basis.

This easily could meet some opposition from those districts which are functioning for one area alone.

Tax Withholding Cut An Illusion?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Internal Revenue Service has recently issued a document (No. 5536) which is a Notice to Employers, advising employers that the new withholding rate tables under the Revenue Act of 1964, effective about March 5, 1964, may not be adequate to cover the income tax liability of most individual income tax payers. The document suggests that this was intentionally done by the Treasury Department in order to "relieve employers of having to make two successive withholding rate changes (one for 1964, one for 1965) by making a one-step reduction from the former 18 per cent rate to the 14 per cent rate, which will continue into 1965 and thereafter."

In my opinion, it seems doubtful that this was the intention of the Treasury Department and the present administration; that this was done for the convenience of the employers who are the collecting agents for the government of the withholding taxes from individual earnings. The fact that the 1964 law reduces tax rates in two steps—one for 1964 and the other for 1965 — would not create any further burdens for employers, but would merely require the Treasury Department to issue proper withholding rate tables for each of the years. As it is now, almost every year employers have to refer to revised tables for other types of payroll taxes. . . . So one more revision seems unimportant.

I believe that generally most salaried employees are not aware that the increase they now see in their pay checks is greater than it should be because the tax that is being withheld from their current earnings is inadequate to cover their tax liability for 1964. The document notifies employers that they can be of help to their employees by advising them of this situation and attempting to explain the complicated calculations that would be required by employees in order to avoid a tax balance due for the year.

. . . We have advised our doctor-clients to tell their employees that the simplest way for them to correct this would be to claim one less exemption than they are legally entitled to claim. This, of course, would increase the amount withheld from each pay check and decrease the current "take-home pay."

I feel it is the duty of the government to notify the general public of this situation. However, I do not believe the government will do so, and the general public will not become aware of the situation until some time in 1965 when they file their 1964 income tax returns and discover that they have a balance due rather than the refund that most salaried tax payers are accustomed to receiving. Coincidentally, the voters become aware of this after the November elections, whereas I think the popular belief of most people is that the present administration legislated tax laws which put additional money in their pockets. . . .

Goldwater Ignores Other Minorities

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Sen. Barry Goldwater votes no on the civil rights bill. If this man was not a senator and wealthy, I know of hotels in Miami and other resorts in the South where a person by the name of Goldwater could not get reservations.

One cannot hide his ancestry by rejecting his father's place of worship.

It seems to me that this man is power-mad. Helping the majority of citizens is not in his program.

He Extends Credit To Study Chairman

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To give credit where due, it was not I who made the report to the Fairfax school board that preceded their decision to schedule another bond election in November, as reported in the I-J June 17. That report was made by Ray Barnes, chairman of the special study committee appointed by the board after the defeat of the bond proposal in January.

Mr. Barnes' committee had on it both opponents and proponents of the previous proposal.

What I reported was that, if only 77 per cent of the parents who failed to vote in January had voted yes, we would have passed the bond at that time.

A MARRIAGE COUNSELOR was having trouble determining the cause of discord between a young husband and wife who insisted on talking at the same time. Finally establishing a semblance of order, he demanded of the wife, "What is the main block to your getting along together?" Grimly she ordered her husband, "You tell him, hon." "Ah," interrupted the counselor. "There's hope for your marriage when you still call him 'hon'." "That," explained the wife coldly, "happens to be his name: Attila the Hun."

COLONEL JOE DUFFY observes that in parking lots, most arguments start from scratch. He also presents these two definitions: PEDESTRIAN: A fellow who was convinced there still was gas in the tank when the gauge pointed to empty; RADIO COMMERCIAL: The din you love to shush.

THE SALESMAN for the 44-volume encyclopedia climaxed his pitch with a hearty "Yes, ma'am! You just put a tiny deposit down, and don't pay another penny for six months!" The prospect looked surprised and demanded, "Who told you about us?"

Civil Rights Bill Termed Great Result Of Politics, Democracy

WASHINGTON — The principals who brought about the overwhelming passage of the equal-rights bill deserve a special citation and the deep gratitude of the American people.

WE HAVE WITNESSED political leadership at its best.

We have witnessed functioning American democracy at its best.

Though there be risk of unintentionally overlooking some whose crucial labors may have been less visible. I venture a roll of honor of those who brought to present fruition the great drama of the American equal-rights revolution of 1964.

HEREWITH A CITATION of esteem for those who were in the forefront:

First and foremost, to the entire United States Supreme Court of 1954 whose unanimous school integration decision gave indispensable impetus to all that followed.

To two generals in the ranks, the two Negro leaders who worked in faithful, if at times uneasy, harness: the able, self-effacing private leader, Roy Wilkins, the executive secretary of the NAACP, and the able, animate, public leader, the Rev. Martin Luther King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

To the two Presidents of the United States, John F. Kennedy, who, though he gave himself to the cause of strong civil rights legislation somewhat slowly and tardily, in the end provided dynamic national leadership, and Lyndon B. Johnson, who has never wavered in putting the mighty moral weight of the presidency behind this cause.

TO SENATOR Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, where the Negroes in Chicago have disdained him in the past, who negotiated the minimum changes in the bill to get maximum Republican support for ending the filibuster and without whom the Senate would be "debating" the bill yesterday, today, tomorrow —days without end.

In Congress many others deserve special credit. The bipartisan Senate floor leaders, Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), and Thomas Kuchel (R-Calif.). In the House liberal Republican Congressman John Lindsay of New York and conservative Republican Congressman William M. McCulloch of Ohio did the most to extract from the judiciary committee a bill both strong and enactable, and to his eternal credit Republican floor leader Charles Halleck gave them unwavering support so that the bill passed the House with four-fifths of the Republicans behind it.

GREAT CREDIT also goes:

To the clergy of all faiths whose moral influence literally changed votes on Capitol Hill.

To the 200,000 Freedom Marchers who demonstrated that a massive rally in Washington could channel and exhibit — without violence — the nation's demand to correct long-borne grievances.

To the 290 members of the House of Representatives who voted for the bill first, to the 71 Senators who ended the filibuster, to the 73 Senators who voted for the bill last week.

To the millions of Americans who have shown that they want to finish the unfinished business of the equal-rights revolution.

And ironically, to Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the Southern bloc, whose all-or-nothing "won't negotiate" stand against the measure got his forces nothing and contributed to a stronger and better bill.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Congo Might Become Like Vietnam For U.S.

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson is facing a decision on U. S. military involvement in the Congo as ominous as those being pondered in South Vietnam and Laos.

WITH THE LAST of the U. N. peace-keeping force due to leave that strife-torn nation by June 30, the president must decide whether to send hundreds of U. S. military technicians and advisers to aid the Congolese army or sit idly by while the Communist - inspired guerrilla warfare spreads.

Congressional leaders warn that the Congo will blow up completely when the U. N. peace - keeping mandate runs out unless the U. S. acts swiftly to bolster Gen. Joseph Mobutu's hard-pressed 35,000-man army.

WITH THE U. N. command about to turn over more than 10 million dollars worth of U. S. military equipment to the Congolese, the Joint Chiefs of Staff want U. S. advisers on hand to see that these arms do not fall into rebel hands as they reportedly have in past transfers.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, vigorously opposed to increasing the U. S. military commitment, is making one last effort to get Premier Adoula to request troops from Nigeria, Ethiopia and Tunisia to take over the U. N. peace-keeping effort.

Adoula is reportedly willing, but the Congolese army officials are balking on the ground that asking new help would reflect on their capability and actually play into the rebels' hands.

Estimated at 7,000, the rebel forces have been getting their leadership from the Chinese Communist embassy in Bujumbura, capital of neighboring Burundi, and from the leftist Congolese exiles of the National Liberation Committee, financed by Russia.

U. S. INTELLIGENCE authorities warn that these Communist-led rebels will be able to wage guerrilla warfare in Kivu and North Katanga provinces for years unless their arms supplies are cut off and basic U. S. and Congolese policies are changed.

One of the most controversial is the joint U. S.-Congo policy of covertly channeling aid to the Angola rebels operating from camps within the Congo.

These forces, which are feeding some of their arms to the Communist-led insurgents in the Congo, are being equipped with U. S. weapons, including some with U. N. markings.

THE ALARMING evidence indicates that these weapons were turned over to the Angola rebels by the Congolese government after being received from departing U. N. forces. U. S. embassy officials in Leopoldville have strict instructions from Washington not to interfere in these operations.

Because of the wide-ranging differences in traditions and customs of the 100-odd tribes that make up the Congo, many African experts do not believe this U. S. objective can be achieved within the next 50 years, regardless of the amount of money the U. S. pours into that nation.

County Supervisor Vera Schultz in a talk to the Mill Valley Optimists Club at Sabella's in Alto made a strong plea for a charter government for Marin County.

First steel was scheduled to be placed shortly on the Marin side of San Rafael-Richmond Bridge. Work was started on a $218,670 contract for a short approach road at this end of the span.

Mail carrier Leland J. Ahern made the last delivery on San Rafael's 35-year-old 30-mile Rural Route 1, lying among San Rafael, China Camp and McNear's Point. Postal officials announced mail deliveries north of St. Vincent's Orphanage henceforth would be handled by car out of Novato; the area south of there would be delivered by car from San Rafael.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Just Think What You're Missing When You Don't Read The Fillers

DID YOU KNOW that Mount Kilimanjaro was first seen by a non-African in 1848?

Or did you know that an estimated five million Peruvians speak only Quechua?

Or that the black walnut is prized for its dark, lustrous color and fine grain?

If all this is news to you, it means you haven't been following the fillers. You've been missing one of the delights of newspaper reading.

A FILLER IS the thing a hurried compositor grabs when he wants to fill a hole in the bottom of a column of type. Usually a filler is a little known fact, something to make the reader exclaim: "Well, what do you know!"

But the variety of subject matter has no limit. The little paragraphs bring us facts from all points of the world. Often they deal with the animal kingdom and just as often they delve into history, horticulture, geography, geology and so on.

If you don't read them, your store of useless facts will suffer. Sometimes the fillers are provocative to a degree. For instance:

"Six-year-old wild chimpanzees often leave the family circle for two or three days at a time."

THIS STATEMENT, somewhat slanderous and suggestive if you happen to be a chimpanzee, is offered without any attribution. Newspapers rarely get away with that, except in fillers.

Sometimes the fillers clash. These two, for instance, appeared in the same issue of the I-J:

"The way of life on Cyprus has changed little in centuries."

And:

"Light industry has been expanded in Cyprus in recent years."

This was evidently the special Cyprus issue of the I-J.

BUT GETTING BACK to those six-year-old wild chimpanzees, it seems that a yarn like that needs a headline. It isn't right to drop it in unheralded at the bottom of a column just because the reporter covering the Larkspur City Council ran out of gas and could not think of another thing to say. (That's never troubled the council.)

No, those chimpanzees should get special treatment. Something like:

"Wild Monk's Three Nights On The Town."

Or:

"Family Left Stranded In Jungle."

After all, it's an exciting story. Most fillers are, with a little imagination.

ART BUCHWALD

Rub A Dub, Dub, Six Politicians Set Adrift In A Leaky Campaign Tub . . .

WASHINGTON—There are all these fellows in the lifeboat. There are Nelson, and Bill, and George, and Harold, and Cabot and Dick, and they had been put adrift by Captain Barry and his ruthless crew.

They are rowing to shore to get some help. The lifeboat is creaky and the water is rough.

DICK SHOUTS encouragement: "Don't worry, men, we'll make it!"

"Why don't you row?" Nelson asks him.

"I didn't say I would row," Dick replies.

"Well, if you won't row," Bill says, "you can bail the water out of the boat."

Dick grabs a pail but instead of bailing water out of the boat, he puts more water into it.

"What the hell are you doing?" George says.

"I'm bailing," Dick says.

"No, you're not. You're trying to sink us all," Harold says.

"That's a terrible thing to accuse me of," Dick says. "If it wasn't for me and Ike, you wouldn't be in this boat."

Nelson says, "Oh shut up and give us a hand rowing."

Dick grabs an oar but every time the men row forward he rows backward.

CABOT GETS ANGRY: "Are you going to row with us or against us?"

"I agreed to row but I didn't say I'd row with you. Did anyone hear me say how I was going to row?"

Bill shouts, "Will you sit down and stop rocking the boat?"

"Don't tell me what to do. You're not the captain of this boat. I've had more experience than you've had. This happens to be my seventh sinking crisis."

The men keep rowing while Dick sits and sulks.

Suddenly Harold shouts, "Sharks! There are sharks all over the place!"

Dick jumps up. "Don't worry, men! I can deal with sharks."

"What are we going to do?" Cabot asks.

"The sharks are hungry. The only way you can get rid of them is to throw somebody in the water."

"You must be out of your mind," Nelson says.

"I'm not out of my mind. Look at it this way. There's six of us in the boat. If we throw one guy over, five of us will be saved. We have to think of the greatest good for the greatest number."

"But who are we going to throw overboard?"

Dick's eyes narrow. "What about it, George? Why don't you make the sacrifice?"

GEORGE LOOKS around nervously. "Why does it have to be me?"

"Well it's got to be somebody."

"I don't want to go."

"Forget the sharks," Bill shouts, "and row. We've still got a chance to stick together."

While the rest of them are rowing, Dick sneaks a drink of water from the cask.

Then he shoves a half of loaf of bread under his shirt.

"I'VE GOT TO think of myself," he mutters. "When they exhaust themselves, I'll be captain of the boat and it will be like old times."

The land is still far off and can barely be seen as the sun is setting. The men, weary and thirsty pull at the oars. Except for Dick, who quietly slips the anchor over the side.

July 4th Holiday Traffic Deaths May Go To 550

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimated yesterday that between 450 and 550 persons could be killed in traffic during the July 4 holiday weekend.

This would compare, the council said, with an average of 425 deaths for a nonholiday weekend of identical length in July.

The council defined the holiday travel period as extending from 6 p.m. local time Thursday, July 2, to midnight Sunday, July 5.

Over the Memorial Day weekend, a period of the same length, there were 431 traffic fatalities. This compared with 418 deaths in a nonholiday period of equal length two weeks earlier. The holiday toll broke the record of 371 for a three-day observance set in 1958.

Break Is Asked For Tall Drivers

BOSTON (UPI) — The Automobile Legal Assn. (ALA) has appealed to auto manufacturers to take pity on tall drivers.

The ALA urges that cars be equipped with windshields having the lower portion tinted to cut glare.

"Sun visors and windshields tinted at the top are great for cutting glare for most drivers," said the ALA. "But tall drivers must still contend with the eye-straining glare reflected off the shiny car hood and fenders, also the chrome-plated windshield wipers."

Novato's School Tax Hike Is Now 73 Cents

Novato Unified School District trustees Monday night approved a revised 1964-65 preliminary budget of $2,741,146 calling for an estimated 73-cent increase in the tax rate—to $4.85—instead of an expected 97-cent jump.

Trustees decided that the rate for local bond and state loan repayments — that portion of the budget fluctuating the most for the coming year—could be held at $1.30 instead of a previously estimated $1.37.

Of that $1.30, 53 cents is for state loan repayments, over which the district has virtually no control. Seventy-seven cents is for local bond repayment. School administrators, after consulting with the county auditor, decided that if the district has a 10 per cent increase in assessed valuation, as expected, 77 cents will cover that repayment.

The board acknowledged the district has "one tough year" to get through because of the high loan and bond repayment required for 1964-65, but it decided not to take the "easy way" out, said Supt. James H. Bunker.

The "easy way" would have been to ask for a one-year deferment on the payment, which would have reduced the tax rate considerably. But one year's deferment adds 10 years to a repayment schedule. One state loan of about $450,000 will be paid off in four years, and that will drop 10 cents from the tax rate, Bunker pointed out. Deferment would have extended repayment to 14 more years, and cost the taxpayer more in the long run.

In the past, annual repayments on Novato's own bonds have fluctuated, because of a redemption schedule with irregular annual repayment amounts.

In the future, Bunker said, the district will try to have a more constant repayment, running between $1 and $1.05.

The budget approved last night is $46,510 less than the amount submitted to the board June 8, and $432,326 more than the budget adopted last July 1 for 1963-64.

Bunker said a few items were trimmed from the budget, such as the program for emotionally handicapped, and the general reserve was reduced by $20,000.

The board increased Bunker's salary by $1,400, from $18,600 to $20,000 per year. The salary of Eugene de Brecht, assistant superintendent in charge of business, was increased by $1,250, from $13,500 to $14,700. The salary of Paul Mobley, assistant superintendent in charge of curriculum, was increased by $1,200, from $13,200 to $14,500.

The Novato Unified School District Board also:

1. Agreed to a property trade with Richard Cannell which will add 1.6 acres to the Rancho School site for a total of 9.5 acres. The district will pay Cannell $25,000 in addition.

2. Approved the annual agreement with the City of Novato for the summer recreation program at schoolgrounds.

3. Accpted a gift of $1,300 from the Marin County Assn. of Insurance Agents for use in the driver training program.

4. Approved additional pay for extra duties after school of coaches, department heads and some other teachers.

West shrewdly opened a trump, but East let him down. East took the first trick with the ace of hearts and returned a trump to dummy's king.

SINGLETON SPADE

Declarer returned dummy's singleton spade, losing the ten to West's jack. Unable to lead a third trump, West returned the jack of diamonds to South's ace.

South ruffed a spade in dummy, got back with a club to ruff another spade, and got back again with a club to draw East's last trump.

Then he gave up one spade trick and claimed the rest with dummy's king of diamonds, his own trump and the last spade.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN

Now let's see what might have been if East let dummy's ten of hearts win the first trick. South would lead the spade from dummy, losing the ten to West's jack. Back would come West's other trump.

Now East would take his ace of hearts and lead a third trump. This would limit dummy to one ruff, and South would lose three spade tricks.

East was unrepentant when the hand was over. "How could I tell you had the ace of spades?" he asked his partner. "I didn't know about three rounds of trumps. I just made sure of two rounds."

LITTLE CHANCE

The fact is that East lost his nerve. There's very little chance to defeat four hearts if South has the ace of spades so East must just play on the assumption that his partner will turn up with strong spades topped by the ace.

When one of the defenders holds A-x-x of trumps and the other defender holds x-x, it is often necessary for the defenders to play low trumps from both hands on the first trick.

Then they can draw two more rounds of trumps no matter which defender is allowed to win the next defensive trick.

QUESTION

Player opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

Fire Prevention

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—To keep fire from destroying log cabins, many Kentucky pioneers built chimneys so that a pull on a key log would collapse them if they caught fire.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, June 24, the 176th day of 1964 with 190 to follow.

The moon is full. The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1497, explored John Cabot reached North America.

In 1863, Gen. Robert E. Lee started to cross the Potomac River at Harpers Ferry in preparation for his Civil War invasion of Pennsylvania.

In 1948, Russia blockaded all rail and road traffic between West Berlin and West Germany.

In 1948, Republicans chose Gov. Thomas Dewey of New York to run for the presidency for the second time.

A thought for the day — French writer Henri Stendahl wrote: "One can acquire everything in solitude—except character."

Drug Watchdog Warns About Responsibility

U.S. Aide Tells Of Potentials For Doing Harm

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The nation's new watchdog over drugs told physicians yesterday they share with the government "a mutual responsibility in the careful and judicious administration of medications."

Noting that the potency of drugs is rising. Dr. Joseph F. Sadusk, medical director of the Food and Drug Administration, cautioned that their complexity and potentiality for harm also has increased.

CLOSER RELATIONS

His address, first in recent years by an FDA medical director before a national convention of the AMA, was billed as part of a program for closer relationship between the federal agency and physicians.

Dr. Sadusk said the FDA "to a certain extent" can see that adequate safeguards are provided.

But, he added, "We must also depend on the physician to apply the principles of balancing efficacy against toxicity at the individual patient level.

"The doctor must decide in the light of a drug's potential toxicity that its use is warranted for his patient."

LIMITS USE

Dr. Sadusk explained the FDA's recent action in allowing the drug parnate to return to the market under drastically revised labeling which limits its use to severe cases of mental depression.

He said a medical review indicated there was a "highly probable casual relationship in only seven of 38 cases of stroke among patients taking parnate.

"We concluded that it was a drug capable of severe side reactions, some even leading to death," he said, "but that these serious reactions were seemingly low in incidence.

"Nonetheless it remains clear that the use of parnate calls for continuing care on the part of the physicians, not only from the aspect of selecting patients carefully but also from the point of careful observation and follow-up of the patient."

He said the drug will reappear on the market in about six weeks.

16 Marinites Get U.C. Scholarships

Sixteen Marin County students have been awarded scholarships for the coming academic year by University of California at Berkeley.

The scholarships range in value from $200 to $600.

Recipients from Marin are Michael J. Smith, Corte Madera; Deborah L. Rossman, Fairfax; Sandy G. McKean and Charles F. Schwarz, Kentfield; Laurence E. Bathgate and Peter D. Hindley, Mill Valley; Robert E. DeBrecht, Boyd E. Rice and David C. Williams, Novato; Bertil S. G. Beander, Peter J. Del Tredici and Karen L. Nelson, San Anselmo; Andrea A. Anker, San Geronimo, and Peter J. Andersen, Alfred C. Bangert and Richard A. Levaro, San Rafael.

Sausalito Artist Has Three Shows

Oil paintings and watercolors by Sausalito artist Lynn Wood are being displayed at Ignacio, Terra Linda and in San Francisco.

A collection of oils will be shown through mid-July at Rancho Rafael, Ignacio; oils and watercolors are being shown at Brummark Restaurant, 4200 Redwood Highway, Terra Linda, for one month, and oils are on display at the gallery of Greta Williams, 2059 Union Street, San Francisco.

Meeting Changed

Marin county housing authority commissioners will hold a special meeting next Tuesday at 10 a.m. to discuss participation in the financing of elementary school facilities in Marin City. A meeting set for today was canceled because of the death of the wife of commissioner Nels Johnson of Inverness.

Young Germans Are Tiring Of Taking Blame For Hitler

By JOHN DORNBERG

BONN (WPS)—Ever since Germany's surrender in 1945, the people of West Germany have been told continuously that they must atone for the crimes of the Third Reich by paying compensation to the regime's victims, by punishing the guilty, by expurgating the sinister idea of the Hitler era and by embracing democracy.

This was "the law" during the brief postwar occupation period, and it has been the pronounced policy of West Germany's leaders in government, the churches, education and culture since then.

Lately, however, a new trend has been taking shape. West Germans are tiring of attempts at self-flagellation and are demonstrating resentment at being made history's whipping boy.

This is particularly true of West Germany's younger generation which, with increasing frequency, is asking why it must atone for the crime of its fathers.

Says a fairly typical 21-year-old student: "I am ashamed of what happened in Germany between 1933 and 1945 and I am ashamed of the fact that my father was a Nazi. But what more do you want? It isn't something I did. Why, for example, should I have to pay the penalty in the form of indemnification to Jews?"

There is hardly a facet of life in Germany these days where mounting resentment does not display itself. Among political leaders, left and right, in schools and in the daily press there is growing talk about declaring a general amnesty for all men now serving war crimes sentences or still facing prosecution before the statute of limitations takes effect in May 1965.

War crimes trials, such as the marathon Auschwitz case in Frankfurt, are being held in nearly every major city of West Germany. The newspapers are filled with daily reports about them. But most Germans, young and old, say they don't want to hear about it any more.

"Of course the guilty should be punished," says a 25-year-old insurance salesman. "But what's done is done. The world should let us look toward the future, not always the grim past."

Eeven former waves of abhorence caused by the occasional exposure of ex-Nazis in Germany's civil service and public office have now subsided to ripples.

For example, the nation merely shrugged when the Free Democratic Party nominated Federal Justice Minister Ewald Bucher as its candidates in the election (July 1) of a successor to president Luebke. Bucher was a Nazi party member from 1937 to 1945 and an active Hitler Youth member.

Bucher never denied his past, and has publicly condemned it as an act of brash immaturity. Still, it is a reflection of the new attitude developing here in West Germany that a man with Bucher's record would seriously be recommended as a candidate for such a high government post.

The bite of the refugees and expellees from the Sudetenland, East Prussia, Pomerania and Silesia is becoming increasingly less dangerous as their bark gets louder. Nevertheless, the bark has now become so loud that Federal Transport Minister Hans Christoph Seebohm, leader of the Sudeten German Association has not hesitated to declare publicly that Hitler's 1938 Munich pact with Chamberlain is still valid and that the Sudetenland, "which was robbed from us," is legally German. Seebohm received a rebuke from Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, but that was all.

The greatest source of the growing resentment seems to be the program of restitution and compensation to victims of Nazi persecution. For example, the new German attitude is to turn a deaf ear to requests by persecutee organizations to amend the present laws so that an estimated 100,000 Nazi victims, who escaped from their East European homelands after the indemnification law's cut-off date, be allowed to file claims.

Slogans which read "40 billion marks for indemnification? Never!" have been found rubber-stamped on the walls of public restrooms for years. They are not new. But a federal finance minister who equates indemnification to Nazi persecutees with welfare and insists Germany has no legal obligation to pay—as Rolf Dahlgruen does—is new. And he is merely reflecting the views of his constituents.

"I don't see why I should have to pay taxes to finance 4 billion dollars in indemnification," says a 20-year-old secretary.

When she is reminded that she is also paying taxes to finance 4 billion dollars in pensions to ex-Nazis, she says simply: "That different. After all, they get the pensions for government service performed before the Nazi regime or for things that had nothing to do with Hitler."

Views such as these are gaining in acceptance as young Germans tire of taking the blame for what they feel was not their doing, and as the younger generation wins a larger say in the affairs of German government.

Youths Plead Guilty To Disturbing Peace

Two Marin City youths pleaded guilty in Judge Leonard A. Thomas' Municipal Court yesterday to charges of disturbing the peace arising from a brawl at C's Drive-In, 510 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, March 20.

Youth Arraigned In Assault Case

James Warren Baxley, 19, of 116 Ward Street, Larkspur, was arraigned before Municipal Court Judge Leonard A. Thomas yesterday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon as the result of a highway brawl over driving manners Saturday.

Baxley is charged with shooting Joseph J. Immel, 19, of 1722-A Lincolnl Avenue, San Rafael, during a tussle for Baxley's 22-caliber revolver at the side of Highway 101 in Terra Linda.

Baxley was originally charged with assault with intent to commit murder. He is scheduled to enter a plea before Judge Thomas Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.

Almonte Sanitary Board To Go Over Budget Tuesday

Almonte Sanitary District directors will hold a special meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the district office to discuss the 1964-65 budget.

Directors agreed to waive the special salary increment of $15 entitled them for this meeting.

It was agreed to post notices stating that petitions for nominations for candidates for director's posts may be obtained in the county clerk's office, starting July 10. Terms of Frances M. Gelardi, Richard J. Dawe and Robert A. Alexander, chairman, expire in September. All said they intend to seek re-election.

Alexander told the board that he has agreed to serve on the local government coordination committee, a new committee of which County Administrator Alan Bruce is secretary, to study feasibility and desirability of coordinating local government units.

Mother Tells Police Of Indecent Exposure

A case of indecent exposure was reported to Novato police Monday afternoon by the mother of a 10-year-old girl.

A man described as 20 to 25 years of age with dark curly hair exposed himself after calling the girl to where he was sitting in a sedan parked on Railroad Avenue, Novato, about 3:45 p.m., the mother told police.

Students Ready For Japan Trip

A trip to Japan this summer, and six weeks lodging with a Japanese family, should prove interesting for five Marin County teen-agers — since none speaks more than a word or two of Japanese.

And not only five from Marin, but 15 teen-agers in all from the Bay Area will become residents of Osaka, Japan's second largest city with a population of over three million, from July 20 to the end of August.

The travelers—six young men and nine young women—will fly from San Francisco International Airport July 19. The trip is sponsored as part of a YMCA San Francisco-Osaka exchange program.

Chaperoning the trip is Dale Greenlee, 33, associate program director of San Rafael YMCA and his wife, Lois. They live at 204 El Prado Avenue, San Rafael.

Osaka's teen-age guests from Marin are: Robert Wall, 17, of 1271 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley; Thomas Mulholland, 17, of 21 Corte Lodato, Greenbrae; Paul Marincich, 16, of 94 Lagoon Road, Belvedere; Drummond Pike, 15, of Thomas Court, Ross, and John MacKay, 17, of 157 South Ridgewood Road, Kentfield.

"Just for laughs," grinned Marincich with a little prodding, "I want to go to a bath house."

He added, "I've heard that Japan is Westernized, so I expect to see the kids familar with western songs. But I've also heard that much of the culture is still traditional—and that is what I want to see."

John MacKay is to be the group's official spokesman — he knows how to say "thank you" in Japanese. Chaperone Greenlee has taken a semester course in the language at Dominican College. There will be interpreters.

MacKay will say (phonetically) the phrase "arigatoo gozaimas" on behalf of the group after they meet the mayor of Osaka or other dignitaries. It means "thank you" in a particularly polite way, Greenlee explained.

Bob Wall wants to see people.

"We have no idea what they are really like, and I guess they have little idea about us," he said. "Meeting the people and living with them is the most important thing to me."

Tom Mulholland echos the idea, pointing out he wants to "see how they live, and see the way the Japanese do things."

Greenlee looks forward to a golf game, Japanese style, and a seat in the bleachers to watch the Osaka Hawks hit a few homers. He has been with the San Rafael YMCA since last September.

Remarkably enthused about the prospect of shepherding teen-agers across the ocean, Greenlee feels they will "better appreciate the role of nations in the world that are better endowed financially" after the trip.

"It is a sort of people-to-people project," he added. "The kids will learn to handle themselves in unusual situations — and this will certainly be an unusual situation."

Each will live with two different Japanese families during the six weeks. Using Osaka as home base, the group will range to far points of Japan on short sightseeing trips.

Last year several Japanese teen-agers from Osaka visited the Bay Area. One stayed with the Marincich family.

"We compared customs," he relates. "They weren't as wild as we were. But that isn't a good comparison, since it's a completely different culture. They study quite a bit more than we do."

Here's Recipe For Astronauts

MEMPHIS (AP) — When Mrs. Charles Jensen looked into her refrigerator and found a bottle marked RocKeT Fuel, her investigation turned up this formula from her son Chuck, a third grader:

"Stepe 1. ½ cup of baking powder and stir a minit.

"Stepe 2. One tabalspoon of oil, it will start to fize, don't panik, put piece of meatal in it.

"Stepe 3. One cup of vinger and heat water and put it in.

"Stepe 4. Get some liqod soap and poar in.

"Stepe 5. Store in bottle for 3 day's, and it will be redy anybody can do it."

Sickbed Had View Of Executions

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Augusta's White House, which was built by a wealthy trader in 1750, has been restored at a cost of about $200,000.

Legend has it that a British colonel, Thomas Brown, had 13 American patriots hanged from the top of the structure's outside steps. Brown, who had been wounded, is believed to have watched the executions from his sickbed.

Tire Fixing Can Be Risky Chore

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — A Savannah man, Albert L. McCoy, found that fixing flat tires can be dangerous — even at a service station.

He was inflating a tractor tire when it exploded, sending him to the hospital with head injuries.

It wasn't the explosion that injured his head, but the gas tank he fell against.

Savings Bond Sales

Marin residents purchased U.S. Savings bonds worth a total of $128,351 during May, according to D. C. Davis, county savings bond chairman.

If you want to be technical, there are 46, not 50, states in the Union. Four of the states actually are commonwealths — Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

OFF AND RUNNING

First Tiburon Council Quickly Approves Laws

Strawbridge Elected Mayor For New City

The brand new City Council of Tiburon at its first meeting last night set a record for quick passage of ordinances which it probably never will surpass.

For more than an hour a restive audience, which had hoped for some excitement, sat and listened to droning voices of councilmen and attorneys who read page after page of new ordinances word by word.

Councilmen did the expected early in the meeting in electing Gordon W. Strawbridge as mayor and John S. Hoffmire Jr. as vice mayor. It is the second city of which Strawbridge has been mayor. He served two years as head of the Mill Valley council.

In quick succession the council formally approved the previously announced hiring of Warren Schmid as interim city administrator; Peter Allen Smith, city attorney; Gorden W. Russell, city treasurer at $1 a year. In hiring Schmid, councilmen noted that he would not be a candidate for the permanent city administrator post.

Also approved was the hiring of Mrs. Charles E. Bayless of Berkeley as acting city clerk at $435 monthly. Mrs. Bayless will man the city's temporary city hall at Room 1 of Del Mar School from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mrs. Bayless was just graduated from University of California at Berkeley with a degree in public administration.

As councilmen droned through the expected series of approving "ayes" for prepared ordinances, the first and only split came when Ann L. Ellinwood voted "no" to the proposal to make the term of mayor and vice mayor for one year.

She said later that she favored two-year terms.

The only ordinance bringing comment from the audience was one which would require city approval of subdivisions of fewer than four lots.

"I think that the people should be given an opportunity to see how this will affect their property values," commented real estate agent Edward P. Ward, from the audience.

He was assured by Councilman Leo Souza that the measure was an emergency one and would be

NOVATO'S KEEPING MAP MEN BUSY

Annexations Come In Bunches; Next In Line Are Two 100-Acre-Plus Uninhabited Areas

Novato, undoubtedly Marin's fastest growing city in area, was asked last night to add another 120 acres.

At noon today, city councilmen and chamber of commerce directors heard a planning consultant's recommendation that still another 100 acres be annexed. (See story on page 6.)

John A. Lyddon, who owns 120 acres south of the Novato city limits and east of Highway 101, requested at last night's council meeting that the city annex his property.

"I would rather work with the city than the county in developing it," he said.

Robert Lagle, city planning director, said Lyddon's land extends from Hamilton Air Force Base to the crest of the ridge to the south—"the natural southern boundary of the city."

"Welcome into the city!" said Mayor Robert D. Carrow. The council then instructed the planning staff to work with Lyddon in preparing the annexation, which would be joined to the city as uninhabited land.

The 100 acres proposed for annexation at today's meeting is the McGraw-Hill Book Co. and adjoining property including Tomahawk Lodge, also uninhabited land.

In the works is an 800-acre annexation including Loma Verde and Ignacio, which would require an election by the 1,500-odd Loma verde and 30 to 50 Ignacio residents.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget said today that since its incorporation four and one-half years ago, Novato has added 3,357 acres by annexation, besides those now under consideration or in the process of being annexed. This has increased by about one-third the city's original acreage of 10,600.

Biggest annexation was San Marin, about 1,800 acres taken into the city in January of this year.

Another 10 acres was added last night as the council adopted an ordinance annexing the Pinheiro property (Little League ball park) and North Marin Water District corporation yard.

"This looks like the banner year for annexations," said Baget with obvious pleasure.

School Bond Ballot Again For Larkspur

The Larkspur School District board last night adopted a resolution calling for a $476,000 bond issue election Sept. 15—the fourth try by the district in 16 months for passage of a bond issue.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen said the increase over the $375,000 turned down by voters June 2 was due to greater needs. The money would finance construction of 15 classrooms or four buildings at the Henry C. Hall and San Clemente schools.

Cohen said that providing more classrooms at the two schools would take the load off crowded classrooms in other schools in the district.

If the bond issue should pass in September, Cohen said, it would be one or more years before the classrooms would be ready for occupancy.

An organization meeting of the citizens bond committee will be held today at 8 p.m. in the district offices.

Railroad Asks New Hearing, Hits Statistics

Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. today petitioned the California Public Utilities Commission to reopen its Puerto Suello Tunnel hearing in a dispute over validity of figures contained in an exhibit which was not received at the hearing.

In another move to delay reopening of the tunnel, which was closed by a cave-in during a fire on July 20, 1961, the railroad has filed with the U.S. Supreme Court an appeal from a district court ruling in April that in effect ordered service through the tunnel restored.

The petition for reopening the PUC hearing brought an expression of surprise from Boris H. Lakusta, attorney for San Rafael and Marin County in the

Hospital Board Declines Stand

Individual members of the Marin Hospital District board last night voiced their views on the proposed 12-story "hotel" planned for construction near the hospital, but the board refrained from interjecting itself officially into the controversy.

The label "hotel" was applied to what the developers term a retirement residence, by board member Marion C. Ibach.

Mrs. Ibach said: "This board should understand that it is not for the general public. People will have to buy into the hotel for the initial payment of $10,000. It is not for the average person.

"I call it a hotel really. They have different size rooms. It is quite well designed."

She said the five million dollar development off Via Rolon, which

Turnout Urged At July 1 Meet

A newly formed group calling itself Larkspur Citizens for Orderly Progress yesterday mailed mimeographed letters urging Larkspur residents to protest the proposal for a 12-story "retirement center" on a Greenbrae hill.

The letters urged attendance at the Larkspur City Council meeting on July 1 at 8 p.m. to protest the plans.

Last Wednesday's Larkspur-council meeting was presented petitions bearing some 1,200 names in opposition to the building which the council by 3-to-2 vote earlier approved a 105-foot height variance.

The mimeographed letter, bearing names of 24 residents headed by John Carew and including Lesly A. Daveler, who stepped out as Larkspur mayor in April, declares "a precedent will be established" if the 12-story building is allowed.

It also raises a question regarding alleged tax benefits from the project.

"Potentially this retirement center may be entitled to a special tax privilege—or completely exempt," the letter declares. "If taxes are paid, the difference in revenue between the 140-foot building and multiple-family housing would approximate $9,000 to the City of Larkspur."

Marin Mercury Boils Over 100-Degree Mark

The mercury boiled above the 100-degree mark yesterday in San Anselmo and Novato.

Marin's high temperature of the day—and the year—was recorded at 3 p.m. at the San Anselmo Fire Department, where the thermometer read 103. In Novato, the maximum reading was only one degree lower.

A repeat appeared in prospect for this afternoon. At noon, the temperature atop the Independent-Journal Building in San Rafael was 85, only two degree below that at the same hour yesterday. High reading yesterday in San Rafael was 95.

The Weather Bureau, in a rather contradictory forecast, predicted "continued warm, but cooling" through tomorrow.

At 11 a.m. today, San Anselmo recorded 84 degrees, Corte Madera, 76, and Hamilton Air Force Base, 70.

There was smog in much of the Bay Area to go with the heat yesterday, but the oxidant reading in San Rafael was only .05—one-third of the amount the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District says starts the eyes smarting. San Leandro had the worst smog with an oxidant reading of .26.

Marin's parks and beaches all enjoyed excellent weather, but none was overcrowded. Stinson Beach and Tomales Bay State Parks both reported crowds well below capacity. Park Supervisor Neil Power at Samuel P. Taylor State Park reported there was no overflow there either.

"It was a lovely, cool day," he said. "Come out here and put your paper out."

Father Breathes Life Into Child

A Novato father breathed life into his 3-year-old son today.

Edward G. Lampe of 139 San Carlos Way told Novato firemen his son, Edward J., collapsed without warning and stopped breathing. Lampe immediately started efforts to revive the boy by mouth-to-mouth breathing, continuing until firemen arrived with a resuscitator.

Firemen found the boy partially revived and took him to Novato General Hospital, where his condition subsequently was reported as "fine."

FAMILY AFFAIR

Folksy, Indeed Is Council's First Session

It was a folksy, family affair last night, at the first meeting of the Tiburon City Council.

There were even poems for the city, written and read by Cornelia Darrington Brunette, self-styled "candidate for poet laureate of California."

Mrs. Brunette, who told the audience of 150 persons that she had been a Tiburon resident for "going on 26 years," was attired in a pink panne velvet dress with pink artificial flowers in her hair and moccasin style shoes.

She lauded the pioneers in their trek west and closed with "golden, indeed, were the sun's rays in God's Great Old West!"

The audience was in a party mood and was not ready for the monotonous necessary reading of long-winded legalities in the ordinances which had to be passed.

But Robert I. Conn, partner of City Atty. Peter Allen Smith, won a round of applause as the fastes and least objectionable droner of ordinances, with a pace which was unintelligable but legal.

There were occasional promptings for the newly formed council from its city attorney, and side comments from Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge, a printer, that "there's a typo (error) on the first page of one ordinance."

At one point, Strawbridge looked up at the murmuring audience and said "Hope you can all hear? —If not just shout."

Came a voice from the back: "Why don't the city councilmen shout?" So they did.

The meeting was opened by 15 self-conscious Girl Scouts from junior troop 1951 of Tiburon who

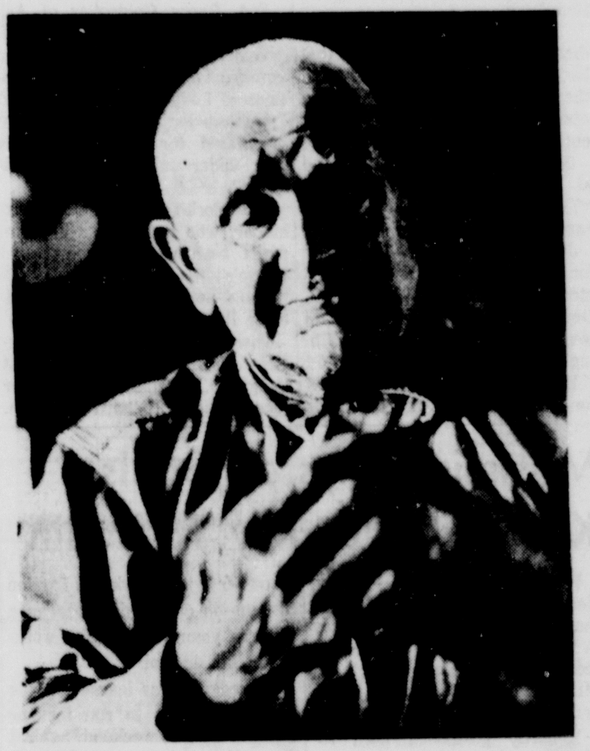
Care, Aged Measure Shelved In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee shelved today President Johnson's proposal for health care for the aged, but moved toward increasing Social Security retirement payments by 5 per cent.

The decision to drop from pending legislation any health care provisions was a heavy blow at any chance of enactment this year.



WILLIAM RISTO AT 104—Point Reyes Station centenarian observed his 104th birthday today with no party, no birthday cake. He doesn't want people to take him food—"they may be trying to poison me."

104-Year-Old Doesn't Want Birthday Cake Or Presents

By ELLEN BRY

There will be no celebration today for William Risto's 104th birthday.

Risto will sit alone in his tiny board house at Point Reyes Station and talk to himself or just stare into space all day. He says he likes it that way. He does not always welcome visitors or let them into his home.

Neighbors have stopped trying to bring a birthday cake or food because Risto sometimes believes people are trying to poison him.

"I thank everybody for his greetings—but I want no food brought here," he says.

He is proud of paying his own way with his $104 monthly social security check, and promises he will leave no unpaid bills. Not even to the undertaker, whom he already has paid for his future cremation.

Risto says he came to this country from Germany in 1882. He went to Texas where he worked on a ranch, milking cows and chopping wood. He came to San Francisco in 1902, helped lay railroad track and fell redwoods to the north.

He cooks his own meals on an electric range, shiny white in his gray house. He wants to make sure he won't end up in the county old people's home.

"I'm a thousand times better off here."

Neighbors keep a close eye on the old man and check on him if they do not see him go to get

Taylor Expected To Provide Tight Vietnam Command

Lodge Again Asserts He Is Not Candidate For GOP Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who has never known defeat, flies to war-torn South Vietnam soon to take over as U.S. ambassador. He is expected to provide a single tight and unified command over U.S. civilian and military efforts.

The soldier-diplomat was named to the Saigon post yesterday by President Lyndon B. Johnson after the resignation of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. Taylor plans to leave for his new post in 10 days or two weeks.

Lodge said he was coming home to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton try to win the GOP presidential nomination.

In Saigon last night, Lodge declared: "I am not a candidate at all and I am not going back at all in order to connive at anything for myself. I cannot be drafted and there are no hidden meanings."

Lodge said today he doesn't see how the war in Vietnam can be an issue in the U.S. presidential campaign—"It involves the Eisenhower administration and the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, and the Truman administration."

"In history when you've had a disaster," Lodge said, "then that becomes a political issue, even if the politicians do not do anything about it. But of course there's no outlook of that kind for the time."

Scranton said he was delighted at Lodge's decision and added, "This is another big boost for this rapidly expanding campaign."

Johnson's selection of Taylor for the hot spot assignment won strong approval of Capitol Hill. Democrats and Republicans joined in predicting overwhelming Senate confirmation.

In South Vietnam, Taylor will have under him two old friends in key spots—Lt. Gen. William G. Westmoreland as U.S. military commander and veteran diplomat U. Alexis Johnson as his political deputy.

Westmoreland, one of the most promising of the Army's younger generals, has been considered a "Taylor man" for about a decade.

Johnson, deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs, has been close to Taylor for about 30 years.

Stepping in behind Taylor as the new chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff will be another Taylor "disciple," Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, who now is Army chief of staff.

Although congressional reaction to Taylor's appointment was mostly enthusiastic Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) called Johnson's decision to nominate a military man "a calamitous mistake." Morse said he will fight Taylor's confirmation in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and on the Senate floor.

Most other members of the committee, including Chairman J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) voiced warm praise of the selection.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination, made no comment on the political implications of Lodge's return. He said "Ambassador Lodge is to be congratulated for bearing up this long under such adverse conditions."

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has thrown his support behind Scranton, hailed Lodge's decision and said it "should materially help the moderate Republican cause."

There was no immediate comment from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower or former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Mississippi Mystery Stalls Kennedy's Journey To Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy delayed the start of a sentimental journey to West Berlin today to direct the federal government's efforts in Mississippi's latest civil rights crisis.

Kennedy postponed until tonight his scheduled departure. He and his wife are to participate in ceremonies marking the first anniversary of the late President John F. Kennedy's famous Berlin speech of June 25, 1963.

Kennedy took himself out of the running yesterday for one of New York's Senate seats, thus leaving his political future still in the realm of speculation.

The attorney general is scheduled to unveil a plaque Friday in Berlin in the square commemorating his brother's speech. The trip also is to include stops in Bonn, West Germany, and Cracow and Warshaw, Poland.

Kennedy, who was to have left last night, delayed his departure to confer with President Lyndon B. Johnson on the disappearance of three young civil rights workers in Mississippi.

Kennedy, it was learned, made his decision not to run for the Senate only last weekend, against the urgings of Democratic leaders and friends in New York, following the plane crash in which his brother Sen. Edward M. Kennedy was injured.

In a statement, Kennedy said that representing New York State in the Senate would be a "challenging and important opportunity for public service." Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., now holds the seat.

But while expressing thanks for the "loyalty and friendship" of those who urged him to run, Kennedy said that "in fairness to them and to end speculation, I wish to state that I will not be a candidate for the United States Senate from New York."

When his decision was announced, Kennedy was in Massachusetts visiting Sen. Kennedy, who is recuperating from a broken back suffered in the plane crash Friday night.

Spectacular display but death for two. (AP Wirephoto)

Fireworks Blast Fatal To Two

NEW YORK (AP)—A fireworks-laden barge exploded in a fury of rockets, flares and bombs on the Hudson River last night, killing two men. Thousands of spectators cheered. They thought it was part of the show.

Half a million persons lined the riverbanks in Manhattan and New Jersey for the fireworks spectacle, produced since 1957 by Macy's department store.

Two other barges, whose crews apparently were unaware of the fatal accident, continued firing rockets into the sky.

At the finale, 20 minutes later, spectators some distance from the blast, off 96th Street, still were cheering. A hush fell on thousands of others as news of the blast spread.

Wallace Rips 'Government Fearers'

DALLAS (UPI) — Alabama's Gov. George Wallace last night charged the nation with becoming "a government-fearing people instead of a God-fearing people."

Wallace roared forth to 7,500 delegates in the keynote address of the U.S. junior chamber of commerce convention and was met with a five-minute standing, cheering ovation at the end.

Only occasional catcalls and boos were heard.

Wallace lashed out at the U.S. Supreme Court for its decision banning prayer in public schools and against the federal civil rights bill.

He said a "force cult" has taken over in Washington, addicted to "pure, brute, naked federal force."

Virginia Schools To Open Again

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP)—One of the last barriers has been cleared away for reopening public schools in Prince Edward County, closed five years ago to avoid desegregation.

The County Board of Supervisors, acting under a federal court order voted 4-2 yesterday to appropriate school operating funds for this fall.

The $189,000 county appropriation, plus state funds, will provide classes for about 1,600 pupils—the number of Negro school-age children in Prince Edward.

Public schools will be operating "without racial discrimination," said the board, but most white children are expected to continue classes in the private, segregated schools they have attended since 1959.

Search Parties Kill 17 Viet Cong

SAIGON, (UPI) — Government search parties have killed 17 Communist Viet Cong soldiers and captured 11 more while searching for two missing American soldiers 50 miles northwest of Saigon, U.S. military spokesmen said today.

But so far they have failed to find any trace of the pair, who disappeared Friday in a Viet Cong "human wave" attack which killed a third American and 27 Vietnamese.

Still another American was killed yesterday in the crash of an observation plane 300 miles northeast of here, and his Vietnamese co-pilot was badly injured.

Yachtsman Quinn In New Zealand Area

Heart Attacks Give Warning, Doctor Avers

Unexpected Fatigue Telegraphs Seizure Year Before Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Impending heart attacks reveal themselves at least a year in advance and need never occur, asserts an Ohio physician who has studied heart disease for more than 18 years.

Heart health is easy—just don't race your motor when you don't have to, advises Dr. Robert S. Green of the Heart Research Foundation of Cincinnati.

Dr. Green and his associates have surveyed more than 1,000 heart attack victims — or their surviving close relatives — and come up with five common-sense rules for avoiding ticker trouble:

1. Act your age.
2. Accept your limitations.
3. Condition yourself for each and every new activity.
4. Avoid fatigue.
5. Obey your instincts — if you feel tired, rest.

The same rules are good treatment after trouble has started, Dr. Green told other physicians at the annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

Never, said Dr. Green, has he had a heart case when there wasn't a warning of at least a year of a coming attack.

The warning?

"You are more tired than you ought to be for what you have done," Dr. Green said. He calls it "pre-heart attack fatigue" and divides it into three stages based on time of occurence before an attack, severity of symptoms and duration of treatment necessary for cure.

First appear unexpected fatigue, the more-tired-than-you-ought-to-be kind. If you don't slow down then, there's suddenly "rapidly progressive fatigue" and you don't snap back as fast. Then there's "absolute fatigue" when you're completely washed out.

At this point, if you're lucky, Dr. Green said, you may get a stern and painful protest from the heart called angina pectoris. Or you may drop dead, and shocked friends will say, "Why, he seemed in perfect health . . . oh, a little tired sometimes, maybe."

Dr. Green said it's all related to "the battle of man for money, to false values."

Relax and reflect, he advised. "Go fishing — and don't use a fishhook."

Diets, drugs, blood thinners, even heart surgery, Dr. Green said, should be regarded as "fads of the moment." He advocates exercise suited to your age and condition.

Federal Agency Orders Cigarette Health Label

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has decided to require that cigarette advertising and labeling include a warning to the public of possible health hazards, it was announced today.

Commission chairman Rand Dixon made the announcement during a congressional hearing on the controversy surrounding the effects of smoking on health.

Dixon did not specify what the regulation will contain. Nor did he say what type of label cigarette manufacturers would be required to carry on packages.

Dixon said today:

"The commission has completed its consideration of the record in this proceeding and has determined that the public interest requires the provocation of a trade-regulation rule for the prevention of unfair or deceptive advertising or labeling of cigarettes in relation to the health hazard of smoking."

Dixon made the statement in remarks prepared in advance for the second day of House hearings on the whole question of cigarettes and the dangers smoking them poses to human health.

Dixon said the commission's decision was being printed and would be formally published "in the very near future."

Dixon's announcement came one day after the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) told the committee that it felt HEW, rather than the FTC, should regulate labeling, and that new legislation was necessary.

Dixon, however, faced some pointed questioning by members of the committee.

Sand Pile Tragedy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Ian Doyle, 8, of San Francisco was killed yesterday when a pile of sand collapsed on him as he was playing at a Sunset district construction site. It took rescuers 20 minutes to dig through the sand to his body.

A record of lynchings kept at Tuskegee Institute shows that since 1900, 1,993 Americans have been lynched, 196 white and 1,797 Negro.

SAUSALITO LUCK

First He Gives Park, And Now Equipment

Sausalito youngsters living in the Spring Valley area can probably be thankful for a councilman's personal touch.

Councilman Carl W. Gabrielson, as acting mayor, went to the office of Stanley S. Langendorf yesterday in San Francisco to deliver a copy of the city council's resolution thanking Langendorf on behalf of the city for his donation of land for a playground at Easterby Street and Woodward Avenue.

Langendorf, who is chairman of the board of Langendorf United Bakeries, "was so delighted with our enthusiastic reception of his gift, he asked how much it would cost to completely equip the playground," reported Gabrielson.

"I told him $5,000 whereupon he presented me with a check for that sum. I also told him that when the playground is ready we will have a dedication with a plaque in his honor at which time school children and little leaguers will be invited and we will call the day Langerdorf Day."

Langerdorf's interest in children, said the councilman, goes back to the time when he was a member of the Columbia Park Boys' Club in San Francisco. "He has always felt that he owed it to the community to help children and young people become good citizens."

The check was presented to the council at a budget hearing last night at which Jan Paul Dyk, who has been on vacation, resumed duties as mayor.

8-Day Parolee Is Picked Up For Murder

EUREKA (AP) — A convicted killer on parole eight days from San Quentin was charged today with another slaying after his capture 100 miles from the scene.

Henry Jones, 47, was charged in the fatal beating of Harold Pavey, 64, who, police said tried to intervene in a violent fight between Jones and his wife, Bertha, last Tuesday night.

Jones was captured a few hours later by the California Highway Patrol and a Mendocino sheriff's deputy as Jones fled south on Highway 101.

Sgt. Gordon Busey of Eureka police said Jones admitted killing Pavey with a 19-inch-long pipe.

Police said Pavey, a meat cutters union representative, had been a friend of the Jones family and was at the home when Jones arrived.

Mrs. Jones told police her husband beat her unconscious and, when she came to, found Pavey lying at the foot of the stairs, dead.

Jones first went to prison July 2, 1947, on a murder conviction. He was paroled in 1959 but returned behind bars seven months later for parole violation. His latest parole release was last June 16.

brought out the flags and led the pledge of allegiance.

They were followed by five self-conscious councilmen who raised their right hands to take the oath of office from George H. Gnoss, county clerk, then stood with uncertain smiles for photos from various newspapers.

As the dull first meeting drew to a close, Mayor Strawbridge almost apologized in saying, "I know it hasn't been too exciting."

And as the motion for adjournment came, two scouts carefully maneuvered a giant cake up to the council from Tiburon's "master baker," John Musso. On it were emblazoned in frosting a shark (tiburon), a seagull, and a horseshoe for good luck.

Then councilmen and onlookers adjourned to the coffee, punch and home made cookies made by councilmen's wives and backers of incorporation as a friendly black dog wandered through the open door and was shooed away from the food table.

Northgate Photo Shop Looted Of Equipment

Someone entered the Camera Cade, 178 Northgate Shopping Center, San Rafael, Monday evening and took $702 worth of camera and radio equipment, it was reported to San Rafael police yesterday.

Manager Donald A. Brady of 400 Canal Street, San Rafael, told police he found the store's front door unlocked at 8:45 a.m. yesterday. Missing were two movie cameras, a tape recorder and a transistor radio. He said the door had been locked at 6:30 p.m. the previous day.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

TODAY:

10:10 a.m., Larkspur — Grease caught fire in the kitchen of Mrs. Pauline Tucker of 8 King Street and caused slight damage to cabinets.

2:10 p.m., Oak Manor — Three units from the Marin County Fire Department extinguished a grass fire on Manor View Drive near Fairfax started by two 5-year-old children playing with matches.

Board Agrees To $42,000 In Road Needs

Marin County supervisors today grimaced, but agreed to pour $42,000 of regular county funds into a one-shot purchase of heavy equipment and trucks for road construction.

The amount was requested by County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost on the grounds that the money collected over the years for replacement of road equipment has been unrealastically low.

Frost cut other items in the county garage budget, to allow the projected tax rate to drop slightly, to $2.361.

The board approved budgets for the building inspection department and for flood control, and learned that revenue for building inspection has been slashed by the incorporation of Tiburon.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, referring to this revenue cut, said that the projected tax rate can be expected to come down by two or three cents when final arrangements are made for contracting for services with the new city in the 1964-65 fiscal year.

The budget for flood control showed salaries totaling $31,059, almost three times that allocated for this year. However, Frost said the figure is illusory, because road department engineers have been working on flood control projects this year, although the budget did not show it.

The budget for the county dump was approved, but a request was made that a letter be sent to the City of Larkspur asking whether the city council wanted the dump operation to continue in that city.

fight to get the rail line restored. He noted that the railroad had contended the PUC had no jurisdiction in the matter, yet seemed to admit some jurisdiction by asking the hearing be reopened.

The PUC has not yet handed down any decision from the hearing, which is called to learn why the railroad has made no move to restore service in the face of Interstate Commerce Commission and federal court orders to do so. Commission chairman William M. Bennett made it rather plain at the hearing, however, that he felt the railroad had failed to make a case.

The exhibit which brought on the railroad petition was intended to show the amount of commercial building in the area over the last three years. It was offered in evidence, but was one of a series of such exhibits which Bennett brushed off as irrelevent.

The railroad's exhibit said the building figures were supplied by the Marin County Development Assn. In a letter filed subsequently with the PUC, Carroll A. Snyker, manager of the association, said the figures used did not agree with those of his organization: they were lower.

Randolph A. Karr, attorney for NWP, contended Snyker's submission was "highly prejudicial as well as erroneous."

The railroad's appeal to the Supreme Court is based on contentions that several rulings of the ICC and the federal district court should be overturned. The ICC denied the railroad's application to abandon the portion of its main line through the tunnel —its San Rafael connection. The district court upheld the ICC ruling.

Lakusta said the railroad would have until Aug. 14 to file briefs substantiating the contentions in its appeal. The ICC, San Rafael and Marin County, and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, all named as defendants in the railroad's court action, would have until Sept. 13 to file answering briefs.

He said the Supreme Court, now in summer recess, could be expected to rule shortly after resuming its session in October. It could either reject the railroad's appeal on the basis of the records or order a hearing on it.

Man Picked Up In Forgery Case

William George Stuart, 32, former bartender at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael, was placed in county jail yesterday by Mill Valley police on forgery charges, his bail set at $1,650.

Police Chief Dan Terzich and Officer John Castellani went to Angel's Camp to get Stuart, who was employed there as a life guard. Stuart, said Terzich, over a six to seven month period last year, passed $1,100 bad checks in Mill Valley, Fairfax, San Anselmo, Santa Rosa, and San Francisco.

School Denied Permit Extension

The formative Years Training School at 501 Cane Street was denied an extension of its use permit last night by the Larkspur Planning Commission.

The denial was based on the state fire marshall's objections to lack of adequate fireproofing at the school.

The commission granted a use permit and architectural approval to plans of George Martinez to build office and warehouse space off Tally's Alley for his electrical contracting business.

has been hotly debated before the Larkspur City Council, "is not incompatable with the general nature of business in this area." But she expressed concern lest approval of the structure "open Pandora's box" to other high-rise developments in the county.

"I don't think we need high rise buildings here," said Mrs. Ibach.

In a letter made available at last night's meeting, board chairman Ernest N. Kittenhofen wrote John D. Carew Jr. of Greenbrae, who is heading opposition to construction of the building, that a professional consultant had suggested to the hospital construction of a 10-story building as part of its future expansion.

Kettenhofen said he was concerned that the area would not develop as "private commercial." He said suitable development should consist of "a medical community."

Board member Herman Hale said, "I wouldn't want a 12-story building stuck up in front of my house."

San Rafael Council Reviews Budget

San Rafael city councilmen reviewed the city's proposed 1964-65 budget of $3,484,005 last night, but took no action.

Councilmen agreed to hold another budget session as soon as possible with heads of the police, fire and public works departments, but no date has yet been set.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen was unable to attend the review session because he was attending the San Rafael Planning Commission meeting as acting planning director. Councilman Louis H. Baar was also absent.

Victim's Brother On Witness Stand

By ROSS DAVIS

Dr. Robert Kenneth Corbett in cool and clinical manner today identified a host of personal belongings of his brother, murder victim Donald G. Corbett Jr., and told a Marin Superior Court jury that signatures on several credit card receipts were forgeries of his brother's name.

The San Francisco urologist, witness for the prosecution in the slaying trial, took a long, sideways look at defendants Robert Lee Jones and John Lee King, but displayed no emotion.

Identified were three suitcases, one recovered in Los Angeles and the other two allegedly in possession of Jones and King when they were arrested in Hawaii, contents of the suitcases, a foot-high discus thrower statue, and a billfold containing numerous credit cards and the receipts.

Doctor Corbett said the billfold, which Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said was in King's possession at time of his arrest, was that of the victim. He extracted over half a dozen receipts charged to credit cards of his brother and said they showed forgeries of Donald Corbett's signature.

The receipts were dated from March 30—two or three days after the Sausalito murder—through April 1, and were received from inns including the Castaway Hotel and the Thunderbird Hotel, both in Miami, Fla.

Another receipt was received in Los Angeles

Suitcase contents identified by Doctor Corbett included clothing of his brother, jewelry, a wristwatch, air force computer data, a metal cash box, checkbooks, dog tags, a pilot's license, and a bankbook.

The doctor testified he became concerned when Donald Corbett failed to confirm by telephone their plans for an Easter get-together at the Sausalito apartment. He said he and his wife phoned the apartment without success throughout Saturday, March 28—and that Sunday evening they drove to the apartment and knocked, but received no answer.

Corbett's body, stabbed 16 times in the back, was found in the apartment the following day.

An earlier witness, Mrs. Lucile Bruker of 2 Corte Lenosa, Greenbrae, testified that while she was working with Marin Society of Artists in Ross in March, Donald Corbett rented two paintings.

The paintings, taken from his apartment allegedly were found later in a Sausalito houseboat occupied at one time by the defendants.

Yesterday afternoon, Dr. John H. Manwaring, a Marin County pathologist, testified Corbett died about 48 hours before discovery of his body. He added, however, the death could have occurred 72 hours before the body was found. Prosecution has contended the murder took place the evening of March 27.

Doctor Manwaring identified adhesive tape as that used to bind Corbett's wrists, ankles and mouth, and said an icepick, introduced as evidence and also allegedly found in the houseboat, could have been the slaying weapon. He further testified a .380 caliber automatic pistol previously introduced by the prosecution "could" have been the blunt instrument used to batter the head of the victim.

Doctor Manwaring said an autopsy disclosed Corbett had had about two alcoholic drinks, but was far below the "drunken" stage. Death, he said, resulted from the back stabbing wounds—with slow blood seepage into the left lung—and not from the head blows.

The latter, he added, may have produced total unconsciousness, however.

He said Corbett probably lay there "20 to 30" minutes before dying.

Auto Industry Rejects Pollution Control Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The automobile industry today rejected a suggestion that it install air pollution controls on all 1967 models.

George A. Delaney, smog consultant for the Automobile Manufacturers Assn., said the industry will be able to meet only its commitment to California by the middle of 1966.

"The very scope and amount of work remaining to be done make it premature to discuss wider application of these engine design concepts," Delaney said.

Bulkhead Line Plan Due Work

Mill Valley planning commissioners last night delegated chairman Robert C. Mountjoy to work with city planning consultant John D. Erickson on a recommendation for a bulkhead line for Richardson Bay.

The commission set a special meeting for Tuesday at 8 p.m. to consider a request from Dr. Alan B. Scott of San Francisco to realign lot lines to provide three homesites instead of four at Manor Drive and Avon Avenue.

A variance was recommended to allow Dr. John R. Lee to have 14 parking spaces behind a medical building to be built at 279 Miller Avenue, where the ordinance calls for 16 spaces.

given further consideration at later council meetings.

Councilmen quickly approved more than a score of ordinances to go into effect immediately. They set up a five-man planning commission, but named no names.

Appointment of planning commissioners, from the 37 persons being considered, is expected at the special council meeting scheduled at 8 p.m. next Monday at the Del Mar School. Also expected to be discussed at that time is borrowing of funds to begin operation of the city.

Councilmen set the second and fourth Mondays as the regular meeting dates.

In short order, they approved ordinances and resolutions to get the city in business, such as approving bonds for city employees, contracting for Marin County to provide tax assessor and collector services at about $300 yearly, temporarily adopting the county's master plan and master street plan; setting up ordinances for licensing of contractors and plumbers, for a building inspection department and board of appeals from the building code; approving the county building code and standard codes on building, plumbing, electrical work and fire prevention codes.

Councilmen passed ordinances prohibiting the obstruction or diversion of natural water courses, approved ordinances so the city would get its share of sales tax rebates, approved street encroachment regulations, set the Tiburon National Bank and Citizens National Bank as official depositories for city monies, approved expenditure of up to $250 for office supplies, and approved basic traffic regulations now in effect.

Councilmen approved work compensation and liability insurance limits, approved use of county staff for a city health office, and officially denoted the city's boundaries.

Councilmen, who prior to taking office have been meeting at various times and places far into the night, agreed that transcripts of the pre-incorporation meetings should be made available at the city office at the school.

Ordinances and resolutions approved include many which are identical with the past county regulations. Councilmen are expected to modify them at future meetings to suit the city's needs.

Marin City Resident Jailed On Warrant

John Lee Morgan, 22, of House 130, Marin City, was arrested by sheriff's deputies last night on a warrant charging him with burglary.

Morgan was held at the county jail under $5,500 bail. He was charged with taking $15 cash and a .45 caliber pistol from the apartment of Ira Carrier, Building A-28, Marin City, on May 14.

Judge Refuses To Free Convict

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court yesterday denied a petition for writ of habeas corpus from Donald Lee Hoerl, a San Quentin Prison inmate, who claimed he is illegally imprisoned.

Hoerl, originally sentenced for burglary in Santa Clara County, in 1957, served at Folsom Prison, was paroled in 1960, and returned to Folsom in 1961 on a parole violation. He escaped from a Folsom work camp in August, 1962, and was sent to San Quentin Feb. 27, 1964.

Hoerl claimed that his fixed term has expired, but Associate Warden Dale B. Frady said that order was rescinded when Hoerl escaped from work camp.

8-Point Plan For Airport Is Outlined

The Novato Chamber of Commerce airport committee last night outlined an eight-point program for the Marin County Airport.

The committee tried to establish a priority list for the things needed at the airport, but could not because "elimination or downgrading of any of these would leave the rest incomplete and to a varying degree unworkable," said Charles R. Johnson, committee chairman.

The recommendations will be given to the Marin County Airport Advisory Committee at a luncheon tomorrow at Nave Lanes, Johnson said. Recommendations by both groups will be presented to the county board of supervisors when it discusses the airport Monday morning, he reported.

The committee advocated:

1. Hiring an airport manager as a county employee, even if on a part-time basis.
2. Install a north-south runway as recommended in the master plan. This runway should be lighted to fill the need of prospective business tenants.
3. Finish resurfacing the present runway to create a parallel taxi strip, needed for safe operation.
4. Make some provisions for administrative office space to conduct the county's airport business.
5. Arrange for a modern fueling and service stand.
6. Surface the new access road to the airport.
7. Provide a parking area for cars. The present one is in the wrong location and is no longer available, Johnson said.
8. Create a level treated tie-down area of at least five acres.

The committee recommended the county begin negotiations to acquire at least 10 acres from W. G. Wright Jr. at either the agreed price of $4,000 per acre by direct purchase, leasing at $240 per acre per year, or some lease-purchase agreement.

It also recommended that the county begin negotiations to purchase the unexpired portion of agreement, which has seven years ot run.

Supervisors Say 'Wait' On Flood Control Taxes

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today overruled, for the time being, the recommendation of the flood control zone 3 advisory board to raise money to purchase four Richardson Bay tidelots.

The zone includes the watershed which drains into the upper part of the bay, including some of the area hit hard this year by reappraisals of property.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he could not support an increase in the tax rate for the zone to make these purchases when owners in the area are already being hurt by big tax increases. The proposal by the zone advisory board would have raised $120,000 to buy four large lots outboard of Railroad Avenue, under water in Richardson Bay.

Behr said he felt certain the purchases were needed, but said that some county and perhaps non-county funds could be used, in addition to the local money from the zone. He mentional federal open space funds, airport funds, and fish and game department money.

The board approved a budget which will raise about $32,000, similar to the amount that was raised in the area this year.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said local money would be needed even if outside funds were given to the county, since matching by local agencies would be required. But Behr said he wanted to wait to see how the rest of the county budget looked before deciding.

Mosk's Office Rules Driver Class Required

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The attorney general's office ruled today that school districts must offer state-required driver education courses during the regular academic year.

The ruling was requested by Dr. Max Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction, who asked whether such courses could be limited to summer school sessions.

Mill Valley Club Contributes Signs To Co-Op Project

Blank for two years, Mill Valley's Service Club sign structure at Miller Avenue and Camino Alto now has eight signs through the courtesy of the city's Rotary Club, president William A. Hamilton said today.

Originally constructed by A. B. Costigan, the structure was revamped somewhat by Melvin Klyce to handle the large signs. Organizations which are posted, with their meeting times, are the American Legion, the Chamber and Junior Chambers of Commerce, Lions, Masonic Lodge, Odd Fellows, Optimists and Rotary.

Novato Annexation Urged For McGraw-Hill Book Site

Better police protection, street lighting and possible park development were listed as principal reasons for annexation of the McGraw-Hill Book Co. site and adjoining areas to the City of Novato today by William R. Zion, government research consultant of Lafayette.

Zion addressed a luncheon meeting of the Novato City Council and the Chamber of Commerce at Nave Lanes.

The city council authorized the Zion study in the McGraw-Hill annexation, to cost $300, at the same time as the Loma Verde annexation study which was presented to the council several weeks ago.

The area of approximately 800 acres lies west of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, north of San Marin. It includes the Tomahawk Lodge and the McGraw-Hill property north of the Tomahawk.

"This area would receive several times the present level of police protection if annexed," Zion reported.

It would also receive street lighting, cleaning and a long-term maintenance and improvement program, he noted.

"The area could cooperate with the city on a park and recreation program that could include employee activities, if a company like McGraw-Hill desired," he continued.

The company would receive local development services such as land use planning; zoning, subdivision and engineering services, and building inspection, he said.

The annexation would also provide the area with participation in the community's local self-government. They would participate in getting the best long-term growth of the area in relation to the rest of the city including land-use patterns. It would give McGraw-Hill an official role in the community.

The cost of such an annexation would be minimal to the city and McGraw-Hill would generate city revenue exceeding city costs, Zion reported. It would cost McGraw-Hill about $4,100 in added taxes at the present 34 cents per $100 city tax, he said.

Property considered for annexation has assessed value of $333,120, according to Zion. It has 15 dwelling units with 30 residents and less than 10 registered voters, qualifying for annexation as uninhabited land, he reported.

The boundaries of the proposed annexation go from the present city limits at Atherton Avenue, along the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way to the north line of McGraw-Hill (which is a portion of the Bodkin estate), west along the north line of this site and south along the west line of the estate to join San Marin on the south.

Stalin Evacuated Lenin's Body

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet press disclosed today that dictator Josef Stalin had V. I. Lenin's embalmed body secretly evacuated from Moscow all the way to Siberia during World War II for safety's sake.

Enclosed in a special coffin, the body was transported during the hot July days of 1941 to Tyumen, Eastern Siberia, about 1,300 miles from the capital.

The literary journal Znamya said the decision was taken to protect the honored remains of the Soviet Union's revolutionary leader from threatening Nazi air raids.

Brown Calls Rafferty Guilty Of Red-Baiting

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today accused Dr. Max Rafferty of "plain, unadulterated red-baiting" for the state school superintendent's attacks on an essay contest.

The governor, at his news conference, backed Thomas W. Braden, State Board of Education president, in his dispute with Rafferty about the contest.

Brown said, however, that he regarded the running battle between Braden and Rafferty as unforunate and harmful to California schools. He said he did not support Braden, whom he appointed, in his efforts to "get rid" of Rafferty as superintendent.

He also criticized sharply on an Orange County group seeking Braden's ouster from the board post. Brown said Braden is serving a term appointment but he would not remove him if he could.

On other subjects, Brown noted that state sales tax receipts were up 11 per cent during the first three months of the year. He said the state is in excellent financial condition, but warned again that new taxes probably will be needed next year.

He said he has not decided on a successor to Malcolm E. Harris, who is resigning as state alcoholic beverage control director to take a position in the liquor industry.

The governor said a talk he had with Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi at the National Governors' Conference earlier in the month led him to fear for the safety of three young civil rights workers missing in the southern state. Brown said Johnson had warned him that there were "desperate people" in Mississippi who will be hard to control.

Brown took Rafferty to task for refusing to serve, at Braden's invitation, as judge of an essay contest sponsored by the private Constitutional Rights Foundation.

The governor said he'd be happy to serve as a judge himself of the foundation's contest on the Bill of Rights.

Rembrandt Is Sold

LONDON (UPI) — A 1661 Rembrandt painting, "An Apostle Reading," was sold at auction today to an anonymous buyer for $470,000. It was part of a massive sale of old masters that brought a total of $1,965,000 at Sotheby's Auction House.

Brown Says He Will Ask For Tax Hike

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today that he would ask the legislature to raise state taxes next year.

Brown, who had earlier said that a tax increase might be necessary, said that a new public school support bill and plans to put higher education construction costs on a pay-as-you-go basis, will "compel us to look for new sources of revenue."

The governor told his weekly news conference that he did not want to discuss forms that the tax increase might take.

But he said he was working with tax reform committees in the legislature and hoped that they could product a tax program that would be "fair" to businessmen and other citizens.

The new public school support bill, passed by the legislature's last session, will cost the state 170 million dollars over the next two years and will push state aid to the schools over the billion-dollar mark annually.

Ex-Intelligence Czar Probes Mississippi Disappearance

COMBINED AP & UPI

Allen W. Dulles, former chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, flies to Mississippi today on a White House mission to look into the mysterious disappearance of three young civil rights workers.

The charred hulk of the station wagon used by the trio was found by FBI agents late Tuesday at the edge of a swamp off a lonely road northeast of the central Mississippi town of Philadelphia.

Meanwhile at Moss Point, Miss., a hall used for civil rights meetings was damaged by fire early today a short time after two white students participating in the "Mississippi project" were arrested on vagrancy charges.

Volunteer firemen confined the damage to a small section of the building.

Firemen said the cause of the blaze, earlier denied, was not immediately known. There was only moderate damage from the flames.

Jackson County Constable Hobert W. Alford said Ronald Ridenour, 24, of Venice, Calif, and Howard Kirchenbaum, 19, of Long Beach, L. I., New York were arrested while "canvassing" a Negro neighborhood.

They told him, Alford said, they were among five civil rights workers who have been in this area since Sunday.

The FBI clamped a lid on most of its investigation of the disappearance of the three youths at Philadelphia.

A Mississippi highway patrolman told a newsman: "The FBI has taken over entirely."

Highway patrol units conducted a house-to-house search late into the night.

Missing are Andy Goodman, 20, and Michael Schwerner, 24, both of New York City, and James Cheney, 22, Negro from nearby Meridian.

They were last seen Sunday night in Philadelphia after Cheney paid a $20 fine for speeding.

Dulles will confer with Gov. Paul B. Johnson, other top state officials and the FBI on the progress of the investigation.

The station wagon was found about 100 feet from State 21, 15 miles northeast of Philadelphia, where Owl Creek backs away to form a backwater slough.

There was speculation that the bodies of the three civil rights workers were somewhere under the dark, cold waters.

At Meridian, Miss., Negro comedian Dick Gregory today blamed President Lyndon B. Johnson for the disappearance of three young civil rights workers.

"At least half of this is Johnson's fault. We told him three months ago. Now he sends in (former CIA director Allen) Dulles. He should have sent more little men earlier."

Gregory said Johnson "hasn't learned to realize that what he does in Mississippi affects the entire world.

"They can say what they want —when they send in a force of southern FBI agents you might as well have the Ku Klux Klan."

FAIRFAX SCHOOLS TO TRY AIDE IDEA

Tentative Budget Includes $3,000 To Hire Assistants In Classrooms; Tax Rate Rises

Fairfax School District trustees last night approved a tentative 1964-65 budget of $532,125, including $3,000 to hire teacher aids next year.

The budget calls for a total tax rate of about $2.30 per $100 of assessed valuation, up two cents over the 1963-64 rate. The general purpose portion of the tax rate is down eight cents, to about $1.80, but override taxes will be up about 10 cents, said Supt. Homer Sisk.

The general purpose rate is down because of additional state aid under the Unruh Bill, and more state basic and equalization aid resulting from growth in the district, he explained.

Teacher aids — an innovation in the district — will be used on a regular basis to assist teachers, especially in the primary grades. From three to five persons will be hired to do clerical tasks the teachers now do, and to assist in the classroom with certain jobs. Volunteer help also will be used.

Also under consideration is the possibility of using readers to help correct compositions and themes, Sisk said.

The total budget is $92,735 higher than the 1963-64 appropriations. It includes an increase in undistributed reserves to $38,000 from $20,500, provision for five additional teachers, and salary increases for personnel. The 1963-64 budget was based on an averaged daily attendance of 908, and the new figures on an average of 1,044.

First and second grades will go on double sessions next year, and the library and music room at Central School will be used as a classroom, to provide rooms for the five additional teachers.

The board also added $740 to the budget for improvement of the Deer Park School site.

A public hearing and adoption of the budget and the board's annual organizational meeting are scheduled Aug. 4 at 7:45 p.m. at Central School.

The board approved a request for purchase of an air conditioner for the district office at $250.

The resignation of Mrs. Elizabeth Hardin, seventh grade teacher at Central School was accepted.

Mosk Roadblocks Water Pollution Power For Bay

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Efforts of the Bay Area Regional Water Pollution Control Board to clean up San Francisco Bay underwent a sharp set-back today as the result of an opinion handed down by Attorney General Stanley Mosk.

The opinion said the board cannot regulate discharge of waste originating outside its regional boundaries and entering the bay through natural channels.

Therefore, the board cannot regulate the proposed discharge from the San Joaquin valley return flow drainage canals contemplated under the joint federal-state San Luis unit of the Feather River project.

Burglar Augments His Collection Of Tools

A screw driver was used to pry open loose boards and enter the rear tool shop of Honda of Marin, 1542 Fourth Street, Monday night to steal more screw drivers, San Rafael police reported today.

Tools, including screw drivers, wrenches and pliers were found to be missing yesterday when the shop was opened at 8 a.m., according to police. Total value of the missing items was estimated at $237.

Larkspur School Board Uses First Of New Bond Issue Cash

The Larkspur School District board last night put into motion the spending of the first monies from the successful June 2 tax increase election.

It authorized Supt. Milton S. Cohen to call for bids on blacktopping and painting at the Neil Cummins and Larkspur - Corte Madera schools and repair of the rain gutters at Neil Cummins School which have caused leaks in eight classrooms.

The Larkspur School District board also:

1. Set July 1 for reorganization meeting.

2. Accepted the resignation of Virgil Thesher, custodian at San Clemente School.

3. Held over for consideratioin in the fall whether to continue the after-school sports program.

Brown Reshuffles Secretarial Staff

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretarial changes were announced by Governor Edmund G. Brown today.

Sherrill D. Luke, formerly secretary for urban affairs, was appointed cabinet secretary to the governor. He succeeds Frank Mesple, who was named legislative secretary.

Robert A. Chick, travel secretary since November, 1962, was named as a second, full-time staff secretary in the Los Angeles office of the governor. Jack Tomlinson, former department of finance employee, succeeds Chick as travel secretary.

More Items Missing At Furniture Store

More items have turned up missing at Brown's Home Furnishers at 38 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, store manager Elmo Harris told police yesterday after the store was believed to have been burgled by someone "in hiding" Monday night.

Harris said that in addition to a television set, tape recorder and vacuum cleaner noted as missing yesterday morning, also missing are an AM-FM radio and a portable television set. Total value of stolen goods is $761. The thief was believed to have remained in the store after closing, then opened the back door from the inside to make off with his loot.

Senate Unit Votes Excise Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee adopted today a proposal to cut excise taxes on furs, cosmetics, handbags and jewelry by 260 million dollars a year.

The cut was proposed by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.) and adopted 13-3, as a substitute for a Republican proposal to repeal the taxes entirely.

The effect of the substitute is to shift the 10 per cent levies, which date from the first year of World War II, from a retail price to a manufacturer's price basis. The shift would take place Oct. 1, 1964.

Hearing Slated For Muni Bonds Curb

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A full hearing in September of the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee to discuss legislation curbing current business practices of municipal bond attorney and underwriters, was announced by Assemblyman John T. Knox (D-Richmond), chairman, today.

Knox said his committee is inquiring into the affairs of a community services district in Sutter County, known as Rio Ramaza, which was organized he said by a single landlord and his family to raise risk capital for a promotional real estate venture.

Sausalito Councilmen Face Pay Hike Decision

Sausalito City councilmen gave preliminary approval last night to the operating and maintenance portions of the city's proposed $612,760 budget.

Further discussion on proposed salary raises for firemen, police, public works employees and clerical workers is scheduled for the next meeting of the finance committee at 7 p.m. next Wednesday at the city hall.

Present proposals would call for firemen to get a one and one-half-step increase in salaries; policemen a two-step increase, and public works employees a one and one-half-step increase. Clerical employees would get the normal one-step raise.

James Leech, attorney speaking for city employees, last night reported to the council that firemen believed they should get a raise equaling that of policemen.

Prior to the regular council meeting, councilmen met with Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck to discuss salaries and the special problems of policing Sausalito which require higher pay, councilman O'Hara Chapin reported.

Also set for the finance committee meeting Wednesday is discussion of library finances.

Fixtures Stolen From Newly-Built Home

A garbage disposal unit and a stove about to be installed at a home under construction at 116 McCoy Road, San Rafael, were taken Monday evening, San Rafael police said today.

The items, valued together at $245, were stored on the site, reported contractor Keith K. Kuhl of 103 Orange Street, San Rafael.

Tam Valley Sanitary Unit Agrees On Budget

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors set a tentative 1964-65 budget of $35,300 last night but could not adopt the budget until receipt of tax rolls from the county assessor. The subject will be taken up again July 14.

The current budget is $32,900 and, according to Gale Bishel, publicity chairman for the board, this is the fourth year in a row the budget has been reduced. Tax rate is expected to be reduced by eight cents. It is now 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

County Grants Four-Fold Increase In Payment For Indigents's Burials

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved a new contract for indigent burials at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, with a major increase in payment by the county.

During early negotiations, reported county administrator Alan Bruce, the requests seemed excessive, but it turned out that the cemetery has been giving the county much service virtually free.

The new rate will be $100 a burial, compared to the $25 now paid. The Catholic Mount Olivet Cemetery has agreed to the same rate, Bruce said. The new rate is only about 26 per cent of what is charged for a private burial, he reported.

"Until the current fiscal year, the volume of indigent burials has been only about two per cent of total burials," Bruce said. "Recently, however, the proportion of indigent burials has increased to about 12 per cent."

The cost of indigent burials for the coming year has been tentatively set in the budget at $21,000.

The board agreed to send supervisor Peter H. Behr to testify before the state Assembly interim committee on revenue and taxation for the county's "action plan" for new taxes and increased state aid. The action plan was approved by the board in December and circulated to other county officials.

The plan calls for studies on new sources of revenue, including increases in income or sales taxes, and for more state aid to local governments, especially schools.

Behr was also given permission to make a pitch for his proposal for a three per cent sales tax on real estate, as long as he makes it clear he is speaking for himself and not the board.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Agreed to send supervisor George H. Ludy to a meeting of the state County Supervisors Assn. in San Diego to discuss redistricting of supervisorial districts.

2. Agreed to an increase in use of the Nalline testing program for past narcotics users in the county.

3. Approved a proposal to allow the county retirement board to invest 15 per cent, rather than 10 per cent as now, of its funds in first deeds of trust on houses.

4. Set a policy that the top hiring age for safety officers in the county will be 35, so that they may qualify for the retirement plan.

5. Approved a land transfer for Earl F. Swanson whereby he would give up .033 of an acre of land for the Coyote Creek widening in exchange for .033 of an acre from a neighboring parcel.

6. Agreed to purchase easements of .086 of an acre from Morgan W. Sanborn and Virginia S. Latham for $4,797 and .011 of an acre from Bob L. Lee for $1,775 and land purchases of .028 of an acre from Joseph J. Ryan for $5,500 and .006 of an acre from James E. Bode for $540 for the Coyote Creek widening.

7. Purchased a 7,983 square foot vacant lot on North San Pedro Road in Venetia Meadows for eventual widening of the road from Louis A. Yuvan for $7,000.

8. Agreed to assure the Army engineers that there would be local funds to pay for the Gallinas Cerek dredging project if the federal government decided to participate and the total cost came to more than $200,000. The present estimate of cost is $90,000.

9. Tentatively approved a complicated series of agreements with the state and the City of Novato and developers of the Scottsdale subdivision, allowing the city and county flood control district, aided by the developer, to build flood control works downstream from the subdivision, including the installation of pumps.

10. Approved a joint powers agreement for county participation of up to $66,000 in the Miller Avenue widening, Mill Valley.

11. Approved for one more year the use permit for operation of schools for the mentally retarded in homes in Santa Venetia.

12. Set a hearing July 14 on rezoning of land in Oak Manor Highlands, owned by Mildred Simon.

13. Appointed Eugene D. Brannan as deputy sheriff; George E. Johnson as draftsman, planning department; Marian Hixon as social worker, welfare department, and Viola Mahony as intermediate typist-clerk, public works department.

Swimmer Is Drowned

VERONA, Calif. (UPI) — Charles R. Tallman, 24, Rio Linda, drowned yesterday in the Feather River about one mile north of here, the Sutter County sheriff's office said. Deputies said Tallman apparently fell into a hole in the river bed while preparing to go swimming.

BALLOON RACE TO OPEN PLAYGROUNDS SEASON

The San Rafael Recreation and Park Department will launch the summer playground season tomorrow by sending aloft balloons carrying postcards that may bring the finders prizes.

"Operation Blast-off" is sponsored by the department and the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, and will be held on all 11 playgrounds and park areas operated by San Rafael.

Prizes offered by the chamber include a $5 purchase order to both the sender and recipient of the postcard coming from the greatest distance; five $1 bills to the cards from the next greatest distance, and theater passes to 15 other recipients of the cards.

Children visiting the playgrounds will find out the postcards being sent aloft with their names and addresses. Finders drop the cards, bearing a recreation department return address, into the mail box.

Theft Comes To Missiles Field

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — Thieves now have entered the missile field.

A Falcon missile has been stolen from the lawn of the Alamogordo Chamber of Commerce.

The missile is part of the chamber's missile museum donated by the military services and contractors at nearby White Sands Missile Range.

The missiles were rebuilt from fired missiles.

Workmen Get Thrill But No Jolt From It

NEWTON, Kan. (AP) — Street workers thought they had trouble when they cut through an underground cable during a construction project.

But no sparks flew and nobody complained. A check with local utilities failed to disclose the owner of the cable.

After being convinced that the cable wasn't connected to anything, workers continued the construction.

Novato Will Take Over Burial Ground

The old Novato cemetery on Simmons Lane will become a pioneer memorial park.

The Novato City Council last night unanimously passed a resolution taking over the property on Sept. 8.

This ends more than three years of council inquiry into keeping vandals out of the cemetery and maintaining it.

Gerald Gooch of Russell and Gooch Mortuary of Mill Valley owns controlling stock in the cemetery. Previous and present Novato councils have asked, without success, that Gooch clean up the cemetery and replace the headstones.

Alabama Goes For Timber Industry

MONTGOMERY, Ala (AP)—Timber-based activities are playing an increasingly important role in Alabama's economy. The U.S. Forest Service estimates the value of Alabama timber shipments annually at more than 500 million dollars. Woodsmen harvest two billion board feet of timber each year from the state's 21 million acres of woodlands.

The Forest Service predicts Alabama and the South will become the main sources of the nation's lumber supply. Already Alamaba ranks second nationally in pulpwood production.

Fairfax Studying Bonds To Rebuild Civic Center

A Fairfax citizens committee studying a proposed city hall remodeling and expansion program last night decided a bond issue probably would not go on the ballot until after November.

The project includes a new fire station, demolition of the old firehouse, remodeling of the city hall to enlarge police department space, and new council chambers.

Committee chairman Stan Wilsey said the group feels it will be less expensive to do the whole project at one time, rather than spread it over a period of years. Wilsey is to investigate financing over a 20-year period, rather than 25 years.

The bond issue, if approved by voters, would entail no increase in taxes. Anticipated payments to retire bonds can be made out of city income, Wilsey said.

Last night's session was an "exploratory" one, he said. All members of the city council attended. Another meeting probably will not be held for at least a month, the chairman said.

Other committee members, appointed by council, are William Hughes, Kenneth Edgar, William Young, Mervin Kern, Mrs. Dolores Dollahite, George Cowell and Leo Cronin.

Classmates Save Stray Dog, Find Home For Him

He won a reprieve from an apparent death sentence and found a home.

The stray dog showed up on the Horace Mann School playground. He was perhaps too rough in his playing. Some called him wild. He was apprehended and confined at the city dog pound. Last year, 1,172 stray dogs made the trip, were unclaimed and were disposed of.

But the sixth grade class organized a "Save the Dog" campaign.

The $9 payment to retrieve Lucky was made; then a series of foster homes were found. He found a permanent home with the Clifford E. Bjorks, thanks to Judy Miers, who learned of a home where Lucky might be welcomed.

Goldwater Won't Get Ex-Slave's Support

OCALA, Fla. (AP)—James Porter, born a slave, registered again this spring to vote in forthcoming elections.

Kaiser Hospital Plan Hearing Set

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night set for July 14 a hearing on a use permit for a Kaiser Hospital and medical clinic at Northgate North.

Permanente Medical Foundation plans to build a clinic, and later a hospital, on nine acres of the site north of the Northgate Shopping Center. Directors of the foundation voted yesterday to exercise an option to buy the property from developer Douglas M. Christensen, subject to soils test and approval of the permit by the city.

A Kaiser spokesman said today plans for the hospital have not yet been drawn, but it would be similar to one built by Permanente in Hayward, which is a three-story building.

There will be a hearing on a revision of the master plan for Northgate North, originally approved for an office building and motel-convention center.

There also will be a hearing on a use permit for the clinic and hospital, sought by Christensen.

Commissioners also set hearing dates of July 14 and 28 for another proposed Terra Linda project, across Highway 101 from Northgate North.

The proposed project along the Highway 101 frontage road, between the Terra Linda Interchange and Professional Center Parkway, includes 84 multiple residential units, two office buildings, and a gasoline service station. The hearing will be on a master plan for the project submitted by Charles Bell and a use permit for the buildings.

The commission approved a tentative "subdivision map of Peacock Gap Unit 1, at the southeast corner of Biscayne and Riviera drives, including a 1.85-acre baseball site offered to the city by Draper Companies and a 7.3-acre school site.

Commissioners approved the map on the condition that the school site is judged acceptable by the San Rafael Board of Education. (The board last night discussed the site but reached no decision.)

In the same area, the commission approved a lot subdivision at the northwest corner of Biscayne Drive and Point San Pedro Road, a tentative map of four lots in Peacock Gap Unit 3 on the north side of Biscayne Drive opposite Riviera Drive, and a tentative map of eight lots in Peacock Gap Unit 4, on the north side of Biscayne Drive near Peacock Drive. All were submitted by Peacock Gap, Inc., owner and subdivider.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Granted Drs. Michael J. Franzblau and William J. Filante a use permit and architectural approval for a medical office building at 540-44 48 D Street, after a public hearing at which no protest was made.
2. Approved a tentative map of a five-lot subdivision, Hazel Estate, on the west side of Clayton Street near Ross Street, sought by John MacPhee and Arthur Lang.
3. Granted Shell Oil Co. a use permit for a gasoline service station at Second and Minnie streets with condition that there be no access to Second Street. The vote was 4 to 1, with Commissioner Carl S. Brown dissenting.
4. Approved the final subdivision map of Twelveoak Hill Unit 3 at the extension of Las Gallinas Avenue and Maple Hill Drive containing 39 units, submitted by Marin Master Builders.
5. Approved a tentative map of a 40-lot subdivision, Terra Linda Unit 22, west of Devon and Hunt drives, submitted by Alameda Homes Corp., owner and subdivider.
6. Granted Blue Streak Raceways a one-year renewal of its permit for an auto hobby raceway at 15 Lovell Avenue, off Woodland Avenue.
7. Granted A. R. Roumiguere a permit to use the rear portion of two lots at 9-11 Laurel Place for parking with the condition that he remove a plank between curb cuts in front of the adjacent office building.
8. Approved the final map of a 62-lot subdivision, Glenwood Forest Unit 1, northwest of Unit 2 and the extension of Knight Drive.
9. Set for July 14 and 28 hearings on the rezoning of Porto Bello West on Point San Pedro Road, between Porto Bello and Harbor Estates, from unclassified to duplex.
10. Agreed to notify Peacock Gap Inc. that if it did not submit requested information to the planning staff on four directional and identification signs by July 2, the city manager would issue a notice to remove the signs.

Commissioners Thomas R. O'Toole and Walter J. Coyne were absent.

Planes Put On Skis For Mercy Flight

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (UPI) — Two ski-equipped Hercules transport planes today were on their way for the winter-bound antarctica to pickup a critically injured sailor.

The Navy said the planes, piloted by Cmdrs. Frederick S. Gallup of Warwick, and Lt. Robert D. Mayer of North Kingston, would fly first to Christchurch, New Zealand. They were expected to arrive at McMurdo Station, the American installation in Little America, early Saturday.

The injured sailor is builder 1/c Bethel M. McMullen, 29, who suffered a broken back when he fell from the second floor of the fire house at McMurdo Station.

Rec Meeting Set

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Community Center to discuss the preliminary budget for the 1964-65 fiscal year. The proposed budget is $64,100, down $500 from this year.

NIGHT LIFE IS ONLY LIFE FOR GRUNION

REDONDO BEACH (AP)—"The Grunion are running!"

The cry sent seafood lovers racing for the beach yesterday. Grunion are tasty little fish (up to nine inches) who spawn on tidal sands. For 200 yards the beach was alive with tiny fish.

After all but a few were gone, John H. Prescott, curator of fishes at Marineland Aquarium, investigated. Grunion, he knew, run only at night. His report:

"The anchovies were running."

Anchovies are used mostly as bait. They aren't as tasty, fresh, as grunion. And they were probably running, said Prescott, from a school of bigger fish, who chased them right up to the sand.

Suburbs of the 15 largest metropolitan areas grew three times as fast as the central cities between 1960 and 1962, according to the Census Bureau.

AWOL Seaman Injured In Novato Accident

Michael Patrick Mullens, 19, got a bump on the head when a car in which he was riding hit a tree beside San Jose Boulevard in Novato early today—and he'll likely get a harder jolt from the Navy.

Mullen, said Novato police, is AWOL from the Navy at Treasure Island. He was held for naval authorities at Hamilton Air Force Base after being treated at the base hospital.

Mullen was riding with Patrick William Awana, 21, of San Francisco in a car that swerved off the road at 4:10 a.m. and hit a tree in the yard of Capt. Lee Roy Goettsche at 1381 San Jose Boulevard, police reported.

Driver and passenger piled out of the car and fled. Awana, however, returned later. Police found Mullens, with blood on his forehead, looking for a ride on Highway 101.

Paul Russell Clark, 16, of 190 Pacheco Avenue, Novato, was cut on the middle and index fingers of his left hand in a two-car accident at 5:57 p.m. yesterday at Fourth Street and Industrial Way, Novato Police reported.

Carroll Burns Dow, 50, of 693 McClay Road, Novato, driving south on Fourth Street, was cited by police for failure to yield the right of way when making a left turn. Clark was northbound on Fourth Street when the Dow car turned in front of him, according to police. Clark was to see his own physician.

Bair, former member of the board of directors, California state fair, was appointed today as chief of the division of fairs and expositions, Charles Paul, director of agriculture announced. Bair succeeds A. E. Snider, who retired as division chief several months ago. Bair is a native of Arcata, Humboldt county.

City Planner Is Selected For San Rafael

George Hugh Rodgers, 36-year-old planning director of Lodi, has been selected to become city planner for the city of San Rafael.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen announced today that if the city council approves, Rodgers will take over the job Aug. 1 at a salary of $900 a month.

Rodgers will fill the vacancy left by resignation last week of engineer Daniel P. Coleman, who had served as acting planner for three months.

Rodgers was a planning technician in Palm Springs in 1953-55, director of planning and zoning in Greenville, S.C., from May, 1955, to February, 1957, and since then has been in his present job in Lodi.

After graduation from University of North Carolina in 1951 with a major in economics, Rodgers completed a two-year post-graduate course to obtain a master of regional planning degree. He is a native of Charlotte, N.C., and an associate member of the American Institute of Planners.

At last night's planning commission session, Andersen served as acting planning director.

During the session, Fred C. Robbins Jr. was named as commission chairman succeeding Pat Hetherton, and Commissioner Carl S. Brown was named vice chairman.

More than 8.6 million students will be enrolled as college undergraduates by 1975, according to the U.S. Office of Education.

State Employment Aide Gets New Job

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Vernon G. Graham, chief of the Department of Employment's accounting section for the past 20 years years, has been appointed to the new position of chief of the Division of Accounts and Tax Collections, effective July 1.

Graham will receive a monthly salary ranging from $1,286-$1,564. The division includes the headquarters office accounting and auditing sections, and 37 field audit offices located throughout California.

Marin General Hospital Lowers Room Rates $1

Room rates for the vast majority of beds at Marin General Hospital were lowered by $1 a day last night by the hospital district board.

The board voted 3-1, with Marion C. Ibach dissenting, to lower the rates for two-bed rooms from $27 a day to $26.

The lowered rates were first suggested by board member Charles A. Rowe, who last night pushed for the lower rate despite objections of Mrs. Ibach and hospital administrator William W. Turner.

Rowe said that with an increased number of beds at the hospital, and the expected increase in the number of patients, "the savings should be passed along."

Mrs. Ibach said the hospital's rates were lower than the average rates charged in the Bay Area. She contended that a retirement program for hospital employees, establishment of a fund for purchase of new equipment and air conditioning in the emergency department should come first.

Turner said that if the hospital averaged fewer than 140 patients, there would be a deficit. "We have to have cash to operate the business," he emphasized.

The board also approved the budget for the next fiscal year. Depending on the number of patients who use the hospital facilities, operating expenses could vary from $3,293,189 to $3,895,431. The board approved four sets of figures which show revenue and expenses for 136, 145, 160 and 170 average number of patients.

The Marin Hospital District Board Also:

1. Adjourned into an executive session with the district's attorney, Harold F. Riede, for 35 minutes, after which it was stated that no decision had been reached and that the hearing demanded by Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman would continue on July 14.

2. Approved as associate staff members Drs. S. Abel Hillel, Edwin P. Bremman, Frederick R. Burrell, F. Gordon Dunn, John H. Jolly, M. W. Neal and David W. McCullough.

3. Cited the hospital district's volunteers for "very strong programs" developed in the past year.

4. Denied a request by James E. Moore and Eugene Aureguy to lease land on the north side of the hospital for construction of a convalescent hospital because of a shortage of land for the district's own use.

5. Referred a proposal by Peter Gottreiner of Greenbrae to act as a consultant on physical therapy to the hospital to Turner for consideration.

6. Decided to ask Riede for advice on how to proceed to get bus service to the hospital after hearing that all informal approaches had been exhausted.

7. Approved spending about $6,000 for an addressograph system.

8. Decided to use the firm of Hood and Strong of San Francisco for the district's annual audit rather than the services of the county auditor-controller's office.

9. Decided to set aside $6,500 a month in an account for purchase of new equipment.

10. Approved a resolution consolidating the district's election with the general election of Nov. 3, at which time the terms of board members Charles A. Rowe and Herman Hale will expire.

11. Hired J. H. Feller and Associates of San Rafael for $1,300 to study the medical staff's organization.

12. Wrote off $5,301.92 in bad debts.

Churchill Kin Dies

LONDON (UPI) — Capt. George Spencer-Churchill, 88, cousin of Sir Winston Churchill, died today in Queen Mary's Hospital, where he had been hospitalized with severe burns last week after he fell into a hot water bath at his home.

Curtain Rings Down On Waldo Film Making

Filming of the 20th Century-Fox movie, "Erasmus With Freckles" ended yesterday at Waldo Point near Sausalito, the stars have left and, according to the company's nurse, Mrs. Twila Mills, "The landscape will be clean as a whistle by tomorrow night.

The nurse said the boat, River Belle, on which much of the action at Waldo was shot, will be taken apart in six sections and trucked to Hollywood. The tiny house nearby, in which actress Jane Wald lived, will be left behind, to become property of a crane operator who lives at Waldo.

"We were very fortunate," said Mrs. Mills. "We had only two minor injuries during the eight days shooting. A pole fell on an actor's foot and wind blew a sliver into the eye lid of Peter Kaluha, an extra, of Waldo Point."

Rifle Owner Held During LBJ Visit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A rifle owner was held in jail during President Lyndon B. Johnson's San Francisco visit last weekend, at the request of the Secret Service, police said today.

Officers said the man, Clinton Phillip Derry, an unemployed surveyor, surrendered a .22-caliber Remington rifle at his apartment Thursday.

He was held from Friday until Saturday morning on a booking of "en route to the U.S. Marshal" then was released and left town, police said.

Police said they were informed the detention was prompted by a few comments made by the man.

$9.7-MILLION ROAD PLAN GIVEN BOARD

County Construction Proposed Over Next Five To Seven Years in Marin

A $9,700,000 proposal for construction of county roads in the next five to seven years was handed to the Marin County Board of Supervisors late yesterday.

The list included the major projects which County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said will be "urgently needed" within that time. Cities in the county would be expected to pick $1,262,860 of the total tab of $9,678,461.

Right of way costs in the projects would amount to $3,790,100, with the rest going for construction.

The board was expected to take up the county road budget for the coming fiscal year this afternoon.

One of the most costly projects shown was widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to four lanes from Wolfe Grade to the Ross city line. The bulk of the total cost of $1,334,000 would be for right of way.

Another major project proposed is the five-year plan of cooperating with the City of San Rafael in widening Point San Pedro Road, which will cost about $2,500,000.

In all, 37 projects were included, but many were actually several phases of a single stretch of road. Among the largest single jobs were $949,000 for widening North San Pedro Road to four lanes from Civic Center Drive to La Pasada, and $803,00 for drainage work for and widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from White Hose Pool to Inverness.

Construction of Atherton Avenue to four lanes from Highway 101 to Olive Avenue, Novato, would cost $505,900, with the City of Novato paying 7.2 per cent of the cost.

Widening and realigning 2.05 miles of Petaluma-Point Reyes Road would cost another $459,000.

Frost noted that in his projection, no roads which do not exist were included. Presumably such projects as a road from Terra Linda to San Anselmo or Fairfax would be an additional cost.

The public works director also suggested a go-slow attitude on major east-west routes for now, waiting for the state to make a decision on what route it will use when extending Highway 17 from San Rafael to Point Rayes National Seashore.

County Administrator Alan Bruce has suggested the county may want to consider a bond issue after seeing the figures.

2 Persons Drown While Swimming

SAN JOSE (AP) — The heat drove scores of people to swimming spots yesterday and there were at least two drownings in Santa Clara County.

Gilbert Vasquez, 17, of San Jose, developed cramps while swimming in a Coyote Creek pit. He fought off efforts of a companion to save him.

Skin diver George McConkey of Santa Clara became stuck under a submerged bridge at Chesbro Dam near Morgan Hill. Other skin divers were unable to pull him out in time.

$15,000 Is Granted To Nurse Program

Marin Hospital District board members received notification last night that the hospital district and the Marin Junior College District have been given $15,000 by the William Babcock Foundation to start a two-year registered nursing program.

Ann H. McCorry, administrator of the foundation, wrote that the money was given with the understanding that the first student would be enrolled in the program by 1965.

The college and hospital are to assure the foundation that the planning phase of the program will not take more than 12 months. The money is earmarked for employment of a person and staff materials to plan and set up the program.

Hospital board chairman Ernest N. Kettenfoffen said, "This is certainly wonderful news." Board member Marion C. Ibach said, "I think this is one of the most important things in terms of medicine in the county."

Caroline Injured

HYANNIS, Mass. (UPI) — Caroline Kennedy, 7-year-old daughter of the late President John F. Kennedy, broke "a couple of small bones" in her left wrist in a fall from her pony Maccaroni, it was learned today. The injury occurred a few weeks ago but was not discovered until her mother, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, noticed a lump on her wrist yesterday.

Hub Council Approves Buying Police Cars, But Local First

City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt got the go-ahead signal from the San Anselmo City Council last night to buy three new police cars, but only after the council threw a hurdle in his way.

Flautt had proposed that the city purchase specially designed police cars through the State of California, identical to Dodge sedans recently bought by San Rafael Police Department.

The cars, Flautt said, were available immediately and included a 50,000 mile warranty, guaranteed for servicing by local Chrysler dealers. They could be purchased before July 10 for the same price the state pays for California Highway Patrol vehicles—$2,399 plus $50 handling charge and sales tax.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith felt "local dealers should be given a chance to compete." He asked if Flautt had notified all local automobile dealers of the city's purchase plans.

"Let's check and make sure," suggested Councilman John M. Reichmuth.

"I've already checked," shot back Flautt. "The earliest other models could be supplied is in October."

The council instructed Flautt to submit bid requests to all automobile dealers in Marin. With this stipulation, a resolution was passed allowing him to purchase the state vehicles, if no local dealer could come up with a better bargain.

Novato Teen-Agers Protest Pool Fees

About 30 teen-agers last night protested to the Novato City Council at the prices charged in the municipal swimming pool and hours that the pool is kept open.

The pool opened Monday.

During discussion the council learned that attendance the first two days was between 1,200 and 1,400 paid admissions.

The council took no action on the teen-agers' complaint but asked the group to meet with Edmund Mahaney, director of parks and recreation, to iron out their troubles. They were also told to ask Mahaney to put them on the agenda for the first council meeting in July if everything was not straightened out.

Warren Laufer, 17, of 1464 Pastel Lane, president of the teen club, was spokesman for the group.

"We want the council to lower the price from 50 cents to 35 cents with a membership card to the teen club," Laufer said. The teen club is sponsored by the parks and recreation department as part of the summer recreation program.

Laufer also asked that the pool be kept open between 5 and 6:30 p.m. so youths are not charged two admissions for one day of swimming. It now reopens at 6:30.

Mrs. John Machado of 1424 Dawes Street, who brought the delegation to the meeting, asked that the pool be kept open continuously during the supper hour and close at 10 p.m. instead of 9:30.

"You will get more money by letting more kids use the pool," she said in arguing for a lower price.

Councilman J. Wayne Womack, who headed the citizens pool committee to get the bonds passed, reminded the group that it could get books of tickets which would then cost 30 cents per swim.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget said that the first two days, only 35 books of tickets had been sold.

"I feel that this protest is premature," Womack said.

During World War II, at the height of meat rationing, a Texas shipyard used bananas instead of grease to prepare the ways on which new ships slid into the water.

Russ Predicts Major Power Disarmament

GENEVA (UPI)—Deputy Premier Valerian A. Zorin today said further voluntary cutbacks by the Soviet Union and the United States in the production of nuclear explosives is possible even though no formal agreement is in sight.

Zorin, who is heading the Soviet delegation to the United Nations 17-nation disarmament conference, made his prediction at a foreign press association lunch.

He said cutbacks by the world's two biggest nuclear powers on the basis of mutual example "is quite possible" although he saw no prospects at this time for any formal agreement.

Answering questions, Zorin said he did see some hope that agreement can be reached on the destruction of bombers. But, he stressed that the western powers first will have to agree in principle to Moscow's proposals for the destruction of all bombers before talks on how to do it can begin. The United States refused to make any such commitment beforehand.

Novato Switches Firms For Insurance Policies

The Novato City Council last night changed the city's insurance company after the present insurance carrier served notice it would not renew the policy.

Worth Fenner, agent for Glens Falls Insurance Co., last September was awarded a three-year contract to write the city's insurance when he was low bidder among local agents. Recently the Glens Falls Insurance Co. canceled Fenner as its agent and named Alton Lerch as agent.

Lerch wrote the council that Glens Falls Co. was not going to renew the policy.

The council, on recommendation of city administrator J. Julien Baget, changed to Insurance Co. of North America with Fenner as agent, effective July 1.

"How come we're being canceled out?" asked William Jack Adams.

"It has nothing to do with the city claims, but has to do entirely with company-agent relations," said City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr.

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Continued until an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday formation of the Scottsdale Assessment District for a 1,500-apartment development between Highway 101 and South Novato Boulevard, south of Yukon Way.

2. Introduced ordinances rezoning: from multiple to light industrial five acres on Railroad Avenue, requested by Gus Ravetz, from duplex to multiple a lot on Fourth Street between Vallejo and Grant avenues, requested by Robert and Virginia Russell, and from residential to retail commercial the west side of First Street between Vallejo and Olive avenues, requested by the planning commission.

3. Accepted right of way deed from Scheller Brothers Construction Co. for five feet for the widening of Simmons Lane.

4. Passed ordinances: designating Wells Fargo Bank as the city depository, granting overtime pay to city employees for working more than their required shift, and authorizing the city administrator to appoint the city treasurer.

5. Instructed the city staff to give all the assistance needed to the parks and recreation advisory commission in its study of renovating the community house.

6. Authorized Baget to contract through the county to purchase gasoline from Standard Oil Co. of California at 28.5 cents per gallon for ethyl and 24.5 for regular gasoline.

7. Adjourned to an executive session to discuss the pending legislation with William and Irene Nave on a right of way on South Novato Boulevard. The council also held an hour executive meeting on this before the open council meeting. It adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

Drake Parking Not Restricted

San Anselmo City Council last night decided not to restrict parking on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

"We have two 12-foot lanes and two eight and one-half foot lanes," said City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt. "It's ridiculous to attempt to restrict parking until we can widen those lanes."

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani concurred in a letter to the council stating that a "dip on either side of the road close to the curb line" would be a hazard to motorists driving in those lanes.

Driver's Error Leads To Truck-Train Crash

OAKDALE (UPI) — Rev. Paul J. Talbot, 46, of Modesto and his young son, Dennis, 12, were killed early today when a train smashed into their pickup at a railroad crossing three miles south of here.

The accident happened at the intersection of Albert Road and the Oakdale-Waterford Highway. According to the train engineer, Talbot appeared to slow the vehicle as he approached the intersection but then drove onto the tracks directly in front of the Santa Fe train.

Anti-Featherbedding Move Qualifies For November Vote

State Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy of San Rafael and Majority Leader Hugh Burns (D-Fresno) today announced their co-chairmanship of the California Committee to Eliminate Railroading Featherbedding, which is sponsoring the Railroad Anti-Featherbedding Initiative.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan advised the committee that signatures of enough registered voters had been filed on initiative petitions to qualify the measure for the November ballot.

The two legislators issued a joint statement which said that the initiative "is a completely non-partisan measure, and deserves the support of California's of both political parties, and of labor and management alike.

"It is of utmost importance to California consumers, shippers and industry that our state's economy be kept competitive with the rest of the nation by sharing in the benefits of the congressional and presidential railroad settlements."

Besides the featherbedding railmen, McCarthy also took a swing yesterday at the Supreme Court for its decision demanding apportionment on a population basis of all state legislative houses.

The ruling, he charged, "would destroy all legislative protection available to vast areas of California. I am urging that each member of the California delegation in Congress support a proposed amendment to the United States Constitution requiring that representation in one house of each state legislature be based strictly on population."

Elevator Crushes Child To Death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A six-year-old boy was crushed to death yesterday when he was caught between a freight elevator and elevator shaft in the rear of a Market Street building.

Police said the victim, Freddie Lee Martin, apparently pushed the starter button on the elevator, which was being used to unload freight from a truck.

The operator had gone inside the building—to seek help in chasing little boys away from the elevator.

COLEMAN SCHOOL REZONE PROTESTED

Dominican Area Residents Fight Plan To Permit Professional Offices On Site

Dominican area residents jammed the San Rafael Planning Commission meeting last night in a fight to keep Grand Avenue residential.

An overflow crowd of about 80 persons appeared to protest rezoning of the former Coleman School property at Grand Avenue and Linden Lane to permit professional offices.

There was standing room only when the commission began its first hearing on an application by attorney William T. Bagley and contractor Richard Pelton to rezone the Coleman site from unclassified to an administrative-professional district.

Attorney John G. Buresh of 257 Mountain View Avenue presented a petition with 411 signatures opposing the rezoning.

Buresh said Grand Avenue "is one of the oldest, most venerable streets in San Rafael, beautiful from one end to the other," and its beauty must be kept intact.

The time to keep Grand Avenue from becoming commercialized is now, he said. "I am opposed to the foot-in-the-door, the camel's head in the tent, and creeping commercialism."

When Buresh pleaded, "Don't start the downgrading of this beautiful area," the crowd applauded.

Bagley said the site was essentially an island isolated from the adjacent residential neighborhood, and that its location dictated zoning other than single family residential.

The site would not be desirable for residential development because it fronts on Highway 101, Bagley said. "You're not going to get first-class residences next to the highway."

Bagley described the old school building, which once housed the county library and county offices, as an eyesore.

The first phase of the proposed development would be construction of a two-story office building, "residential in appearance," to house a law office, a dentist's office, an accountant's office and one other office, he said. The ultimate plan is to construct two more similar units on the site, but cover only 13 per cent of the square footage with buildings, Bagley said.

Dr. Orville F. Grimes of 1660 Grand Avenue, president of the Community Preservation League of San Rafael, pointed out that area residents have pride in their neighborhood and have worked hard to maintain its present atmosphere.

Attorney Max Thelen of 199 Mountain View Avenue said construction of office buildings would be "a beachhead from Lincoln Avenue into the residential area."

Even if it were an attractive development, the people will still oppose it, he said. "It's a case of spot rezoning that makes no sense."

Paul R. Ciampi of 1417 Grand Avenue said there are other areas in San Rafael available for such a professional center development and therefore it is not necessary to encroach into a residential area.

The commission also received a letter from Mother Mary Justin of the Dominican Convent opposing the rezoning, claiming it would add to noise and traffic and detract from the beauty of the area.

Mother Justin said her letter represented the feeling of 100 Dominican sisters and an equal number of lay faculty members at the college.

Last night's hearing was the first of two scheduled on the proposed rezoning, but at the close of the session Bagley indicated he would be willing to withdraw the zoning application and take a new approach.

He said he would be willing to comply with any controls the planning commission might want to impose and that he would be willing to apply for planned community zoning.

If he withdraws the original application, the scheduled July 14 hearing will be canceled and the whole procedure will start from scratch with a new application.

By 1980, about 95 million Americans, representing 55 per cent of the population, will have finished high school, compared with 41 per cent (50 million) in 1960, according to the Census.

Greek Premier In Washington For Cyprus Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Greek Premier George Papandreou flew into Washington today for the second chapter of President Lyndon B. Johnson's personal diplomacy effort to find a solution for the Cyprus crisis.

Johnson hopes for further progress in two days of talks with the Greek leader, after gaining some encouragement in a similar two-day session with Turkey's Premier Ismet Inonu.

The two leaders went into conferences slated to wind up tomorrow afternoon.

Papandreou declined comment to newsmen as he left the White House.

Tire Inflator Fluid Explodes Inside Car

A can of tire inflator fluid exploded with terrific force yesterday at 12:03 p.m., blowing out the rear window of a car parked in front of a Kentfield home and tearing off the upholstery of the rear seat.

Kentfield Fire Chief Kenneth Kamp said the can was stored on the rear window ledge of a car belonging to Mrs. Fred D. Stribling of 9 Rosebank Avenue. The can had been exposed to the sun and the heat, he said.

Shattered glass was hurled through the empty car's interior.

Kamp warned motorists that instructions on the can state the inflator fluid should not be stored where the sun can get to it or in the trunk of the car. He said that a cool place in the car should be found for the cans.

Sanitary Annex Plans On Agenda

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission will meet at 8:45 a.m. tomorrow to consider three proposed annexations to the Novato Sanitary District.

The agenda also calls for a discussion on standards for commission rulings, but this item may be postponed as commissioner Byron W. Leydecker is attending the board of supervisors budget hearings instead.

The Johnson annexation is 7.5 acres north of Center Road and west of Eucalyptus Avenue. The Campbell-Lynn annexation is 3.3 acres west of Canyon Road south of Hill Avenue. The Gerssing annexation is three acres on Novato Boulevard west of McClay Road.

Faulty Assessment Plaints Pouring In

County Clerk George H. Gnoss yesterday complained that protest forms on property valuations by the county assessor have been pouring into his office and many of them appear faulty, mainly because they do not list comparable property to show that appraisals have been unfair.

"Some of them just say, 'taxes are too damn high'," Gnoss reported. "They have no relation to the assessed values."

The board of supervisors at first suggested that Gnoss send the protests back, explaining that more information would be needed; but County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said such procedure would put the clerk in a ticklish position, asking him to decide on the adequacy of protests.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman said he did not believe any protests received before the assessment roll is formally presented to the board of supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization, would be valid.

Maloney said he has ruled liberally on that question. The protests received early are considered "received" but not "filed." They will be filed as soon as the roll is presented by Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, on July 13.

Fusselman said he was afraid an unhappy taxpayer could take the county to court on the grounds he had not been given a fair hearing because the board spent a lot of time on invalid protests and did not have enough time for him. Maloney said he thought he could win such a case.

As to whether the forms were filled out correctly, Maloney suggested the clerk write protesters asking for additional information but saying that a hearing time and date would be set for each regardless.

The board agreed to the procedure, and authorized Gnoss to hire staff temporarily to send out the letters.

A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr. of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce asked the board to go on record against the cyclical appraisal procedure and seek state legislation to abolish it.

The supervisors refused, saying any action now would appear to prejudice decisions on individual properties in protest hearings.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he is opposed to the procedure, but since the state legislature is not in session, the question could wait.

Bjorklund also said notices sent by Broemmel to property owners were insufficient, according to the law, because they did not state the time and place for protest hearings. Broemmel said when he sent the notices he did not know the time for hearings. The question was referred to Maloney for a written opinion.

Water Work Bids Due

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Water Resources Department said today it will call for bids on an estimated $22 million of State Water Project construction during the next two months.

35 Demonstrators Pray On Beach

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI)— Thirty-five civil rights demonstrators knelt in silent prayer beside the Atlantic Ocean today while segregationists guarding the surf against a swim-in jeered.

The integrationists made no attempt to enter the water and there was no violence as there had been on previous occasions when they did.

More than 25 policemen kept watch over the scene. The demonstrators departed after about two minutes.

Malfunction Halted Space Engine Firing

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A malfunction halted the first static test firing of the United States' most powerful liquid hydrogen space engine last weekend, Aerojet-General Corp. said here yesterday.

But the 238-million-dollar engine, scheduled for a three second run, reached almost half the thrust it would use while powering the upper stages of a manned space rocket, the company said.

Atheist Flies To Hawaii To Ask Asylum

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Madalyn Murray, the Maryland atheist who took her family and hastily left Baltimore — "I'm convinced they're going to do me in here" —changed planes in San Francisco and left for Hawaii last night.

"I will ask the governor of Hawaii for religious asylum," the 44-year-old woman had said before she left Baltimore with her family, a dog and cat and one suitcase.

Traveling under an assumed name, the woman whose suit brought a U.S. Supreme Court ban on compulsory school prayer, managed the San Francisco stopover without public notice.

An airline spokesman said the party—Mrs. Murray, her mother, brother, two sons and a daughter-in-law—arrived by Trans World Airlines too late to catch a scheduled Pan American departure yesterday. The spokesman said the party left later on a United Air Lines plane.

The Baltimore departure of the Murrays stemmed from a weekend fracas which followed the marriage of her son, Bill, 18, to 17-year-old Susan Abramovitz. Susan's parents accused Mrs. Murray of inducing the girl to move to the Murray home and abandon her Jewish religion.

Meeting Called Off

Today's meeting of the Marin Municipal Water District board has been called off because of lack of a quorum. The board will meet at 1:30 p.m. Friday, according to Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger.

PATERNAL GOOD DEED MISFIRES TO DAD'S LOSS

SAN BERNARDINO (AP) — Richard Loss yesterday received a telegram from Seattle, Wash., asking for $100. It was signed by his son, Richard Loss Jr.

Loss wired the money. Then he realized something was wrong. His son lives in Princeton, N.J.

Loss checked with Loss Jr. and found he hadn't been to Seattle.

Loss lost no time in contacting authorities. It was a phony wire, they said. And the $100? A total loss, Loss.

More than 700 varieties and grades of oil-based synthetic rubber have been produced, according to the National Automobile Club.

San Rafael Trustees Critical Of Dixie Unification Stand

San Rafael Board of Education members last night accused their Dixie School District counterparts of stymying unification of San Rafael and Dixie elementary districts.

Discussing a meeting of the County Committee on School District Organization on the subject last week, board member John M. Bagshaw declared: "My reaction to this whole thing is that Dixie has to make up its mind. . . . We have the tax resources. We are supplying the service. . . . Economically it seems unsound for Dixie to try to unify alone."

Should Dixie attempt to "go it alone" as a unified district, "how can they ever repay us for our interest in Terra Linda High School when they're practically a destitute district?" asked Bagshaw.

Board chairman C. Paul Bettini noted that the San Rafael board had repeatedly gone on record favoring unification but the Dixie board "has never reacted. . . . I don't think they really sincerely want to do it."

Summed up board member Carl J. Brown: "They've inferred they don't want to unify, but they won't come out and say so."

Bagshaw said the county committee had overlooked the effect on residents of Santa Venetia and the Hartzell School area if a unified district were created with the ridge between the two valleys as boundary — a proposal put forward by some Dixie trustees. Supt. Bert C. Corona said such a split would mean a tax increase of $1 to $1.50 per $100 assessed valuation for residents of those areas.

Suede Shoe Boys Face Crackdown

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Nine salesmen were indicted by the San Mateo County grand jury yesterday for alleged fraudulent sale of aluminum siding to homeowners.

The action came as state Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk announced that investigations of similar incidents were proceeding throughout the state, particularly in San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, San Diego, Orange and Los Angeles counties.

A spokesman for the San Mateo County district attorney's office said at least 50 homeowners in the county were victimized by the salesmen, who offered the sidings at bargain rates without explaining that the purchases hinged on property mortgages.

SCHOOL OFFICIAL'S CONTRACT RAPPED

San Rafael Trustee Argues Against Raise For Superintendent Without New Contract

The unilateral nature of school superintendents' contracts was sharply attacked last night by an attorney member of the San Rafael Board of Education.

Board member Bella H. Aaron refused to act on a proposal to increase the salary of Supt. Bert A. Corona without a written opinion from the county counsel that the superintendent's salary could be raised without entering into a new four-year contract.

Corona said his contract contains a clause permitting reopening the salary by mutual consent.

Declared Mrs. Aaron:

"I feel there has been accorded no sanctity to contracts in school districts. . . If we wanted to let an administrator go, we would be bound by the contract, (but) if they get a better offer, they break their contract."

She contended the time period is an integral part of the contract and "the salary should be for that period of time."

"I think it's time all the districts abided by this," she declared. "Protection of the law for four-year contracts should work both ways."

Chairman C. Paul Bettini said it had been held earlier that the board must grant a new four-year contract to raise a superintendent's salary.

"The protection is entirely on the superintendent's side," commented board member John M. Bagshaw. "Legally speaking, the contract is worthless."

Corona was raised from $17,000 to $18,000 per year last November. He joined the San Rafael school system as superintendent in the fall of 1961. He was given a new four-year contract as of July 1, 1962 with the pay unchanged from the $17,000 at which he was hired.

Board member Walter J. Doll (who was absent last night) proposed at the June 9 board meeting that the superintendent's salary be raised, inasmuch as teachers and principals were receiving increases. At that time, Corona was asked to prepare a comparison of superintendents' salaries in various districts.

He presented the comparison last night. It showed that six superintendents in Marin County have received raises this year (Supt. James G. Bunker of Novato Unified School District, whose pay was raised from $18,600 to $20,000 per year on Monday night, was not included among the six).

So far this year, Dixie Elementary School District (six schools) has raised Supt. Dennie B. Willis from $16,000 to $17,000; Fairfax Elementary District (three schools) has raised Supt. Homer E. Sisk from $12,600 to $13,000; Kentfield Elementary District (three schools) has raised Supt. Howard C. Harmon from $16,000 to $17,500; Mill Valley Elementary District (eight schools) has raised Supt. G. R. McConnell from $16,752 to $17,502; San Anselmo Elementary District (six schools) has raised Supt. Stephen Parodi from $16,500 to $17,500; San Jose Elementary District (five schools) has raised Supt. Ralph Giovanniello from $15,000 to $16,000. The San Rafael superintendent administers two high schools and 14 elementary schools.

Hospital To Name Wing For Donor

The Marin Hospital District board last night decided to name the original wing of the hospital the Kenney Gruenhagen Memorial Wing.

Mrs. Gruenhagen, who died on Feb. 10, was the anonymous donor who gave the hospital $630,642 for construction of the Babcock Wing, purchase of the cobalt unit and medical library.

The action was taken after it was ascertained from her husband, Charles, that the memorial would not conflict with Mrs. Gruenhagen's stated wishes.

The board decided that a dedication ceremony would be held sometime in the fall when construction at the hospital has been completed.

County Counsel Aid Sought In Acquiring Site For School

The San Rafael Board of Education voted last night to call on the county counsel for help — with condemnation suit if necessary — to acquire a five-acre school site in the San Rafael Canal area.

Architect Mackenzie Cantin and schools business manager Charles R. Condrotte presented analyses of possible sites in both the canal area and Peacock Gap.

Cantin said the site first considered in the canal area, in the Kerner-Bellam tract, was unusable because it would require four to eight feet of additional fill and there appears no way to get the fill there. It cannot be pumped from the bay to the site, and the city public works department is loath to allow so much hauling over East San Rafael streets, he said.

Of several other canal area sites, he recommended as most suitable for immediate purchase one just outside the Kerner-Bellam tract which he said requires no fill. Condrotte said the owner (was not named) has refused to even talk to the school officials about selling any part of the 25 acres in the parcel. Board member John M. Bagshaw suggested condemnation.

At that point, Condrotte disclosed that County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney had solicited San Rafael School officials to engage him to negotiate for sites.

Chairman C. Paul Bettini and board member Bella H. Aaron objected to having the county counsel negotiate, saying he should come into the picture only when a condemnation suit is planned.

Condrotte said Maloney reported he "actually negotiates more land purchases than the realtors in Marin County . . . including all those for the Marin Junior College District and the Dixie School District."

Bagshaw noted that if the county counsel were asked to negotiate, this would imply a threat of condemnation. On that basis, the board agreed to ask him to enter negotiations for the canal site.

Board members were unable to agree on whether to buy an elementary school site at Biscayne and Riviera Drives in Peacock Gap, offered by the Draper Companies at $70,000 for about seven acres.

Cantin recommended the site be purchased, with another Peacock Gap site atop a knoll being considered for a junior high school rather than the Glenwood junior high site. The latter poses fill and drainage problems, he said.

However, Bettini and Mrs. Aaron felt the proposed junior high site would be better for an elementary school and the junior high perhaps should be built in Glenwood, as planned. They asked figures on (a) value of the 15 acres at Glenwood which are being held for a junior high site, and (b) price of the knoll site in Peacock Gap.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

1. Approved drawings presented by architect Ralph B. Priestley for addition of classrooms and library at Davidson Junior High School, and by architect Cantin for similar additions at Sun Valley School, to be submitted to the State Division of Architecture.

2. Engaged Gromme and Priestley as architects for repair and earthquake-proofing of the "Old Main" at San Rafael High School. The same firm is in charge of the library and classroom addition to the high school.

3. Awarded Worley and Co., the only bidder, contract for lockers at Terra Linda High School totaling $5,712.

4. Approved a revised junior high school curriculum, submitted by Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat, which was made necessary by reduction of the school day in the city's two junior high schools from eight to seven periods.

5. Approved a notification of intention to initiate a program for educationally handicapped in the high school district. Supt. Bert C. Corona said state approval for such a program already has been received for the elementary district.

6. Refused to lend two school buses to the San Rafael Recreation Department to take children to a baseball game at Candlestick Park on July 2 and an outing at Samuel P. Taylor State Park on Aug. 4. School policy is against lending buses.

7. Authorized the state attorney general to represent the San Rafael High School District in a suit seeking to recover from the Brunswick Corp. alleged overcharges for bleachers. Several school districts are involved in the suit, which dates back to purchases in 1960, Corona reported. Terra Linda High School bleachers are among those on which recovery is sought.

8. Accepted the following gifts: From West End School Parent-Teachers Assn., library books totaling $135; from Short School P-TA, a refrigerator for the school; from Mrs. J. O'Keefe, a projection screen for Short School; from Gallinas P-TA, seven folk dance records.

9. Authorized a call for bids for demolishing the portion of the E Street School building acquired by the city for extension of Third Street, and building a new wall where the building is cut. Date for bid opening was left to Superintendent Corona, who said he would try to have it between July 15 and 20, when the board must meet to approve the publication budget. That will be the only July meeting.

10. Authorized application for a tax anticipation loan from the county to provide funds for the elementary school district until taxes begin to come in. Condrotte said the amount that would need to be borrowed was not yet known.

11. Approved hiring the following teachers for next school year: Anthony G. Caetano, intermediate grades; Gerald J. Hauble, fifth grade; Mrs. Olivette Kimsey, high school girls' physical education; George K. Koche, high school physical education; Judy Martin, primary grades; Mrs. Olga E. Martinez, high school Spanish; Mrs. Joan K. Meiners, primary grades; Mrs. Gail A. Pepper, primary grades; Margaret A. Prichard, intermediate grades; Patricia R. Raiser, intermediate grades; Valerie A. Scatena, intermediate grades.

12. Appointed Marion Falkenbury, first grade teacher, as vice principal of Hartzell School for next school year.

13. Appointed Neil MacPhail, sixth grade teacher, as teacher-in-charge at Glenwood School.

14. Promoted Mrs. Maureen Pederson to chairman of the girls' physical education department at San Rafael High.

15. Appointed Richard Brellenthin as carpenter at E Street School, Earl Carey as custodian in the elementary district, and Mrs. Grace Lary as secretary to the business manager.

16. Accepted resignation of Carl Ball as San Rafael High School custodian.

Gallinas Creek Flood Control Hearing Tonight

A special open hearing on flood control for the Gallinas Creek watershed will be held tonight, called by the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

County engineers have been working on a proposal to form a flood control zone which would include the entire watershed, allowing a special tax to be levied for various projects within the area as needed.

However, the Civic Center Improvement Club has also been considering a proposal to have the sanitary district assume the flood control work. Therefore, the district has asked area residents to appear at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center to make their opinions known.

Under the plan for the sanitary district, assessment districts would be used in specific areas to construct flood control projects, and the present district tax would be used to maintain the ditches and pipes.

The cigarette lighter, points out the National Automobile Club, is one of the largest consumers of electricity among the electrical items on the car.

New Leather Apparel Shop Slated: Garage Opens Branch In Larkspur

A new leather apparel and imports establishment is scheduled to open July 1 at 536 Third Street, San Rafael, across the street from the United Market. This is an operation of Rose Bown, formerly of Carmel. The store will carry her name.

Leather coats, jackets, handbags and other accessories, as well as knits and jerseys will be handled. Specially featured will be kid skins and suedes imported from New Zealand.

Until a few months ago, Mrs. Brown had been in the same type of business in Carmel for 17 years. She was, she says, the first one in the United States to put on an air-borne fashion show. This was in 1947 on an airliner flying from Monterey to Hawaii.

The store will be open Mondays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and probably during evening hours Fridays.

OWNERS E. O. Sarneski and A. Woltering of A and E Garage, San Rafael, have opened another repair shop in Larkspur at 444 Magnolia Avenue. It will be known as Larkspur Automotives. Sarneski will be in charge. Woltering will continue at the San Rafael shop.

PARTNERS Bill Davis and Frank May, who formerly had their dog-grooming service at the Tamalpais Pet Shop, have opened a more spacious salon at 17 Madrona Avenue, Mill Valley, known as Blue Mist Groomers.

THE MARIN STABLES on Woodlawn Avenue, Fairfax, have been taken over by Max Friedman, owner of Town and Country Club of Marin and the Fair-Anselm Shopping Center. Friedman has had the buildings remodeled and they will be used as boarding stables.

HARRY A. MATHEWS of Tiburon, assistant cashier at the Bank of California, has been transferred from the credit department in the San Francisco office to Oakland, where he will serve as commercial loan officer.

WILTON C. KUFFEL of San Rafael has been advanced to director of research in the San Francisco office of Foote, Cone and Belding. Before coming to San Francisco three years ago as manager of research, Kuffel was with the research department of the Chicago office.

A BRANCH real estate office of Gordon Walker and Associates has been opened at 943 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, under the management of George E. Fossey. Walker, headquartered in Ignacio, is known for his work as project manager in the Marin Golf and Country Club Estates development, Loma Verde and Holiday Hills. The Kentfield office will conduct a general real estate business.

Fossey has spent several years in real estate and construction, and was former owner of the California Trout Farm in Inverness. His present office was previously Kay's of Kentfield, operated by his wife.

TUESDAY MORNING breakfast meetings of the Marin County Real Estate Board at Dominic's will be suspended for the summer until September.

INSURANCE. Jack E. Maynard of Novato, Robert W. Shine of Mill Valley and Wilfred E. Shuit of Stinson Beach are attending a sales conference of Paul Revere Life Insurance Co. this week in Chicago . . . Steen Schellenberg of San Anselmo is attending the Million Dollar Round Table meeting in Florida tomorrow through next Tuesday.

PT&T Names Southern Marin Head

Peter W. Tibbetts of Oakland has been named Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. manager in Southern Marin, to succeed C. F. Berlenbach Jr., who has held the position since 1959.

Tibbetts, a native of Berkeley, has been with the company since 1956 and is now a manager in the Berkeley office. He is a member of the Emeryville Industries Assn. and lives with his wife, Jo Ann, and four children in Oakland.

Berlenbach will go to work with the company's general commercial department in San Francisco when the change is effective July 1.

He has been active in Mill Valley Rotary Club, as a director of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, and as chairman and director of the Marin County Heart Assn. Berlenbach and his wife, Lola, and two children live at 159 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax.

During the four year period Berlenbach has served in Southern Marin the number of telephones in this area has grown from about 17,300 to 23,500, according to J. D. LaNoue, district manager. The area includes Mill Valley, Belvedere, Bolinas, Sausalito, Stinson Beach, and Tiburon

SPACE FOR ENTIRE INVENTORY —The new building recently completed for L. C. Smith Building Supplies, Inc., at 124 Belvedere Street, San Rafael has been laid out to appeal to the do-it-yourself worker as well as to the contractor. The lower floor, shown here, covers approximately 9,000 square feet, devoted almost entirely to retail space.

L. C. Smith Had A Humble Start—Now Business Is Big

New San Rafael Store Celebrating Grand Opening

L. C. Smith, who is celebrating a grand opening in his new building at 124 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, this week and next week, had a humble beginning in Marin business 29 years ago.

"All I had then was a 10-by-12-foot room off the Pingree real estate office in Corte Madera," he said. "I did all the work myself—and the business consisted entirely of selling and laying linoleum."

Although L. C. Smith Building Supplies, Inc., now has 100 times as much retail and working space, employs a staff of 40, and carries one of the largest stocks of builders hardware and supplies, floor coverings and other related equipment in the county, Smith still enjoys doing an occasional job of linoleum laying. He gave up working regularly at it three years ago in order to supervise his business more closely.

Smith was born and reared in San Francisco. Before moving to Marin in 1935 he worked for Conklin Brothers, a floor covering dealer. After operating about a year in Corte Madera, he moved to San Rafael and expanded his business to include selling and fitting venetian blinds.

Here he remained until World join the Navy. Upon his discharge from active service in 1945 he reopened in Larkspur, moving successively to Kentfield, San Anselmo, and back to San Rafael in 1955 at 427 Irwin Street, where he remained until recently.

Smith's new building on Belvedere Street gives him the opportunity to do something his previous stores did not permit—consolidate all his stocks of building supplies, tools, floor coverings, carpeting, aluminum doors and sash, plywood, unpainted furniture, reinforcing steel and "built-in" stove equipment in a single location. He has 12,000 square feet of floor space on two floors and parking space for 65 cars.

While the business has been slanted toward contractors in Marin and San Francisco and employs five outside salesmen, attention also is being given to materials for the do-it-yourself worker and weekend putterer.

Some Consolidation Seen Before Mart Reaches High

NEW YORK, (UPI) — Reynolds and Co. says the stock market ascent "has been so sharp in recent days that some sort of consolidation period in the immediate future prior to an all-out assault on the highs is a logical expectation."

But Reynolds asserts that the possibility of such a hesitation "in no way modifies our opinion that the primary uptrend will ultimately prevail, most likely in the form of a much heralded 'summer rally.'"

Bache and Co. says the recent lull in the market "has strengthened its underpinnings (and) speculative activity continues to remain at a relatively low level." Bache adds that "based on these factors, we continue to look for new highs in the months ahead and would continue to make commitments on any dips."

Ralph A. Rotnem of Harris, Upham and Co. says that "in election years the market generally does better after the decision as to candidates has been made."

Mattress Firm Plans New Plant

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A new plant will be built by the Simmons Mattress Co. in San Leandro and its present plant site will be made into a residential and commercial development, it has been announced.

Gerson Bakar and Associates, a real estate developing firm, said it will build a 400,000 square foot, one-story plant on a 20-acre site in San Leandro.

Bakar will take over the existing Simmons plant early next year and convert the series of buildings scattered over three blocks near Bay and Powell streets into "a project of charm and beauty."

Eichler Plans Big Complex

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Eichler Homes, Inc., San Francisco, has announced it will construct an 11-million-dollar, 573-unit apartment complex at Geneva Terrace in San Francisco.

Joseph L. Eichler, president, said the project will consist of two 18-story towers on a landscaped plaza covering a square block off Sunnydale Avenue in Visitacion Valley.

The towers will consist of two- and three-bedroom units and will rent from $137.50 to $158 per month.

Ampex Introduces Two New Home Stereo Units

REDWOOD CITY—Ampex Corp. today introduced two broad new lines of advanced home stereo units in the medium price range.

The two new lines each consist of three recorders plus speakers and microphones starting at $350.

Crossing Guard Status

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Volunteer school crossing guards, even though unpaid, are civil service employees, Attorney General Stanley Mosk ruled today. The state is liable for 'tortious acts' or omissions of such uncompensated guards, and it's a question whether they are eligible for workmen's compensation.

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Scribe Makes Study Of Al Dark, Giants Manager With Many Roles

CONNOLLY

It's about time somebody paid tribute to the manager of the S.F. Giants, an unassuming fellow who acts as field general, bench manager, infallible opponent of percentage baseball, and in other capacities. How he finds time to do all the things he does is a real mystery. He is regularly on the radio, on TV, attends luncheons, goes to church and prays for guidance. When the "ghost walks" for Alvin he gets it in bunches. One from baseball; one from radio, and one from TV. When he grows a beard, he'll get one from Gillette.

FOR ONE thing, Alvin Dark's devotion to the baseball racket is unsurpassed. He really takes the sport to his heart. He also discovered that the game had been played backwards for many years. He even has found time to prove you CAN put the winning run on first base and still win the ball game. He switches lefthanded pitchers with reckless abandon, especially when he learns they are going to pitch against lefthanded hitters.

And likewise he has found a way to use his best lefthand pinch hitter against the enemy southpaw pitcher, like he did with Willie McCovey against Joe Nuxall. Both the American and National Leagues are cluttered with good managers but none of 'em rate with Alvin Dark. He's in a class by himself.

You may recall that Mr. Willie Mays recently was appointed field captain for the Giants. An abler man couldn't be found.

WELL, ALL this merely is intended to show that Alvin Dark is a man of many capacities. In other words, Mr. Dark relishes anyone who will give an honest appraisal of his trusteeship as boss of the Giants. And I am about to do that very thing. I find that Alvin is a most astute member of the Professional Baseball Managers Assn. And as such is not above being criticized. For that reason I'd like to point out some of the glaring faults that mark his guardianship of the Giants, as follows:

I find Alvin stubborn beyond redemption.

I discover him inconsistent in his remarks. He says one thing, then repudiates it, making it completely opposite.

Alvin Dark plays favorites—he's strong in his likes and dislikes.

HE BELIEVES in an eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth theory. He proves that in his treatment of beanball rows. If you hit his players, he hits yours, regardless.

Alvin's handling of pitchers, in case you've been watching, is completely atrocious. Even his coaches can't figure him out. Any coach who works for Alvin is as sure of his job as a coal heaver on a waxed floor.

And why?

It's all a mystery to baseball observers, even some of Alvin's best friends admit they can't follow him.

THERE ARE two schools of thought on Alvin's managerial theories. One is he isn't manager, only by remote control. The other is that he takes the "fall" for owner Horace Stoneham, who they claim, has never quite relinquished his reign over his ball club.

If you accept the first item, you must go along with the other item.

So when you size up Alvin as a manager, you take his ball club as something from his brain. And it doesn't make sense.

1—Alvin has a dumb ball club. He isn't dumb. He's rather a cutie.

2—He teaches baseball backwards, a debatable item.

3—He has little if any patience with mediocrity and especially is this true of rookies.

4—Alvin was only a fair ball player in an era of baseball that was marked with a majority of "des and dem" performers.

5—Alvin strictly is a baseball reformer, a tradition smasher, who would make bygone managers look like idiots.

6—But Alvin has owner Horace Stoneham on the hip. If the Giants should win in 1964 how could Alvin be dumped?

But I refuse to worry whether Alvin Dark manages the S.F. club the way owner Horace Stoneham wants it. All I can say is that when Horace feels Dark isn't cutting the mustard, he will slip him the same kind of pill he gave Bill Rigney and the guy who will administer the sleeping potion will be Charles "Chub" Feeney, loving and loveable, vice president of the Giants.

Karen Susman Is Victor At Wimbledon

BULLETIN

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Defending champion Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., got the scare of his life in a second-round match of the Wimbledon tennis tournament today before he finally subdued Tomas Koch, a young Brazilian, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Karen Hantze Susman of San Antonio, Tex., the 1962 chempion, rallied from the edge of defeat today and gained the third round of the Wimbledon tennis tournament by beating Anna Dmitrieva of the Soviet Union 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Mrs. Susman lost the first set and was behind 1-2 with the Russian girl's service coming up when rain interrupted play yesterday.

Refreshed and her confidence restored, the American girl snapped back under a bright sun today. She won five of the next six games to take the second set and then outbattled Miss Dmitrieva in the hard-fought third, which saw the Russian rally after being down 0-4.

Another American advanced when Eugene Scott of St. James N.Y., a member of the 1963 U.S. Davis Cup team, downed Patricio Rodriguez of Chile 7-5, 16-14, 6-4 in another held-over first round match.

Linda Lou Crosby of Arcadia, Calif., lost to Mrs. Ann Hayden Jones of Britain 6-0, 6-0.

Down 0-4 in the final set, the Russian took three of the next four games, making it 3-5.

In the ninth game, Mrs. Susman had a 40-0 lead and three match points. Each time the Russian saved the point.

Finally Miss Dmitrieva broke, making the score 4-5, then served powerfully and evened it at 5-5.

Mrs. Susman, showing great fighting qualities, broke through in the 12th game at love and then held service for the match, climaxing with a deft backhand placement down the line.

Rafael Osuna of Mexico, seeded fourth in the men's singles, toyed with Eduardo Zuleta of Ecuador and moved into the third round with a 6-2, 6-1, 6-3 victory.

Giants Finally Lose Extra-Inning Game

Ron Herbel Pitches For S.F. Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP) — It took more than a third of the season, but the San Francisco Giants have finally lost an extra-inning game.

Marty Keough's lead-off homer in the 11th inning last night dealt the Giants their first loss in eight extra-inning contests this season. In losing 5-4 after beating the Reds 4-0 in the first game of a doubleheader, the Giants cost themselves a chance to cut the Philadelphia Phillies' lead in the National League to a half game.

San Francisco will attempt to avenge the second-game loss, only their third in 11 meetings with Cincinnati this season, when they send rookie Ron Herbel, 4-3 against the Reds and left-hander Jim O'Toole, 6-3, tonight at Crosley Field.

The game will wind up San Francisco's current road trip. The Giants open an 11-game home stand tomorrow against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Keough's game-winning homer negated an outstanding offensive performance by third baseman Jim Hart.

Hart slugged his seventh homer in the fourth to give the Giants their first run, ignited a two-run seventh-inning uprising with a lead-off double and knotted the score at 4-4 with his eighth homer — also a solo shot — after two out in the eighth.

Gaylord Perry, now 4-3, served up the gopher ball to Keough. Sammy Ellis, who relieved starter Joe Nuxhall to start the 11th inning, picked up his fourth victory in six decisions.

Juan Marichal finally got his ninth victory of the year in the opener after four previous unsuccessful attempts. The shutout was Marichal's third of the year.

The Giants got all their runs in the third inning. With one out, Chuck Hiller singled to left. After Orland Cepeda forced Hiller, Willie McCovey doubled Cepeda to third. Bouth runners scored on Duke Snider's single.

Jose Pagan knocked in the final two runs after a double by Tom Haller and an intentional walk to Hart.

Only one Red reached third against Marichal, although Cincinnati had two baserunners in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings.

The Reds' biggest threat was in the sixth when Tom Harper and Vada Pinson hit back-to-back singles with one away. But Marichal got Gordie Coleman to hit into a double play.

BERMUDA RACE

Stormvogel First Over Finish Line

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—The South African ketch Stormvogel, the scratch boat, crossed the finish line first in the Newport-to-Bermuda yacht race shortly after 9 p.m. today, after taking an agonizing five hours and 12 minutes to cover the last 10 miles.

All the boats were making painfully slow progress in the light puff blowing.

Six other craft were strung out back of Stormvogel as the big ketch crossed the line. Among them was Bolero, a 73-foot yawl which set a record in this race eight years ago.

The others were Petrel, Cotton Blossom, Ondine, Royono and Nina.

The race is decided on a handicap basis, and Stormvogel's slow trip indicated that one of the smaller craft behind probably would win the race.

The dying wind near the finish line at St. David's Head changed the complexion of the race yesterday. Stormvogel, a 72-foot ..... terday. Stormvoged, a 72-foot ketch, and the Bolero, under charter to Tim Moseley of San Carlos, Calif., were sighted 56 miles off Bermude, but making little headway in the three-knot breeze.

In contrast, Burgoo, owned by Milton Ernst and with the largest handicap in the fleet — 31 hours, two minutes — was sighted 150 miles from Bermuda and less than 100 miles behind the two leaders. In addition, she was moving much faster.

A plane, which spotted the leaders Tuesday, reported that the U.S. Coast Guard Academy's Petrel was third, six miles back of the two leaders.

Grouped close together, approximately 70 miles from Bermuda were Decoursey Fales' Nina, a schooner; G. F. Johnson's Challenge, a sloop; W. Wheeler Jr's Cotton Blossom IV, a yawl; the U.S. Naval Academy's Royono a yawl; Arthur J. Santry Jr's Temptation, a yawl; the U.S. Naval Acedemy's Highland Light, a cutter, and R. Stiegler's Enchanta, a yawl.

George Moffett's Guinevere II, J. Shepphard Poor's Cepheus, Mascrae Sykes' Dixie II, James Wickersham Jr.'s Loki, W. Dorwin Teague's Souffle, Thomas R. Young's Shearwater and C. Byrar's Doublecon all were reported in an area 110 to 125 miles out.

Offense Is A Problem For All-Americans

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The East and West teams in Saturday's All-America football game each have a problem that can be summed up in one word: Offense.

The East's pass-receivers have not been able to hang on to the low, bullet passes of Miami's George Mira.

The West, armed with new plays, appeared to be slow in making them work.

Despite those problems, 57 of 60 of the nation's top collegiate players of 1963 chosen to perform in the fourth-annual game gave their all yesterday in 1-hour, 45-minute workouts under a broiling sun that sent the temperature soaring to 92 degrees.

Coach Pete Elliott of Illinois decided to work on the East's aerial game. He had Mira rolling out for passes to the sidelines. Mira, named as the tentative starting quarterback for the East, created a problem for his receivers with his low, fast tosses.

Cornell's Gary Wood, a dangerous runner, hurled a much softer pass that was gathered in more often.

Meanwhile, the East's third quaterback, Boston College's Jack Concannon, sat out the practice with a pulled left hamstring muscle. He is a doubtful starter.

On another of the University of Buffalo's fields, where the West drilled, Coach Bob Devaney of Nebraska passed out new plays and then perspired as his players sought to carry out their assignments. They finally began to click, but not until near the end of the workout.

The game, expected to attract a crowd of 25,000 to War Memorial Stadium, will be televised nationally starting at 8:30 p.m., EST by ABC.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Phils Win Nightcap On Culp's 1-Hitter

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ray Culp has pitched his way back into the Philadelphia Phillies' starting rotation. All it took was a near replica of teammate Jim Bunning's perfect game.

A first inning base on balls and Len Gabrielson's sixth inning single came between Culp and perfection, attained two days earlier by Bunning, as the 22-year-old right-hander blanked Chicago 9-0 in the second game of a doubleheader last night.

No other Cub reached base against Culp, whose early season troubles cost him a frontline job on Gene Mauch's leading pitching staff.

Mauch, thoroughly impressed after Culp's effort, announced that the National League-leading Phils will go with five starters henceforth.

"With Bunning, (Dennis) Bennett, (Art) Mahaffey and (Chris) Short working so well," the manager said, "we just haven't been able to give Ray enough work. The doubleheaders enabled us to use him more. Now he's pitching like he did last year."

Culp, a $100,000 bonus baby five years ago, won 14 games in 1963, his rookie season, and led Philadelphia pitchers with 176 strikeouts. He reported with a sore arm this spring, dropped five of six decisions and found himself in the bullpen.

But three victories — including the one-hitter—and two complete games in his last three appearances have vaulted the young Texan back into the Phils' pennant plan.

The second game victory gave the Phils a split of the twi-nighter. Chicago took the opener 2-0 on Dick Ellsworth's five-hitter.

Second place San Francisco divided with Cincinnati, winning 4-0 before bowing 5-4 in 11 innings. Pittsburgh defeated New York 5-1; Milwaukee beat Los Angeles 5-2 and St. Louis nipped Houston 5-4.

In the American League, Baltimore edged New York 9-8; Chicago blanked Boston 2-0; Los Angeles downed Washington by the same score; Minnesota beat Cleveland 6-2 and Kansas City split with Detroit, winning the opener 2-1 and losing the nightcap 9-3.

Culp said after the game he relied mainly on his fastball against the Cub hitters.

"I had arm trouble late last year and early this season because I threw too much breaking stuff," he recalled.

He said Gabrielson's hit, a golfed shot off a low fast ball, surprised him. "I jammed him down and in, and he sliced it to right."

Culp wasn't ecstatic about his performance. "We're on top and I'm not a winning pitcher. If I was 10-5 with this club I'd have something to be happy about."

Phillie hitters were beaming after their 17-hit supporting role in the second game victory. Wes Covington homered, Richie Allen cracked three doubles and John Hernstein had four hits, including a pair of doubles.

The opener was another story. Ellsworth breezed to his ninth victory in 15 decisions. Ernie Banks singled home one run and rookie Billy Ott doubled in the other.

Dick Schofield drove in four runs, three on a homer, and Vern Law pitched his fourth straight victory as the Pirates handed the Mets their 11th loss in 12 games.

Milwaukee snapped a seven-game losing string, rallying for three runs in the seventh on doubles by Hank Aaron and Felipe Alou and singles by Lee Maye and Joe Torre, to overtake the Dodgers. Frank Howard hit his 16th homer for Los Angeles and Ed Mathews his sixth for the Braves.

Rusty Staub's second error of the seventh inning allowed Tim McCarver to score St. Louis' winning run after John Bateman's homer had lifted the Colt into a 4-4 tie in the top of the inning.

Cleveland Open Golf Will Start Tomorrow

CLEVELAND (AP) — The big money golf tourists are beginning to bunch up, but youthful Jack Nicklaus is taking steps to stay on top.

The 24-year-old Columbus star who paces the pack with $51,426 despite picking up only $400 in last week's National Open, has an eye on the $20,000 top prize in the $110,000 Cleveland Open, which starts its four-day 72-hole medal-play grind tomorrow.

While runner-up Arnold Palmer ($49,651) and fourth-place Tony Lema ($40,561) passed up practice rounds yesterday over the 6,821-yard, par-71 municipal layout — Nicklaus measured every inch of it.

Instead of cooking up a skin game with some of the other competitors, Nicklaus went out alone with only his caddy tagging along. He kept no score, but he had a score card full of notes when he came in.

Also missing the practice jaunt were Ken Venturi, last week's surprise winner of the National Open, and classy Dow Finsterwald. The temperature was in the 90s, and tornado warnings were flying to discourage much of the talented field of 149 professionals and 10 amateurs.

Fifty of the pros had a picnic today as each teamed with three amateurs in a best-ball handicap round with $10,000 going to the play-for-pay group. The professionals paid no entry fee, but each of the 150 amateurs tossed $200 into the pot.

The $200 gave each amateur, in addition to the 18-hole jaunt with a top-ranked pro, six tickets and a parking sticker for the remainder of the tournament.

The professional shooting today's best round was due for a $1,000 prize and the pro in the leading foursome had an $800 payoff on tap. So one of them could possibly pick up $1,800.

World-Wide TV Expected For Olympic Games

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Joseph E. Karth (D-Minn.), said yesterday it now appears likely that this year's Olympic Games in Japan will be carried world-wide on live television through use of Syncom, the high-altitude communication satellite.

The State Department and private enterprise, Karth said, have worked out all but a relatively few details to permit the carrying of the games in October.

Karth is chairman of a House science and astronautics subcommittee dealing with space science and advanced research and technology.

"The cost to the United States government will be virtually nothing," Karth said. "The Japanese, the Canadians, the British and the National Broadcasting Co. have agreed to share the financial burden."

Roxanne Andersen, women's track and field chairman of the Pacific Assn. of the Amateur Athletic Union, and Hal Fischer, athletic director at the Presidio of San Francisco, will be guest speakers at "Olympic Preview Night" at the YMCA building in San Rafael.

The affair, open to the public free of charge, will be held tomorrow from 7:30 to 9 p.m. A movie, entitled, "Hold High the Torch," will be shown, to be followed by the guest speakers and a question and answer session.

The purpose of the movie and talks, according to Dale Greenlee of the YMCA, is to "stimulate interest and desire of youths to participate in athletic endeavors and help youngsters get a bigger picture of national and world-wide athletic competition."

The 30-minute film will highlight performances of past Olympic Games.

Mrs. Andersen, Canadian born, won points for Canada in the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin in the hurdles. She is now coaching the Laurel Track Club in San Francisco, an all-girl team.

Fischer was the 1951 Pan American Games basketball coach and is an alternate coach for this year's U.S. team that will compete in the Tokyo Olympics.

The Marin YMCA is located at 1809 Irwin Street in San Rafael.

Tennis And Sailing At Belvedere

Some 300 entries are expected in this year's Belvedere Tennis Club junior tournament July 13-17 which combines tennis matches with sailing.

This seond annual tournament will continue the tradition begun last year when competitors went for short sails on the Belvedere Lagoon when not playing a match, reported Charles E. Auerbach, club organizer of the tournament.

Players aged 10 through 18 from California, Nevada and Arizona will compete for trophies in singles, doubles and mixed doubles competition at the club on Tiburon Highway.

Competitors from outside the area will be housed in the homes of tennis club members, Mrs. Donald Furlong, publicity chairman from the event, explained. In addition to competition, members have planned a dance at the club on July 14 and a barbecue on the following night. Players also will have the use of the club's newly-opened swimming pool.

Both novice and experienced players may enter the various sections of the tournament. Entry blanks may be obtained by requesting them of the club pro, Paul Wilkins, Box 515, Belvedere.

Out-Of-Town Judges Asked To Help In Sit-In Cases

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The arrests earlier this year of more than 500 sit-in demonstrators, protesting minority hiring practices at hotels and automobile showrooms, has so snarled the municipal courts that out-of-town judges are being called in.

Chief Justice Phil Gibson of the State Supreme Court said yesterday that Municipal Judge David French of Santa Ana will sit for some of the cases from June 29 to July 17.

Municipal Judge David W. Calfee, of Richmond, will sit from July 13 to Aug. 14.

Inability of several judges to agree has further complicated the situation. Tuesday after deliberating 17½ hours, a jury was dismissed in the trial of 13 defendants, including Dr. Thomas Burbridge, president of the San Francisco chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Three of the 13 then pleaded no contest, were fined $25 and placed on three months' probation.

The other 10, including Dr. Burbridge, are to be tried again on charges they illegally trespassed at an automobile show room.

Boy Treated— Bike, Truck Hit

Richard Ralph Loudin, 8, of 1007 Simmons Lane, Novato, found out Monday afternoon that mail trucks are much stronger than bicycles.

Richard, son of Mrs. Evelyn Loudin, same address, rode his bicycle down the driveway of his home and ran into the right rear portion of a mail truck driven by Virgil Odell Westlund, 36, of 216 Pico Vista, Novato, who was southbound on Simmons Lane at 4.45 p.m., according to police.

He was treated for facial bruises at Novato General Hospital.

Striped bass were introduced to California in 1879.

Artists' Workshop

Stephen Pope Dimitroff and his wife, Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff, Mill Valley artists, are giving a workshop class in fresco painting at Redlands University, Redlands, lasting until July 3. Mrs. Dimitroff plans to fly to Marin on that date to do her customary sketching at the Marin Art and Garden Fair.

School Signups

New students planning to attend Terra Linda High School next fall are urged by Principal George Yertson to telephone the school as soon as possible to arrange a registration conference.

A Texas Wedding For Gerald Gunn

Gerald Mackelan Gunn of Sausalito claimed Carole Ann Helppie of El Paso, Tex., as his bride Thursday evening at the First Presbyterian Church in El Paso, Tex.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Andrew Helppie of El Paso. Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Gunn of Sausalito, who attended the ceremony.

The nuptials were performed at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Stewart Coffman.

When the bride was given in marriage by her father, she was wearing a formal gown of candlelight peau de soie with re-embroidered alencon lace and chapel train.

Her attendants were dressed identically in formal gowns of blue organza over taffeta with miniature chapel trains. They were Christianne Carver of Newport Beach, maid of honor; and Linda Rockwell of Lafayette; Marsha Thomas of El Paso and Mrs. Thomas Donnell of Lubbock, Tex., bridesmaids.

Gerald's brother, Bruce Gunn of Sausalito, served him as best man. Ushers were Dick Rockwell of Lafayette, Richard Losh of Albuquerque, and Michael Santry of El Paso.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the El Paso Club. On their return from a honeymoon in Carmel, the young couple will live in Mill Valley.

The new Mrs. Gunn was graduated from Scripps College in Claremont, where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Gerald was graduated from Tamalpais High School and Claremont Men's College. He is employed by the Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco.

Peter English of Anchorage, Alaska, and Frank M. English of Mill Valley are his brothers.

ROSS VALLEY PLAYERS WILL HAVE 'ARVEY AWARDS' FETE

A climax to the Ross Valley Players' 34th year will be the fourth annual "Arvey Awards" dinner dance on Saturday at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Suspense over winners' identities is known only to awards chairman Sydney Dorn. For the first time in the history of the awards, recipients were selected from the casts of four major plays instead of the usual three.

Arvey Awards, bronze piglets on a mahogany base, will go to five actors and one person concerned with production. In addition, the Larry Lovett Award, will honor the player considered by the board of directors to have been the year's most valuable non-acting member.

Young Actors May Tryout For Summer Performance

North Marin Unit of Junior Theatre will hold tryouts for youngsters within the area for its annual summer production. Tryouts will be held Friday at 1 p.m., at the Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda.

Rehearsals will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons, culminating in two performances of "The Wickedest Witch" on July 31 and Aug. 1. Mrs. L. S. Gaustad of Lucas Valley will direct the production.

Children wishing to participate in this year's workshop must be presently enrolled in grades three to eight. They must attend tryouts Friday, accompanied by a parent.

Mrs. John A. Miskimen, president, said the unit is trying something new this year by holding rehearsals in the afternoons, rather than mornings, to avoid conflict with summer school and morning activities.

Looking Up To Your Teen-Ager?

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you find you have to stand on tiptoe to look your teen-agers in the eyes, relax about the fact. Most parents do.

Statistical proof that the younger generations are running taller than their parents comes from a company which fits hundreds of thousands of high school and college seniors in caps and gowns each year.

THE FIRM said that 20 years ago, the averag girl was five feet, four inches tall, and six feet was considered tall for a boy.

Whenever the company received a measurement card showing a girl's height of five feet eight inches or more, or a boy's card showing more than six feet three inches, it checked the school to make sure no mistake had been made.

Now the company has checked current orders to find out just how much high school and college graduates have grown in a generation.

It is not unusual, says the company's president, to find requests for girls six feet tall and for boys up to seven feet.

IT FOUND in the graduating class of one junior college that more than half of the 80 male students were over six feet tall; more than a quarter of the 45 women students were over five feet seven.

A high school class in Missouri reported 17 of its 23 girl graduates were more than five feet seven inches tall and 11 of 20 boys were above six feet. Three of the boys were six feet six inches.

Head sizes however have changed little. Mortarboard measurements are about the same as they were a generation ago.

ALTHOUGH STATISTICS show Americans are getting bigger, the anthropologists don't always agree why. The company's employe publication quoted Dr. T. D. Stewart of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, as saying, "vitamins are just poured into children these days. Everything including all those enriched foods is pushing them up and up."

But Dr. Harry L. Shapiro of the American Museum of Natural History, New York, told the publication that "exogamy" is a factor in making Americans taller. This is the "tendency to marry outside of one's local group." Exogamy helps to produce extra vigor in offspring, he explained.

Twin Cities School Names Mrs. Byers New Director

After an absence of 12 years Libby Byers will return to the Larkspur-Corte Madera Cooperative nursery school this fall in a new capacity as director. Twelve years ago Mrs. Byers was one of the cooperating mothers with a youngster enrolled.

The school, organized as a parent education group, is under the auspices of the College of Marin.

A 13 year county resident and the mother of five children, Mrs. Byers has been director of the Marin Jewish Community nursery school for the past four years. She began teaching full-time seven years ago.

"Before that I substituted when I could, while attending to our family of five children," Mrs. Byers said. "I first became interested in cooperative nursery schools when my now 19 year old was enrolled in one in San Francisco." Four of Mrs. Byers' children have been in cooperative nursery schools so she is well versed in the cooperative parent role.

THE TOM JONES INFLUENCE

The Tom Jones look in new clothes is shown in the ruffled cuffs of this print blouse worn with a cotton suede jumper. The skimmer shape jumper with A-line skirt has a deep V-neckline to show off the blouse's ascot tie. Designer Bobbie Brooks finds cotton suede adaptable to many garments.

Tips Can Ease The Strain Of Auto Trip With Infant

Just because you have a small baby is no reason you can't take a vacation trip in your auto this summer.

With the help of some commonsense precautions and intelligent use of modern conveniences for baby care, little Bobby or Susan can go along on your vacation with no risk to their safety—or to your sanity.

Two of the thorniest problems—feeding and laundry—have been solved by recent research and development.

Lightweight plastic bottles with overcaps are the ideal solution for short trips.

Mothers can make up an entire batch of formula before leaving, and sterilize all at once by the "terminal" method. A small cooler filled with ice will keep the formula safe.

For longer trips, mothers rely on sterile nursery water plus six-ounce cans of evaporated milk or prepared formula base. This eliminates the need for refrigeration, yet guarantees safety—and you can buy as you go.

Disposable diapers and diaper liners are the answer. Each time the baby is changed, place the disposable diaper in a plastic bag and throw it away next time you stop.

Other hints on how to make your trip pleasant and easier are:

Stick to your baby's schedule. Aim at 250 to 300 miles a day and stop driving by 5:00 p.m.

Use a car bed for the infant, and set up a "play or sleep" platform for the older child; make sure either one is fastened securely, and pad all protruding knobs, arm rests, etc.

Some old, familiar toys for security and a couple of new ones for diversion are a must. Toys should be soft and pliable.

Remember that your baby is a true conformist—he wants life on the highway to go on as usual, and needs his regular amount of cuddling and playing.

Whatever you do, don't stay at home on his account — a little careful planning, and baby will enjoy the trip as much as you.

Fund Drive Results Told

Key figures of the recent American Cancer Society drive were entertained at a luncheon at Peacock Gap Country Club by crusade chairman, Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., last week.

In attendance to evaluate the procedure and results of the campaign were Mesdames Ivan Igdaloff, Sausalito; Eugene Thompson, Mill Valley; Fred S. Allen, Ross; William Winter, Kent Woodlands; John Horton, residential chairman; W. B. Read, Terra Linda; John King, Marinwood and David Swanson, Novato.

Also Marin president of the American Cancer Society, John T. Schmitz; president-elect, Dr. William Galeno, board members Howard Simon and Don Anderson and executive director, Miss Nina Brandt.

The group was told that over $34,000 was collected in the April campaign.

Scientist Reports Penicillin Confusion

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—To a medical scientist, so many penicillins are now coming out of laboratories he thinks of a vast field of ripening grain.

It's alarming in a way. "In time the wheat will sort itself from the chaff," said such a scientist. But meanwhile "confusion is inevitable."

If the scientist is confused, then what of the non-scientist?

He probably thinks penicillin is penicillin—that this first of the wonder-working antibiotics is as singular as any other. Not so. There now are scores of them and new ones are coming out by the hundreds.

Dr. Harrison F. Flippin, clinical professor of medicine, University of Pennsylvania graduate school of medicine, Philadelphia, explained this astonishing proliferation of penicillins.

First there was the original, the product of the green mold, penicillium notatum. It had a "face," that is a molecule, and so it could be manipulated chemically. The original became several rather than one and the most useful in staying bacterial infections in people proved to be benzyl penicillin G.

The chemists also converted penicillins into their salts and esters, to make them more stable and slow their rate of absorption in body chemistry. Then they discovered the chemical nature of penicillin could be changed by putting various "precursors" into the moldy ferments which produce it.

But what really opened the flood gates was the isolation of the penicillin nucleus which proved to be 6-amino penicillanic acid. By adding new side chains to this nucleus, new penicillins can be made in laboratories in indefinite numbers.

Flippin was giving members of the Pennsylvania Medical Society an expert run-down on all the new ones in the society's technical journal. "So confusion will not be worsened, it is vital that extravagant claims for any new comer are not allowed to pass unchallenged," he said.

For one thing, he said, the component which "sensitizes" some allergic persons and makes them subject to dangerous reactions from penicillin is in the nucleus. Therefore no penicillin should be used in any patient who is "hypersensitive" to any of them.

He divided the newer penicillins into three groups—three which are acid-resistant (they are not destroyed by stomach acids,) those which resist penicillinase, and those which prevent the multiplication of a wider group of sickening bacteria than the original penicillin did.

Penicillinase is the defensive masterpiece of certain kinds of bacteria which once were knocked for a loop by penicillin. It is an enzyme which the bacteria learned to "make" and it renders the original penicillins harmless—but not the new penicillins which "resist" it.

WASHINGTON—A Senate subcommittee is ready to blow the whistle on government health officials whose anti-auto pollution plans are stalled in neutral.

Congress last year gave the go-ahead for the U. S. Public Health Service to organize an industry-government committee to appraise programs for muzzling the tailpipes of 70 million American vehicles. The service thus far has sat through the green light.

When a Senate air-pollution subcommittee meets this week, chairman Edmund Muskie (D-Me.) for one will pointedly ask: Why? Four major automobile manufacturers, after several invitations, will reluctantly testify also, it is understood.

The makers of various devices to deskunk auto fumes will explain what they think can be done about the problem, which is growing nationally as more vehicles roll onto the streets and highways.

The hearings could shed some light on what the tight-lipped automobile industry is doing itself to de-fume cars and why it is quarreling with California's solution to clean up its smoggy skies.

The action by the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board stems from a law passed in 1959. The automobile industry has been well aware of this. But it greeted the news, according to one report, with "dismay." The industry has been working on its own plan to abate fumes.

Detroit claims it is working toward a 1967 goal for adopting various changes.

Smog-plagued California didn't wait. Instead, it has approved substitutions for conventional mufflers. Three of the devices utilize catalytic chemicals that "burn" the waste compounds chemically.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Without Air Conditioning, Torrid Weather Living Still A Problem

VAN DELLEN

Hot weather is no longer a problem for those with air-conditioned cars, homes, offices, and shopping facilities. The rest of us must contend with the heat and use every trick in the book to remain comfortable. The program revolves around clothing, food, salt, fluids, baths, sleep, and exercise.

EVERYONE KNOWS that too much food, clothing, and exercise make us feel the heat and humidity more. A large meal raises metabolism — it is like adding fuel to a furnace to step up production. Small meals are preferred, especially those containing more fruits and vegetables and less fats. The exception is the hard working man who burns up energy through physical exertion. He needs as much food in summer as in winter. Smaller meals leave him weak, unless he eats frequently.

Fluids must be taken to make up for the loss through sweating. Many beverages also have a cooling effect and fruit juices supply energy. Alcohol increases the sense of warmth. Perspiration contains salt as well as water. The loss is greatest during the first few sizzling days but tapers off as the individual becomes acclimated. Additional salt is easily obtained by sprinkling it on corn on the cob, radishes, and celery.

SWIMMING IS the best summer exercise because it does not overheat the body and the cool water is refreshing. Perspiration and unpleasant odors are diminished by extra baths or showers.

Other forms of exertion should be kept to a minimum, especially during the heat of the day. Confine walking to the shady side of the street and don't hesitate to step into an air conditioned store or lobby when you really feel the heat.

LOOSE FITTING, lightweight clothing allows more air to filter through, and helps perspiration to evaporate. Light colors reflect heat whereas dark absorbs it.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HIGH BLOOD SUGAR

T. H. writes: What are the symptoms of elevated sugar?

REPLY

None, as a rule. It is normal to have an elevated blood sugar following a meal or a sweet drink. The sugar is metabolized and the level usually drops to normal within an hour or two. It remains elevated for longer periods in the diabetic because of a deficiency of insulin.

MUMPS

Mrs. D. writes: Does mumps cause symptoms other than swelling of the jaws?

REPLY

As with other infections, there may be fever, headache, loss of appetite, fatigue, stiff neck, and generalized aching. Lower abdominal pain may occur if the sex organs are involved. And some victims cannot eat pickles.

FATIGUE AND DREAMS

D. L. writes: Does dreaming all night make a person tired the next day?

REPLY

Not unless the dreams keep waking you. Most of us have several dreams at night that last a short or long time and many are forgotten by morning.

AUDITED PAID CIRCULATION ABC

One in a series of messages to advertisers

What is an ABC figure?

Chatting with a merchant the other day, we mentioned our "ABC figure."

"What," he asked, "is an ABC figure?"

Perhaps what we told him will also interest you.

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, an independent, nonprofit association of well over 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers. Its purpose is to provide accurate and factual reports on the circulation of member publishers. In the advertising and publishing industry, the ABC insigne is often referred to as the "hallmark of circulation values."

At regular intervals, an ABC traveling auditor visits our office to check our records. The findings of this physical audit are embodied in an Audit Report, published by ABC—the report literally tells us what our circulation figure is.

Virtually everything an advertiser should know about our circulation is found in this report, facts and figures without opinion.

Few retailers bother to ask to see a copy of our report, yet we want you to know one is available anytime you are interested in checking the quality and quantity of our circulation audience—the audience for your advertising messages.

What is an ABC figure?

It is our way of making sure that you get full measure for your advertising in this newspaper.

Man In News Business All His Life Now Cub Reporter

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — After more than 40 years in the newspaper business, 63-year-old Houston Brown is a cub reporter for the Daily Times of Gainesville.

Brown, who has worked on south Southern and Northern newspapers, is a one-man news bureau for the Times in the picturesque North Georgia county of Habersham.

Brown waited until he "retired" to get into the writing end of the newspaper business. He broke in on the Florence, Ala., Times doing a little of everything except reporting. Soon afterwards he joined the Montgomery Advertiser and became state editor.

His later editorial career was spent in such papers as the Birmingham, Ala., Post-Herald, the Canandaigua, N. Y., Daily Messenger, New York Daily News and the Long Branch, N. J., Daily Record.

But it wasn't until Brown reached his golden years that he finally managed to become a reporter — admittedly his first love. He went to Atlanta, where his son works for a newspaper, with thoughts of retiring. But Daily Times editor Sylvan Meyer heard of Brown and hired him.

Eventually he ended up in the small town of Cornelia in Habersham County as the Times' "news bureau." His portable typewriter livens up his hotel room there and the copy he turns out livens things up in the Daily Times, which is pushing circulation in the neighboring county.

Brown says he had to overcome some resistance to reporting the news in Habersham. Citiy councils in those North Georgia mountains were not used to having a reporter ask about their business, much less sit in the meetings. He was asked to leave on occasions. But slowly he began to be accepted — most of the time they sort of like "being in the paper," he said.

Brown gets around rapidly on his beat. One day he's in the upper end of the county covering court and the next morning he's up at four, taking notes on a fire in another section. He gathers gossip along the way for his column, "Apple Barrel."

Usually by 9 a.m. each day he has checked his spot news sources and reported by phone to the Times.

He finds competition among papers and reporters not as thick as it used to be.

$250,000 FOR WIDOW

Composer's Will Written On Old Music Parchment

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — Composer Louis Gruenberg left his entire estate, valued at $250,000, to his widow in a will written on old music parchment, it was learned today.

Gruenberg, who was 79 when he died June 10 at a local hospital, composed operas, symphonic pieces, and music background scores for which he won Academy Award recognition.

His will, filed for probate today by attorney William Spivak, read: "I, being of sound mind, hereby bequeath to my beloved wife, Irma, my entire resources, financial, real estate and the returns of my writing."

His operas included "The Emperor Jones," "Green Mansions," and "The Enchanted Isle." He wrote music scores for such films as "So Ends Our Night" and "The Command Strikes at Dawn," which earned him awards.

His wife, Irma, and a daughter, Mrs. Joan Cominos, were among survivors.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS are a favorite of the barbecue chef and are especially good teamed with corn on the cob and a cole slaw salad. The ribs are given a total of 1 to 1½ hours on the grill, frequently turned and basted with Western Barbecue Sauce.

Spareribs Favorites From Outdoor Grill

With smacking good spareribs, serve cole slaw and buttered corn on the cob, toasted garlic bread, and fresh peach sundae and cookies, or sugar cones with ice cream and iced tea or coffee.

Spareribs are now featured in markets, packaged with basic cooking instructions.

WESTERN BARBECUE SAUCE

1 cup catsup
1 cup water
¼ cup cider vinegar
1 tblsp. Worcestershire
1 small onion, minced
1 small clove garlic, minced
2 tbsps brown sugar
2 tblsps. brown sugar
2 tblsps. molasses
2 tsps dry mustard
1 tsp. chili powder
1 tblsp. liquid smoke

Combine all ingredients in medium saucepan; simmer over low heat 20 minutes.

Allow about one pound spareribs per person, Prepare all surfaces of the meat, one side at a time, as follows:

1. Thoroughly moisten the surface of the meat with water—pat the water on from the faucet with your fingers, use a pastry brush or draw a wet fork across the surface. Sprinkle meat tenderizer evenly, like salt, over the surface, about ½ tsp. per pound.

2 To insure penetration and retain juices, pierce meat deeply with a kitchen fork at approximately ½-inch intervals. Meat is ready for cooking.

3. Coals are ready when gray, shot with a ruddy glow. Place ribs, meaty side down, on grill set 6 inches above coals; barbecue 30 minutes; turn, brush with Western Barbecue Sauce. Continue to cook until crispy brown and well done—a total of 1 to 1½ hours, frequently turning and brushing with sauce. During last 10 minutes, place lemon slices on ribs.

Home Picnic Easy And Fun Entertaining

A backyard picnic is a simple way to entertain, and it allows the hostess to mingle with her guests and be the gracious lady of the party.

Stuffed lobster tails, and a colorful, cooling fruit medley in a watermelon bowl can be easily prepared in advance.

The family wheelbarrow is used as a cooler which keeps the food chilled on the hottest day. Prepare your wheelbarrow cooler with aluminum foil, dump in ice and set the stuffed lobster tails, fruit and cooling drinks in place.

To prepare stuffed lobster tails, cook, thawed, three to five oz. South African lobster tails four to six minutes in boiling salted water. Remove meat from shells, dice meat and combine with chopped celery, mayonnaise, tabasco, dry mustard and salt to taste. Return to shell. To prevent curling of shell, grasp raw tail in both hands and bend toward shell side to crack slightly.

For the watermelon fruit bowl, use a melon baller or round 1-teaspoon measuring spoon to scoop out watermelon into balls. Combine with sliced all-yellow bananas, fresh strawberries, pineapple wedges, dark grapes, cantaloupe or honeydew balls. Place fruit in watermelon shell; decorate with pineapple leaves or mint.

Use chilled bowls to keep sour cream cold while whipping.

Fruit, Cheese Molds Make A Colorful Table

Make colorful "Fruit and Cheese Molds" when company is coming over. These individual salads will be the talk of the table. The fruits include ripe olives, avocado and pineapple, and the cheese is cottage cheese. When serving whole ripe olives on relish trays, roll the fruit lightly in salad or olive oil to make it glisten.

FRUIT AND CHEESE MOLDS

½ cup ripe olives
1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 tbsp. sugar
¼ tsp salt
¾ cup boiling water
¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup drained crushed pineapple
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
1 avocado
Lettuce

Cut olives into large pieces. Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve gelatin, sugar and salt in boiling water. Stir in lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened; fold in pineapple, cottage cheese and olives. Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin.

Sieve avocado or mash with fork and blend with gelatin mixture. Turn into 8 individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce-garnished salad plates.

Makes 8 servings.

Add Wines For Flavor

Two wines, sherry and port, can be used to flavor an elegant strawberry and custard dessert.

The dessert is a delicate custard subtly flavored with sherry and topped with sliced strawberries which have been marinated in a ruby port.

4 eggs
½ cup sugar
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup whipping cream
1 cup milk
⅓ cup California Sherry
1 tsp. vanilla
2 cups sliced strawberries
1 tbsp. powdered sugar
½ cup California Port

Beat eggs lightly; gradually beat in sugar and salt. Combine with cream and milk; stir in Sherry and vanilla. Pour into casserole or baking pan (about 5½ cup size). Set in pan containing 1 inch hot water. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) until silver knife inserted 1-inch from outer edge of custard comes out clean, about 40 to 45 minutes. Remove pan from water; let cool, then chill. Sprinkle berries with sugar; chill. When ready to serve, spoon custard into serving dishes. Add Port to berries and spoon over each serving. Top with a small garnish of whipped cream, if desired, and a half berry. (Serves 6 to 8).

Ice Relishes

Set relishes and hors d'oeuvres on ice and use them as a centerpiece on the dining table.

How To Make Most Of Fresh Pineapple

There are more ways than one of preparing a fresh pineapple—and all of them make serving the fruit easy and attractive.

SLICED PINEAPPLE

Cut a thick slice from the top and bottom of a ripe pineapple. Stand on a board and cut away rind from the top downward. With a small sharp knife cut out eyes. Cut in ½-inch thick slices. Cut core from slices with a small sharp cookie cutter—rounded or some other interesting shape.

PINEAPPLE SPEARS

Cut a thick slice from the top and bottom of a ripe pineapple, saving the bottom slice. Remove the fruit in cylinder form by running a sharp, thin long blade around the pineapple between the rind and meat, leaving the shell intact. One way of doing this is to cut from either end to the half-way point, keeping the knife blade pointed toward the rind. Push the cylinder out of the bottom (large) end by pressing from the top (small) end. Cut the cylinder in half lengthwise, then into quarters. Cut core from each quarter. Cut quarters into spears. Place the bottom that was cut from the pineapple on a serving plate; place the pineapple shell over; fill with the pineapple spears. Garnish with a sprig of fresh mint.

PINEAPPLE PICK-UPS

With a large sharp knife, cut the pineapple in half, right through the green plume or crown. Use a kitchen scissors to snip off any frayed tips of leaves. With a small sharp knife cut out the core in a narrow, deep strip without cutting through the rind. With a curved serrated grapefruit knife, separate the fruit from the shell, by running the knife along the under side of the fruit (making sure the shell is thick enough to include the eyes). Leaving loosened fruit in the shell, slice vertically and horizontally, forming bite-size pieces.

For a first course, arrange marinated shrimp along the empty center channel of pineapple and spear pineapple pieces and shrimps with picks—for help-yourself service.

FOR TABLE service, cut pineapple into quorters, replace with strawberries, and serve with sugar in individual containers.

They're Glorified Hamburgers And Good Indoors Or Grilled

1 cup fine cracker crumbs
1 egg
2 tblsps. milk
2 tblsps. grated onion
¼ tsp. garlic salt
⅛ tsp. Tabasco sauce
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
⅛ tsp. oregano
1¼ pounds ground chuck
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper

Roll crackers into fine crumbs between two pieces of waxed paper. Beat egg lightly; stir in milk, onion, garlic salt, Tabasco, Worcestershire and oregano. Add mixture to crumbs; blend well and set aside.

Season ground beef with salt and pepper. Gently pat into eight thin patties about 4 inches in diameter. Place a quarter of the crumb mixture on four patties, spreading almost to the edges. Top with remaining patties and gently pinch edges together.

Broil over open charcoal grill, or under a flame to desired degree of doneness. If desired, patties may be sauteed in skillet with 2 to 3 tablespoons butter or margarine. Yield: 4 patties.

THEY LOOK for all the world like plain old hamburgers, but there's a layer of stuffing inside that gives a special flavor of seasonings.

Cooked Noodles Are Side Dish For Ham

As a side dish with baked ham (hot or cold) serve cooked noodles in this Spanish-inspired sauce. Saute ¼ cup minced onion in 3 tablespoons olive oil until soft; add ½ green pepper, chopped, about ½ cup chopped mushrooms, and 2 tablespoons chopped green olives. Cook 1 or 2 minutes, add 1 cup tomato sauce, simmer 5 minutes. Add salt and pepper to taste. (Makes enough sauce for ½ lb. (8 ounces) egg noodles.) Add the hot cooked noodles to the sauce, toss to blend, serve immediately. Enough for 4 servings as a side dish.

Astronomers Are New Kind Of National Hero For U.S.

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—You have probably never met one.

They're noctural, mostly, and dwell on mountain tops in silvery domes that open only at night.

But they do come down into the cities occasionally, to greet their wives, kiss their children and pick up fresh supplies.

You could, conceivably, bump into one.

If you do and his clothes look a little rumpled, it's probably because they've been on him all night, neglected while he gazed at sights in time and space that only his kind can see.

If you talk to him and his words have little meaning to you it's because he thinks in a polyglot jargon of technical terms invented to convey ideas beyond the ken of ordinary mortals.

If he seems like he's from another world—it's because that is what he deals with most of the time: Other worlds.

But treasure the meeting — you've just met a new kind of national hero.

He's an astronomer.

The blazing dawn of the space age has thrown a sudden light of public recognition on this savant of the night.

Once he wore black robes and peaked cap, and ordinary folk thought he could tell the future from the stars.

When it became a national goal to rocket humans into the hostile environment of the moon and planets, only the astronomer could plot the trajectories and guess what the explorers would encounter on their arrival.

Before the space age opened with the launching of man-made satellites in 1957, the biggest single sum of money astronomers had ever been given to spend was 6 million dollars in private funds —the cost of the 200-inch telescope on Palomar Mountain in Southern California.

Since 1957, about 50 million dollars in government money has been granted by the National Science Foundation to Kitt Peak National Observatory at Tucson, Ariz., and the National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Green Bank, W. Va.

Even greater expenditures are planned for a new astronomical center being developed by five European nations and this country on the peaks of northern Chile.

A few years ago discovery that the atmosphere of Mars was even thinner than supposed would have rated attention only in scientific journals. Today it wins headlines in newspapers all over the world —because it means more millions than planned must be spent learning how to soft-land instruments and men safely on that most earth-like of planets.

When the huge telescope on Palomar Mountain 100 miles south of Los Angeles was opened to public view in 1948, non-professional visitors were rare. Last year more than 15,000 had a glimpse through the giant glass eye of light from objects trillions of miles away.

In 1957, the nation's universities counted 168 graduates in astronomy. By last summer the number had risen to 524 and hundreds more were rejected for lack of facilities.

The star-gazer's formal training lasts as long as a physician's. Twenty years or more of study pass before he wins his doctorate.

The astronomer today must be a master of mathematics and physics.

He must also know geology and chemistry, so he can understand the make-up of other planets; biology and botany; electronics and engineering; the new science of nuclear energy, because the sun and other stars are hydrogen bombs in endless explosion; four to six foreign languages; and public affairs, because today he spends a great deal of public money and consequently is involved in politics.

Youth Missing, So Is $140,000

OAKLAND (AP)—A Bank of Commerce clerk is being hunted by the FBI in connection with a missing $140,000.

The shortage was discovered after Theodore C. Nelson, 18, of San Francisco failed to return from a coffee break yesterday morning.

A bank official said Nelson got the money in $5s, $10s and $20s when he presented a voucher for a supermarket chain at about 9 a.m. yesterday morning.

U.S. Atty. Frederick E. Woelflen obtained a warrant for Nelson's arrest charging embezzlement.

A note found in Nelson's apartment told a relative he had gone to Mexico.

Board Wants Answers On Stanford Report

Marin County supervisors want several answers when they again discuss the Stanford Research Institute's report on its study of possibilities for broadening the tax base.

They said so yesterday before setting for July 29 further discussion of the institute's 100-page preliminary report, financed with $25,400 in public and private funds.

Peter H. Behr was the most inquisitive of the supervisors. He asked the researchers to suggest how much an airport would add to Marin's attractiveness to industry. He also wanted to know the possible benefits in promoting the county's recreational opportunities, particularly boating facilities which could be used for sport and commercial fishing fleets.

Behr wanted further to know why Marin should not be able to attract a greater share of the research and development industry which is centered around the educational complexes of the University of California and Stanford University.

He pointed out that Marin is closer to Berkeley than many present sites of industries which deal with Cal's researchers and facilities.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman asked the Stanford institute representatives what they tell their industrial clients about the advantages and disadvantages of locating plants in Marin. The Stanford men chose not to answer this specifically, protesting that each case is individual.

Strike May Hit Liquor Dealers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—First a beer strike.

Now, maybe, liquor?

Jack Goldberger, a Teamster Union spokesman, said yesterday a strike against Bay Area liquor dealers by the Wholesale Liquor Salesmen's and Driver's Union is a definite possibility.

Both union and the distributors association singles out sales commissions as a key issue of the dispute.

A beer strike-lockout has closed major California breweries since May 11.

Congressmen Pay Tribute To C. S. Lea

WASHINGTON — House Majority Leader Carl Albert (D-Okla.) and Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) Monday joined First District Congressman Donald H. Clausen in eulogizing Clarence S. Lea, Clausen's predecessor in the House who died Saturday in Santa Rosa at the age of 89.

Clausen said that "for those of you who, like me, are more recent members of the House, Clarence Lea left a record of accomplishment that we would all like to follow."

He listed among Lea's major achievements during his 32 years in the House the chairmanship of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, co-authorship of the Pure Food and Drug Act, authorship of the Lea amendment to the Federal Trade Commission Act and the legislation establishing the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Living In Egypt Is Battle Of Wits

BY JAMES PICTON

CAIRO (WPS) — Egyptians use every possible occasion to engage in their favorite sport of matching wits with each other. It extends not only to haggling endlessly over prices to "get the best of the bargain," but even to using the telephone and riding in an elevator.

This correspondent was recently descending, in a self-service elevator, from an upper floor of an office building. Also in the elevator was a little man who seemed so polite and pleasant that I was somewhat amazed at what ensued when the elevator made a stop at the fifth floor. A gentleman waiting there asked, before stepping in: "Are you going up or down?"

"Oh no, Effendi," the man beside me said quickly, "Are YOU going up or down?"

The gentleman hesitated, then conceded he was going down.

"Ah, too bad, Effendi," my companion said with a triumphant smile. "WE'RE going up!" Whereupon the door closed and we descended. He beamed proudly, clearly expecting me to do the same. After all, he had won his first round of the day in the "elevator battles" that go on continuously here.

In using a telephone the rules of the outwitting game are a bit different. The object here is to give the caller as little information as you can while trying to see how much information you can get out of him.

An American woman here had this typical experience in trying to phone an Egyptian friend:

"May I speak to Mr. Ahmed?" she asked the voice that answered.

"Who is it?" the voice inquired.

"Mrs. MacKensie. May I please speak to Mr. Ahmed?"

"What number are you calling?"

"I'm calling 44778. Have I got the wrong number?"

"I didn't say that, madam. I asked who you are calling."

In exasperation, Mrs. MacKensie demanded: "Please just tell me if Mr. Ahmed is there or not."

"Are you calling from Cairo or Heliopolis?" she was asked.

And she would probably still be answering such questions if she had not finally hung up in despair.

Then there is the coffee protocol that accompanies the sale of products not in the minimum price bracket. For a Westerner trying to make one last purchase before his plane takes off, this can be absolutely maddening.

For example, an American business man whom I was seeing off to the airport noticed on the way an attractive camel saddle in a shop in Cairo's Oriental Bazaar. He wanted to buy it before he left.

"How much is this camel saddle?" he asked the shopkeeper.

"Good morning!" answered the smiling Egyptian. "You Americans always begin talking business without even saying hello."

"Excuse me," the American apologized. "Good morning. Now what about the camel saddle?"

"Please! Have a seat. Relax!"

"I can't. I've got to catch a plane."

The shopkeeper clapped his hands for his servant. "Mohammed! Bring the foreign gentlemen chairs. Immediately!"

We sat down. "Now," said the business man nervously eyeing his watch, "will you tell me how much you want for the camel saddle?"

"Would you prefer tea or coffee, sir?"

"Neither, thank you—in view of my plane. How much . . . ?"

"But sir. It is the custom. We are sensitive people and get offended if you don't drink coffee with us."

"In that case I'll take coffee. But meanwhile perhaps you can tell me the price of the camel saddle. My plane . . . "

"Do you like your coffee Mazboot, Saada or Suker Zeeyada, sir? That means medium, no sugar or lots of sugar."

"I'll have it medium, thank you. Now about the . . . "

"In due time, Sir. We are a very modern business; you need not worry." He clapped his hands again. "Mohammed! Medium coffees for the foreign gentlemen. Immediately!" Then he turned to the American business man. "And now tell me," he purred. "What do you think of our country? Nice! No?"

That's A Polite Way Of Branding A Rustler

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—In 1889 the Boulder (Mont.) Age reported the arrest in Elkhorn of a man described as "troubled with some ocular disease that prevents him from recognizing or distinguishing any difference between brands on horses." Undersheriff Gibbs made the arrest.

Black Market Blossoms For Coal Miners

By HENRI SCHOUP

BRUSSELS (UPI)—In the mining towns of Belgium, Turkish workers are so prized they are the objects of an underground "recruitment" racket that is costing Belgian mine owners both workers and money.

Last year, labor-hungry Belgium concluded an agreement with Turkey allowing recruitment of an unlimited number of workers there. Since then, about 5,000 Turks have come to boost the mining industry's labor force of 63,000, more than half of whom are foreigners. And each week there are about 60 new arrivals.

At first, mine managements thought they had found a dependable new reservoir of strong, willing workers, some of whom had worked as miners in their own country and all of whom showed they could quickly adapt themselves to Belgian conditions. But recently they discovered that their labor force was dwindling mysteriously, with mines in the Charleroi-Basse-Sambre basin losing up to 20 per cent of their Turkish recruits within a few weeks.

An investigation showed the men were being enticed away by a new kind of racketeer who "kidnaped" workers with promises of better working conditions and higher pay just across the border, in Holland and West Germany.

When police were called in to check on the activities of these underground "recruiters" they found many of them were Turks, used by foreign employers to contact their fellow countrymen and persuade them to break their contracts. Police even pinpointed their headquarters, a cafe in Charleroi.

These recruiting activities have so far cost Belgian mine managements an estimated one million francs ($20,000).

A Belgian mining spokesman said:

"We spend at least 7,000 francs ($140) per imported Turkish laborer in transport and basic training. This is not counting the housing and social services we provide when the men are here.

"It is obviously a good deal easier for Dutch and German employers to send their recruiting agents to Belgium and get labor here.

"And they are very cunning about it. They wait until the new arrivals are more or less familiar with one European language, either French or Flemish, and with the job they were hired for. Then they get a few men out with promises of better work and more pay. Finally, these men are sent back as "recruiters" to persuade their mates to break the one-year contract they have have with us."

The management of a mining combine in the Charleroi area has asked the local court to step in, but the legal experts say little can be done except prosecute foreign workers for breach of contract. There is nothing illegal about foreigners changing their place of employmen if the receiving country grants them a work permit.

But recently the management of one important mine found a weapon to fight back with—a Turk who had been recruited to work in Holland but failed to find there what had been promised. This man wrote a letter to his workmates in Charleroi urging them not to fall for the blandishments of recruiting agents and stay where they were.

The letter was photographed and distributed among the entire Turkish community.

City Of Tiburon, A Reality Now, Is Off To Good Start

Tiburon's new status as Marin County's eleventh incorporated city has been accomplished, following the June 2 vote of its people and last night's first official meeting of the new City Council, which put the new city's government into operation.

Many questions have to be resolved during the next few weeks, for the governing body is facing the establishment of municipal government from scratch.

Selection of a permanent city manager; preparation and adoption of a number of ordinances that are basic in any city's codes; decision as to planning policies and planning personnel; a basic taxation and assessment plan; permanent police and fire protection; expectable first-year revenues—even a city hall—these and many others face the new City Council and the Tiburon residents.

But Tiburon is looking ahead, and already moving forward. The election was close, but opponents have stated they will join the majority to make the efficiency of Tiburon city government as outstanding as the community's high priority in the Bay Area as a desirable place in which to live.

The first year will be as busy as it is interesting. And the League of California Cities is due to get a progressive new addition to its list of member municipalities.

Named For A Terrible Goddess

June is too nice a month to be named for the Roman goddess Juno—a jealous, vindictive, blood-thirsty personality.

We think the old Anglo-Saxon term of "Joy-Time" is more appropriate. Especially for Marin. Much more descriptive of gentle June than the battle-axe goddess.

But June is with us once again with its bird song and myriad flowers. Let us hope it will be Joy-Time for us all.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

HIS OLD TEACHER IS TAUGHT LESSON

After 38 years, a teacher got a dose of her own medicine from a former pupil.

When she was brought into court for speeding, the judge recognized her as his high school freshman teacher. Recalling that she had once ordered all of her pupils to write 50 times: "I must not talk in class," he decided to give her a little reminder of old times. He sentenced her to write 100 times: "I must not exceed the speed limit."

Various methods can impress a sense of responsibility on human beings. Yet effective as they may be, there is no substitute for self-discipline.

Until a person sincerely decides to correct his own shortcomings, there is little assurance of real repentance or the enduring determination needed to right what is wrong in one's self.

Perfecting yourself is the lifelong task assigned to you by Almighty God. He will give you all the best that is in you during your pilgrimage to heaven.

"You therefore are to be perfect, even as your heavenly Father is perfect."

Teach me, O Holy Spirit, to master myself and thus be better fitted to bring out the best in others.

State's Numerous Special Service Districts May Need Depth Review

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The special district form of government in California, whereby "special" problems not the concern of all the taxpayers are cared for, is being apparently overworked. Nonetheless, there is much to be said for this type of operation.

State Controller Alan Cranston, in a recent report, noted that one dollar out of every six reached the coffers of a special district when the governments of cities and counties dip into the taxpayers' pockets for the annual take.

THE STATE HAS 3,342 special districts, all of them able to levy taxes, and all of them able to spend this tax money for some particular purpose.

These purposes range from fire protection, flood control, recreation, water of various sorts, reclamation, sanitation, etc., to highway and street lighting.

The special districts, and it should be noted these do not include irrigation or school districts, which are provided for under separate sections of the law, dip into the taxpayer pocket for nearly a half a billion a year, and all of the funds are from local taxes.

RESULT IS THAT when the taxpayer gets his bill, and figures his assessment against the county tax rate, results are surprising. The rest usually is a tax for a special district assessment, which the taxpayer does not know, and sometimes does not care, exists.

District history in California no doubt started with the state reclamation districts, which resulted in special taxes to develop flooded land, avoid the possibility of continued flooding, and thereby develop soil for general use.

It continued with the control of water, and then with the development of water for both domestic and general use. The system looked like a good one, so the developments continued for other area developments, the latest of which has been the community service areas. These districts are authorized to perform almost any service for the areas they cover, and were formed particularly to serve in the stead of a city government. That is, areas formed community service districts instead of incorporating into cities to avoid, if possible, establishment of a separate city government. Usually, the county board of supervisors is the governing body of these community service districts.

GENERALLY, the administrative cost of operating a special service district is small, due to the fact that administration is incorporated into the already established county government.

On the other hand, the size and bite of tax assessments into the rolls may eventually call for some type of survey of all special districts, with a view to combining the operation where feasible.

The general question is whether some of the services provided by the special districts should not be more generalized and more of a responsibility of all taxpayers, rather than merely a few, at least on a county-wide basis.

This easily could meet some opposition from those districts which are functioning for one area alone.

Tax Withholding Cut An Illusion?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Internal Revenue Service has recently issued a document (No. 5536) which is a Notice to Employers, advising employers that the new withholding rate tables under the Revenue Act of 1964, effective about March 5, 1964, may not be adequate to cover the income tax liability of most individual income tax payers. The document suggests that this was intentionally done by the Treasury Department in order to "relieve employers of having to make two successive withholding rate changes (one for 1964, one for 1965) by making a one-step reduction from the former 18 per cent rate to the 14 per cent rate, which will continue into 1965 and thereafter."

In my opinion, it seems doubtful that this was the intention of the Treasury Department and the present administration; that this was done for the convenience of the employers who are the collecting agents for the government of the withholding taxes from individual earnings. The fact that the 1964 law reduces tax rates in two steps—one for 1964 and the other for 1965 — would not create any further burdens for employers, but would merely require the Treasury Department to issue proper withholding rate tables for each of the years. As it is now, almost every year employers have to refer to revised tables for other types of payroll taxes. . . . So one more revision seems unimportant.

I believe that generally most salaried employees are not aware that the increase they now see in their pay checks is greater than it should be because the tax that is being withheld from their current earnings is inadequate to cover their tax liability for 1964. The document notifies employers that they can be of help to their employees by advising them of this situation and attempting to explain the complicated calculations that would be required by employees in order to avoid a tax balance due for the year.

. . . We have advised our doctor-clients to tell their employees that the simplest way for them to correct this would be to claim one less exemption than they are legally entitled to claim. This, of course, would increase the amount withheld from each pay check and decrease the current "take-home pay."

I feel it is the duty of the government to notify the general public of this situation. However, I do not believe the government will do so, and the general public will not become aware of the situation until some time in 1965 when they file their 1964 income tax returns and discover that they have a balance due rather than the refund that most salaried tax payers are accustomed to receiving. Coincidentally, the voters become aware of this after the November elections, whereas I think the popular belief of most people is that the present administration legislated tax laws which put additional money in their pockets. . . .

Goldwater Ignores Other Minorities

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Sen. Barry Goldwater votes no on the civil rights bill. If this man was not a senator and wealthy, I know of hotels in Miami and other resorts in the South where a person by the name of Goldwater could not get reservations.

One cannot hide his ancestry by rejecting his father's place of worship.

It seems to me that this man is power-mad. Helping the majority of citizens is not in his program.

He Extends Credit To Study Chairman

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To give credit where due, it was not I who made the report to the Fairfax school board that preceded their decision to schedule another bond election in November, as reported in the I-J June 17. That report was made by Ray Barnes, chairman of the special study committee appointed by the board after the defeat of the bond proposal in January.

Mr. Barnes' committee had on it both opponents and proponents of the previous proposal.

What I reported was that, if only 77 per cent of the parents who failed to vote in January had voted yes, we would have passed the bond at that time.

A MARRIAGE COUNSELOR was having trouble determining the cause of discord between a young husband and wife who insisted on talking at the same time. Finally establishing a semblance of order, he demanded of the wife, "What is the main block to your getting along together?" Grimly she ordered her husband, "You tell him, hon." "Ah," interrupted the counselor. "There's hope for your marriage when you still call him 'hon'." "That," explained the wife coldly, "happens to be his name: Attila the Hun."

COLONEL JOE DUFFY observes that in parking lots, most arguments start from scratch. He also presents these two definitions: PEDESTRIAN: A fellow who was convinced there still was gas in the tank when the gauge pointed to empty; RADIO COMMERCIAL: The din you love to shush.

THE SALESMAN for the 44-volume encyclopedia climaxed his pitch with a hearty "Yes, ma'am! You just put a tiny deposit down, and don't pay another penny for six months!" The prospect looked surprised and demanded, "Who told you about us?"

10 YEARS AGO

County Supervisor Vera Schultz in a talk to the Mill Valley Optimists Club at Sabella's in Alto made a strong plea for a charter government for Marin County.

First steel was scheduled to be placed shortly on the Marin side of San Rafael-Richmond Bridge. Work was started on a $218,670 contract for a short approach road at this end of the span.

Mail carrier Leland J. Ahern made the last delivery on San Rafael's 35-year-old 30-mile Rural Route 1, lying among San Rafael, China Camp and McNear's Point. Postal officials announced mail deliveries north of St. Vincent's Orphanage henceforth would be handled by car out of Novato; the area south of there would be delivered by car from San Rafael.

Civil Rights Bill Termed Great Result Of Politics, Democracy

WASHINGTON — The principals who brought about the overwhelming passage of the equal-rights bill deserve a special citation and the deep gratitude of the American people.

WE HAVE WITNESSED political leadership at its best.

We have witnessed functioning American democracy at its best.

Though there be risk of unintentionally overlooking some whose crucial labors may have been less visible. I venture a roll of honor of those who brought to present fruition the great drama of the American equal-rights revolution of 1964.

HEREWITH A CITATION of esteem for those who were in the forefront:

First and foremost, to the entire United States Supreme Court of 1954 whose unanimous school integration decision gave indispensable impetus to all that followed.

To two generals in the ranks, the two Negro leaders who worked in faithful, if at times uneasy, harness: the able, self-effacing private leader, Roy Wilkins, the executive secretary of the NAACP, and the able, animate, public leader, the Rev. Martin Luther King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

To the two Presidents of the United States, John F. Kennedy, who, though he gave himself to the cause of strong civil rights legislation somewhat slowly and tardily, in the end provided dynamic national leadership, and Lyndon B. Johnson, who has never wavered in putting the mighty moral weight of the presidency behind this cause.

TO SENATOR Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, where the Negroes in Chicago have disdained him in the past, who negotiated the minimum changes in the bill to get maximum Republican support for ending the filibuster and without whom the Senate would be "debating" the bill yesterday, today, tomorrow —days without end.

In Congress many others deserve special credit. The bipartisan Senate floor leaders, Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), and Thomas Kuchel (R-Calif.). In the House liberal Republican Congressman John Lindsay of New York and conservative Republican Congressman William M. McCulloch of Ohio did the most to extract from the judiciary committee a bill both strong and enactable, and to his eternal credit Republican floor leader Charles Halleck gave them unwavering support so that the bill passed the House with four-fifths of the Republicans behind it.

GREAT CREDIT also goes:

To the clergy of all faiths whose moral influence literally changed votes on Capitol Hill.

To the 200,000 Freedom Marchers who demonstrated that a massive rally in Washington could channel and exhibit — without violence — the nation's demand to correct long-borne grievances.

To the 290 members of the House of Representatives who voted for the bill first, to the 71 Senators who ended the filibuster, to the 73 Senators who voted for the bill last week.

To the millions of Americans who have shown that they want to finish the unfinished business of the equal-rights revolution.

And ironically, to Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the Southern bloc, whose all-or-nothing "won't negotiate" stand against the measure got his forces nothing and contributed to a stronger and better bill.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Congo Might Become Like Vietnam For U.S.

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson is facing a decision on U. S. military involvement in the Congo as ominous as those being pondered in South Vietnam and Laos.

WITH THE LAST of the U. N. peace-keeping force due to leave that strife-torn nation by June 30, the president must decide whether to send hundreds of U. S. military technicians and advisers to aid the Congolese army or sit idly by while the Communist - inspired guerrilla warfare spreads.

Congressional leaders warn that the Congo will blow up completely when the U. N. peace - keeping mandate runs out unless the U. S. acts swiftly to bolster Gen. Joseph Mobutu's hard-pressed 35,000-man army.

WITH THE U. N. command about to turn over more than 10 million dollars worth of U. S. military equipment to the Congolese, the Joint Chiefs of Staff want U. S. advisers on hand to see that these arms do not fall into rebel hands as they reportedly have in past transfers.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, vigorously opposed to increasing the U. S. military commitment, is making one last effort to get Premier Adoula to request troops from Nigeria, Ethiopia and Tunisia to take over the U. N. peace-keeping effort.

Adoula is reportedly willing, but the Congolese army officials are balking on the ground that asking new help would reflect on their capability and actually play into the rebels' hands.

Estimated at 7,000, the rebel forces have been getting their leadership from the Chinese Communist embassy in Bujumbura, capital of neighboring Burundi, and from the leftist Congolese exiles of the National Liberation Committee, financed by Russia.

U. S. INTELLIGENCE authorities warn that these Communist-led rebels will be able to wage guerrilla warfare in Kivu and North Katanga provinces for years unless their arms supplies are cut off and basic U. S. and Congolese policies are changed.

One of the most controversial is the joint U. S.-Congo policy of covertly channeling aid to the Angola rebels operating from camps within the Congo.

These forces, which are feeding some of their arms to the Communist-led insurgents in the Congo, are being equipped with U. S. weapons, including some with U. N. markings.

THE ALARMING evidence indicates that these weapons were turned over to the Angola rebels by the Congolese government after being received from departing U. N. forces. U. S. embassy officials in Leopoldville have strict instructions from Washington not to interfere in these operations.

Because of the wide-ranging differences in traditions and customs of the 100-odd tribes that make up the Congo, many African experts do not believe this U. S. objective can be achieved within the next 50 years, regardless of the amount of money the U. S. pours into that nation.

Just Think What You're Missing When You Don't Read The Fillers

DID YOU KNOW that Mount Kilimanjaro was first seen by a non-African in 1848?

Or did you know that an estimated five million Peruvians speak only Quechua?

Or that the black walnut is prized for its dark, lustrous color and fine grain?

If all this is news to you, it means you haven't been following the fillers. You've been missing one of the delights of newspaper reading.

A FILLER IS the thing a hurried compositor grabs when he wants to fill a hole in the bottom of a column of type. Usually a filler is a little known fact, something to make the reader exclaim: "Well, what do you know!"

But the variety of subject matter has no limit. The little paragraphs bring us facts from all points of the world. Often they deal with the animal kingdom and just as often they delve into history, horticulture, geography, geology and so on.

If you don't read them, your store of useless facts will suffer. Sometimes the fillers are provocative to a degree. For instance:

"Six-year-old wild chimpanzees often leave the family circle for two or three days at a time."

THIS STATEMENT, somewhat slanderous and suggestive if you happen to be a chimpanzee, is offered without any attribution. Newspapers rarely get away with that, except in fillers.

Sometimes the fillers clash. These two, for instance, appeared in the same issue of the I-J:

"The way of life on Cyprus has changed little in centuries."

And:

"Light industry has been expanded in Cyprus in recent years."

This was evidently the special Cyprus issue of the I-J.

BUT GETTING BACK to those six-year-old wild chimpanzees, it seems that a yarn like that needs a headline. It isn't right to drop it in unheralded at the bottom of a column just because the reporter covering the Larkspur City Council ran out of gas and could not think of another thing to say. (That's never troubled the council.)

No, those chimpanzees should get special treatment. Something like:

"Wild Monk's Three Nights On The Town."

Or:

"Family Left Stranded In Jungle."

After all, it's an exciting story. Most fillers are, with a little imagination.

July 4th Holiday Traffic Deaths May Go To 550

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimated yesterday that between 450 and 550 persons could be killed in traffic during the July 4 holiday weekend.

This would compare, the council said, with an average of 425 deaths for a nonholiday weekend of identical length in July.

The council defined the holiday travel period as extending from 6 p.m. local time Thursday, July 2, to midnight Sunday, July 5.

Over the Memorial Day weekend, a period of the same length, there were 431 traffic fatalities. This compared with 418 deaths in a nonholiday period of equal length two weeks earlier. The holiday toll broke the record of 371 for a three-day observance set in 1958.

ART BUCHWALD

Rub A Dub, Dub, Six Politicians Set Adrift In A Leaky Campaign Tub . . .

WASHINGTON—There are all these fellows in the lifeboat. There are Nelson, and Bill, and George, and Harold, and Cabot and Dick, and they had been put adrift by Captain Barry and his ruthless crew.

They are rowing to shore to get some help. The lifeboat is creaky and the water is rough.

DICK SHOUTS encouragement: "Don't worry, men, we'll make it!"

"Why don't you row?" Nelson asks him.

"I didn't say I would row," Dick replies.

"Well, if you won't row," Bill says, "you can bail the water out of the boat."

Dick grabs a pail but instead of bailing water out of the boat, he puts more water into it.

"What the hell are you doing?" George says.

"I'm bailing," Dick says.

"No, you're not. You're trying to sink us all," Harold says.

"That's a terrible thing to accuse me of," Dick says. "If it wasn't for me and Ike, you wouldn't be in this boat."

Nelson says, "Oh shut up and give us a hand rowing."

Dick grabs an oar but every time the men row forward he rows backward.

CABOT GETS ANGRY: "Are you going to row with us or against us?"

"I agreed to row but I didn't say I'd row with you. Did anyone hear me say how I was going to row?"

Bill shouts, "Will you sit down and stop rocking the boat?"

"Don't tell me what to do. You're not the captain of this boat. I've had more experience than you've had. This happens to be my seventh sinking crisis."

The men keep rowing while Dick sits and sulks.

Suddenly Harold shouts, "Sharks! There are sharks all over the place!"

Dick jumps up. "Don't worry, men! I can deal with sharks."

"What are we going to do?" Cabot asks.

"The sharks are hungry. The only way you can get rid of them is to throw somebody in the water."

"You must be out of your mind," Nelson says.

"I'm not out of my mind. Look at it this way. There's six of us in the boat. If we throw one guy over, five of us will be saved. We have to think of the greatest good for the greatest number."

"But who are we going to throw overboard?"

Dick's eyes narrow. "What about it, George? Why don't you make the sacrifice?"

GEORGE LOOKS around nervously. "Why does it have to be me?"

"Well it's got to be somebody."

"I don't want to go."

"Forget the sharks," Bill shouts, "and row. We've still got a chance to stick together."

While the rest of them are rowing, Dick sneaks a drink of water from the cask.

Then he shoves a half of loaf of bread under his shirt.

"I'VE GOT TO think of myself," he mutters. "When they exhaust themselves, I'll be captain of the boat and it will be like old times."

The land is still far off and can barely be seen as the sun is setting. The men, weary and thirsty pull at the oars. Except for Dick, who quietly slips the anchor over the side.

Break Is Asked For Tall Drivers

BOSTON (UPI) — The Automobile Legal Assn. (ALA) has appealed to auto manufacturers to take pity on tall drivers.

The ALA urges that cars be equipped with windshields having the lower portion tinted to cut glare.

"Sun visors and windshields tinted at the top are great for cutting glare for most drivers," said the ALA. "But tall drivers must still contend with the eye-straining glare reflected off the shiny car hood and fenders, also the chrome-plated windshield wipers."

Women's Kidnaping All For Good Cause

GEORGETOWN, Ky. (UPI) — There was no complaint when six house mothers at Georgetown College sororities and fraternities were kidnaped and held for ransome.

Several members of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity used the stunt to raise $60, then turned the money over to the Red Cross.

Egg Production

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Illinois hens produced 2,032,000,000 eggs in 1963, a decrease of 251 million from 1962 production.

Novato's School Tax Hike Is Now 73 Cents

Novato Unified School District trustees Monday night approved a revised 1964-65 preliminary budget of $2,741,146 calling for an estimated 73-cent increase in the tax rate—to $4.85—instead of an expected 97-cent jump.

Trustees decided that the rate for local bond and state loan repayments — that portion of the budget fluctuating the most for the coming year—could be held at $1.30 instead of a previously estimated $1.37.

Of that $1.30, 53 cents is for state loan repayments, over which the district has virtually no control. Seventy-seven cents is for local bond repayment. School administrators, after consulting with the county auditor, decided that if the district has a 10 per cent increase in assessed valuation, as expected, 77 cents will cover that repayment.

The board acknowledged the district has "one tough year" to get through because of the high loan and bond repayment required for 1964-65, but it decided not to take the "easy way" out, said Supt. James H. Bunker.

The "easy way" would have been to ask for a one-year deferment on the payment, which would have reduced the tax rate considerably. But one year's deferment adds 10 years to a repayment schedule. One state loan of about $450,000 will be paid off in four years, and that will drop 10 cents from the tax rate, Bunker pointed out. Deferment would have extended repayment to 14 more years, and cost the taxpayer more in the long run.

In the past, annual repayments on Novato's own bonds have fluctuated, because of a redemption schedule with irregular annual repayment amounts.

In the future, Bunker said, the district will try to have a more constant repayment, running between $1 and $1.05.

The budget approved last night is $46,510 less than the amount submitted to the board June 8, and $452,326 more than the budget adopted last July 1 for 1963-64.

Bunker said a few items were trimmed from the budget, such as the program for emotionally handicapped, and the general reserve was reduced by $20,000.

The board increased Bunker's salary by $1,400, from $18,600 to $20,000 per year. The salary of Eugene de Brecht, assistant superintendent in charge of business, was increased by $1,200, from $13,500 to $14,700. The salary of Paul Mobley, assistant superintendent in charge of curriculum, was increased by $1,200, from $13,200 to $14,500.

The Novato Unified School District Board also:

1. Agreed to a property trade with Richard Cannell which will add 1.6 acres to the Rancho School site for a total of 9.5 acres. The district will pay Cannell $25,000 in addition.

2. Approved the annual agreement with the City of Novato for the summer recreation program at schoolgrounds.

3. Accpted a gift of $1,300 from the Marin County Assn. of Insurance Agents for use in the driver training program.

4. Approved additional pay for extra duties after school of coaches, department heads and some other teachers.

West shrewdly opened a trump, but East let him down. East took the first trick with the ace of hearts and returned a trump to dummy's king.

SINGLETON SPADE

Declarer returned dummy's singleton spade, losing the ten to West's jack. Unable to lead a third trump, West returned the jack of diamonds to South's ace.

South ruffed a spade in dummy, got back with a club to ruff another spade, and got back again with a club to draw East's last trump.

Then he gave up one spade trick and claimed the rest with dummy's king of diamonds, his own trump and the last spade.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN

Now let's see what might have been if East let dummy's ten of hearts win the first trick. South would lead the spade from dummy, losing the ten to West's jack. Back would come West's other trump.

Now East would take his ace of hearts and lead a third trump. This would limit dummy to one ruff, and South would lose three spade tricks.

East was unrepentant when the hand was over. "How could I tell you had the ace of spades?" he asked his partner. "I didn't know about three rounds of trumps. I just made sure of two rounds."

LITTLE CHANCE

The fact is that East lost his nerve. There's very little chance to defeat four hearts if South has the ace of spades so East must just play on the assumption that his partner will turn up with strong spades topped by the ace.

When one of the defenders holds A-x-x of trumps and the other defender holds x-x, it is often necessary for the defenders to play low trumps from both hands on the first trick.

Then they can draw two more rounds of trumps no matter which defender is allowed to win the next defensive trick.

Fire Prevention

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—To keep fire from destroying log cabins, many Kentucky pioneers built chimneys so that a pull on a key log would collapse them if they caught fire.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, June 24, the 176th day of 1964 with 190 to follow.

The moon is full. The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1497, explored John Cabot reached North America.

In 1863, Gen. Robert E. Lee started to cross the Potomac River at Harpers Ferry in preparation for his Civil War invasion of Pennsylvania.

In 1948, Russia blockaded all rail and road traffic between West Berlin and West Germany.

In 1948, Republicans chose Gov. Thomas Dewey of New York to run for the presidency for the second time.

A thought for the day — French writer Henri Stendahl wrote: "One can acquire everything in solitude—except character."

Drug Watchdog Warns About Responsibility

U.S. Aide Tells Of Potentials For Doing Harm

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The nation's new watchdog over drugs told physicians yesterday they share with the government "a mutual responsibility in the careful and judicious administration of medications."

Noting that the potency of drugs is rising, Dr. Joseph F. Sadusk, medical director of the Food and Drug Administration, cautioned that their complexity and potentiality for harm also has increased.

CLOSER RELATIONS

His address, first in recent years by an FDA medical director before a national convention of the AMA, was billed as part of a program for closer relationship between the federal agency and physicians.

Dr. Sadusk said the FDA "to a certain extent" can see that adequate safeguards are provided.

But, he added, "We must also depend on the physician to apply the principles of balancing efficacy against toxicity at the individual patient level.

"The doctor must decide in the light of a drug's potential toxicity that its use is warranted for his patient."

LIMITS USE

Dr. Sadusk explained the FDA's recent action in allowing the drug parnate to return to the market under drastically revised labeling which limits its use to severe cases of mental depression.

He said a medical review indicated there was a "highly probable casual relationship in only seven of 38 cases of stroke among patients taking parnate.

"We concluded that it was a drug capable of severe side reactions, some even leading to death," he said, "but that these serious reactions were seemingly low in incidence.

"Nonetheless it remains clear that the use of parnate calls for continuing care on the part of the physicians, not only from the aspect of selecting patients carefully but also from the point of careful observation and follow-up of the patient."

He said the drug will reappear on the market in about six weeks.

Sausalito Artist Has Three Shows

Oil paintings and watercolors by Sausalito artist Lynn Wood are being displayed at Ignacio, Terra Linda and in San Francisco.

A collection of oils will be shown through mid-July at Rancho Rafael, Ignacio; oils and watercolors are being shown at Brummark Restaurant, 4200 Redwood Highway, Terra Linda, for one month, and oils are on display at the gallery of Greta Williams, 2059 Union Street, San Francisco.

Meeting Changed

Marin county housing authority commissioners will hold a special meeting next Tuesday at 10 a.m. to discuss participation in the financing of elementary school facilities in Marin City. A meeting set for today was canceled because of the death of the wife of commissioner Nels Johnson of Inverness.

Young Germans Are Tiring Of Taking Blame For Hitler

By JOHN DORNBERG

BONN (WPS)—Ever since Germany's surrender in 1945, the people of West Germany have been told continuously that they must atone for the crimes of the Third Reich by paying compensation to the regime's victims, by punishing the guilty, by expurgating the sinister idea of the Hitler era and by embracing democracy.

This was "the law" during the brief postwar occupation period, and it has been the pronounced policy of West Germany's leaders in government, the churches, education and culture since then.

Lately, however, a new trend has been taking shape. West Germans are tiring of attempts at self-flagellation and are demonstrating resentment at being made history's whipping boy.

This is particularly true of West Germany's younger generation which, with increasing frequency, is asking why it must atone for the crime of its fathers.

Says a fairly typical 21-year-old student: "I am ashamed of what happened in Germany between 1933 and 1945 and I am ashamed of the fact that my father was a Nazi. But what more do you want? It isn't something I did. Why, for example, should I have to pay the penalty in the form of indemnification to Jews?"

There is hardly a facet of life in Germany these days where mounting resentment does not display itself. Among political leaders, left and right, in schools and in the daily press there is growing talk about declaring a general amnesty for all men now serving war crimes sentences or still facing prosecution before the statute of limitations takes effect in May 1965.

War crimes trials, such as the marathon Auschwitz case in Frankfurt, are being held in nearly every major city of West Germany. The newspapers are filled with daily reports about them. But most Germans, young and old, say they don't want to hear about it any more.

"Of course the guilty should be punished," says a 25-year-old insurance salesman. "But what's done is done. The world should let us look toward the future, not always the grim past."

Eeven former waves of abhorence caused by the occasional exposure of ex-Nazis in Germany's civil service and public office have now subsided to ripples.

For example, the nation merely shrugged when the Free Democratic Party nominated Federal Justice Minister Ewald Bucher as its candidates in the election (July 1) of a successor to president Luebke. Bucher was a Nazi party member from 1937 to 1945 and an active Hitler Youth member.

Bucher never denied his past, and has publicly condemned it as an act of brash immaturity. Still, it is a reflection of the new attitude developing here in West Germany that a man with Bucher's record would seriously be recommended as a candidate for such a high government post.

The bite of the refugees and expellees from the Sudetenland, East Prussia, Pomerania and Silesia is becoming increasingly less dangerous as their bark gets louder. Nevertheless, the bark has now become so loud that Federal Transport Minister Hans Christoph Seebohm, leader of the Sudeten German Association has not hesitated to declare publicly that Hitler's 1938 Munich pact with Chamberlain is still valid and that the Sudetenland, "which was robbed from us," is legally German. Seebohm received a rebuke from Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, but that was all.

The greatest source of the growing resentment seems to be the program of restitution and compensation to victims of Nazi persecution. For example, the new German attitude is to turn a deaf ear to requests by persecutee organizations to amend the present laws so that an estimated 100,000 Nazi victims, who escaped from their East European homelands after the indemnification law's cut-off date, be allowed to file claims.

Slogans which read "40 billion marks for indemnification? Never!" have been found rubber-stamped on the walls of public restrooms for years. They are not new. But a federal finance minister who equates indemnification to Nazi persecutees with welfare and insists Germany has no legal obligation to pay—as Rolf Dahlgruen does—is new. And he is merely reflecting the views of his constituents.

"I don't see why I should have to pay taxes to finance 4 billion dollars in indemnification," says a 20-year-old secretary.

When she is reminded that she is also paying taxes to finance 4 billion dollars in pensions to ex-Nazis, she says simply: "That different. After all, they get the pensions for government service performed before the Nazi regime or for things that had nothing to do with Hitler."

Views such as these are gaining in acceptance as young Germans tire of taking the blame for what they feel was not their doing, and as the younger generation wins a larger say in the affairs of German government.

Almonte Sanitary Board To Go Over Budget Tuesday

Almonte Sanitary District directors will hold a special meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the district office to discuss the 1964-65 budget.

Directors agreed to waive the special salary increment of $15 entitled them for this meeting.

It was agreed to post notices stating that petitions for nominations for candidates for director's posts may be obtained in the county clerk's office, starting July 10. Terms of Frances M. Gelardi, Richard J. Dawe and Robert A. Alexander, chairman, expire in September. All said they intend to seek re-election.

Alexander told the board that he has agreed to serve on the local government coordination committee, a new committee of which County Administrator Alan Bruce is secretary, to study feasibility and desirability of coordinating local government units.

Students Ready For Japan Trip

A trip to Japan this summer, and six weeks lodging with a Japanese family, should prove interesting for five Marin County teen-agers — since none speaks more than a word or two of Japanese.

And not only five from Marin, but 15 teen-agers in all from the Bay Area will become residents of Osaka, Japan's second largest city with a population of over three million, from July 20 to the end of August.

The travelers—six young men and nine young women—will fly from San Francisco International Airport July 19. The trip is sponsored as part of a YMCA San Francisco-Osaka exchange program.

Chaperoning the trip is Dale Greenlee, 33, associate program director of San Rafael YMCA and his wife, Lois. They live at 204 El Prado Avenue, San Rafael.

Osaka's teen-age guests from Marin are: Robert Wall, 17, of 1271 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley; Thomas Mulholland, 17, of 21 Corte Lodato, Greenbrae; Paul Marincich, 16, of 94 Lagoon Road, Belvedere; Drummond Pike, 15, of Thomas Court, Ross, and John MacKay, 17, of 157 South Ridgewood Road, Kentfield.

"Just for laughs," grinned Marincich with a little prodding, "I want to go to a bath house."

He added, "I've heard that Japan is Westernized, so I expect to see the kids familar with western songs. But I've also heard that much of the culture is still traditional—and that is what I want to see."

John MacKay is to be the group's official spokesman — he knows how to say "thank you" in Japanese. Chaperone Greenlee has taken a semester course in the language at Dominican College. There will be interpreters.

MacKay will say (phonetically) the phrase "arigatoo gozaimas" on behalf of the group after they meet the mayor of Osaka or other dignitaries. It means "thank you" in a particularly polite way, Greenlee explained.

Bob Wall wants to see people.

"We have no idea what they are really like, and I guess they have little idea about us," he said. "Meeting the people and living with them is the most important thing to me."

Tom Mulholland echos the idea, pointing out he wants to "see how they live, and see the way the Japanese do things."

Greenlee looks forward to a golf game, Japanese style, and a seat in the bleachers to watch the Osaka Hawks hit a few homers. He has been with the San Rafael YMCA since last September.

Remarkably enthused about the prospect of shepherding teen-agers across the ocean, Greenlee feels they will "better appreciate the role of nations in the world that are better endowed financially" after the trip.

"It is a sort of people-to-people project," he added. "The kids will learn to handle themselves in unusual situations — and this will certainly be an unusual situation."

Each will live with two different Japanese families during the six weeks. Using Osaka as home base, the group will range to far points of Japan on short sightseeing trips.

Last year several Japanese teen-agers from Osaka visited the Bay Area. One stayed with the Marincich family.

"We compared customs," he relates. "They weren't as wild as we were. But that isn't a good comparison, since it's a completely different culture. They study quite a bit more than we do."

Here's Recipe For Astronauts

MEMPHIS (AP) — When Mrs. Charles Jensen looked into her refrigerator and found a bottle marked RocKeT Fuel, her investigation turned up this formula from her son Chuck, a third grader:

"Stepe 1. ½ cup of baking powder and stir a minit.

"Stepe 2. One tabalspoon of oil, it will start to fize, don't panik, put piece of meatal in it.

"Stepe 3. One cup of vinger and heat water and put it in.

"Stepe 4. Get some liqod soap and poar in.

"Stepe 5. Store in bottle for 3 day's, and it will be redy anybody can do it."

Sickbed Had View Of Executions

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Augusta's White House, which was built by a wealthy trader in 1750, has been restored at a cost of about $200,000.

Legend has it that a British colonel, Thomas Brown, had 13 American patriots hanged from the top of the structure's outside steps. Brown, who had been wounded, is believed to have watched the executions from his sickbed.

Tire Fixing Can Be Risky Chore

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — A Savannah man, Albert L. McCoy, found that fixing flat tires can be dangerous — even at a service station.

He was inflating a tractor tire when it exploded, sending him to the hospital with head injuries.

It wasn't the explosion that injured his head, but the gas tank he fell against.

Savings Bond Sales

Marin residents purchased U.S. Savings bonds worth a total of $128,351 during May, according to D. C. Davis, county savings bond chairman.

If you want to be technical, there are 46, not 50, states in the Union. Four of the states actually are commonwealths — Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.
